UNLUCKY LADY, the Continental Shipper, limped into Ogden Point again this morning after another losing battle with the cruel sea. Last month the 556-foot vessel left Crofton for Japan on her maiden voyage. Heavy seas shifted her lumber cargo and she returned to Victoria to be reloaded. She left again on November 5 and 60 miles out encountered raging seas and lost about one-third of her deckload. Hundreds of feet of guard rail were torn out as tons of lumber crashed into the sea. With the remaining lumber teetering she gingerly made her way back. Reloading will take about two weeks.

Unity Puts Pressure On Saigon

Times News Services

NEW YORK—President-elect Richard Nixon Monday night declared that President Johnson speaks for him on Vietnam and other crucial foreign policy matters.

Nixon emerged from a lengthy meeting with President Johnson to say the president was pursuing policies which he would adopt when he moved into the White House.

Nixon's statement brought gloom to the Saigon regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was stalling the Paris peace talks in hopes that Nixon would take a stronger stand against the Viet Cong.

Nixon flew here Monday night for a stay of several days following a lengthy meeting with Johnson at the White House.

Before meeting the president he will replace Jan. 20, Nixon had talked about possible personal missions to Saigon or the Paris peace talks—should Johnson deem them helpful. He also suggested he might send emissaries abroad—presumably to Siagon or Paris—if Johnson agreed.

But after their White House talks, neither Nixon nor Johnson said a word, or even hinted at, pre-inaugural foreign travel by the president-elect or the dispatching of representatives from the incoming administration.

MAY MEET AGAIN

Johnson, however, did indicate he might be having more conferences with Nixon before Jan. 20, and these presumably might result in the assignment of a direct diplomatic role to the president-elect.

"It was a very pleasant and co-operative meeting," Johnson told reporters, "as we expect all these meetings in the days ahead to be."

Nixon, appearing jointly with the president, talked about such foreign policy problems as Vietnam, a possible new Mideast crisis and the ever-present question of American-Soviet relations.

"If progress is to be made in any of these fields," Nixon said, "it can be made only if the parties on the other side realize that the current administration is setting forth policies that will be carried forward by the next administration. . . . I have assurance in each instance to the secretary of state and, of course, the president, that they could speak not just for this administration but for the nation and that meant for the next administration as well."

Meanwhile Defence Secretary Clark M. Clifford accused South Vietnamese government leaders today of of balking at a peace talks arrangement "in the last out of the ninth inning."

Clifford said the United States should go ahead with the peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris if President Thieu of South Vietnam continues his refusal to take part.

SWAPPING lawyers on eve of his trial, James Earl Ray, charged with the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, is now represented by Percy Foreman, Texas criminal lawyer (above), who once represented Jack Ruby and was defence counsel in the murder trial of heiress Candace Mossler. Astronauts Face Lunar Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said today the Apollo 8 mission will attempt an orbital flight around the moon, probably during the Christmas holidays.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the launching from Cape Kennedy, Fla., for what a few years ago would have been pure science fiction, will occur no earlier than Dec. 21.

This would mean the three Apollo 8 astronauts would spend Christmas Eve and part of Christmas day making the lunar orbits.

NASA officials announced at a news conference the Apollo mission would be "open-ended"—that is, conducted in steps referred to as plateaus or "commit points."

"Each plateau includes a thorough system check of crew, system and equipment operations," officials said.

"Only when all conditions are satisfactory will the decision be made to commit to the next plateau."

NASA said this type of operation allows for various alternate missions, including a low, earth-orbit flight, a flight to a distance of as much as 60,000 miles or a flight around the moon.

SAFETY A FACTOR

"Conducting the mission in this manner provides both maximum crew safety and maximum benefits through alternate flight mission selection as the flight proceeds," the announcement said.

Apollo 8 will carry two 40-year-old men who have already orbited the earth—Air Force Col. Frank Borman and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell, plus Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

Russ Seeks Red Summit In Bid to End Divisions

Times News Services

WARSAW.— Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev today reiterated the Kremlin's determination to go ahead with a projected world Communist party summit conference despite differences in the movement over Moscow's treatment of reformist Czechoslovakia.

He told the Polish Communist party fifth congress here it was the duty of all parties to strengthen unity and cohesion to be able to launch "a still bigger offensive against imperialism."

Brezhnev's appeal for unity followed in implicit rebuke by the Polish party leader, Wladyslaw Gomulka, to Western Communists who condemned the Moscow-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 20.

It was the first time since the invasion that the Soviet leader publicly confirmed Moscow's intention of staging the world gathering.

POSTPONED

The action against Czechoslovakia threw the international Communist movement into turmoil and led to postponement of the summit originally scheduled for Nov. 25.

Attending the talks are East Germany's Walter Ulbricht and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, with Hungary's Janos Kadar the only absentee among the five leaders who ordered the Aug. 20 invasion of Czechoslovakia. Kadar is represented by Bela Biszku, a member of the Hungarian politburo.

Numerous other "fraternal" delegates from Communist parties around the world are present, including Romania's aging former president Chivu Stoica. However, no invitations were extended to the Yugoslav, Chinese or Albanian parties.

The Chinese and Albanians have been excluded from gatherings of pro-Moscow parties for four years, but this is the first time the Yugoslavs have been barred from such a congress since former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reconciliation with Marshal Tito.

At Moscow's 50th anniversary celebrations only one year ago, Tito himself spoke.

DETERIORATING

Relations between Moscow and Belgrade have been deteriorating rapidly since the invasion of Czechoslovakia, with the orthodox Polish and East German regimes attacking Yugoslavia with greater and greater vehemence.

In the Soviet Union itself, attacks were mostly indirect and partial until a 19-page criticism in the Moscow monthly Kommunist a fortnight ago.

Sunday morning Pravda escalated further. The Soviet party daily celebrated the 50th anniversary of Lenin's article "the proletarian revolution and the renegage Kautsky" (a pamphlet attacking as traitors the democratic Socialists led by Karl Kautsky of Germany) with a polemic denouncing the Yugoslavs at greater length and even more strongly than the Chinese.

EARLY SESSION

Observers here expect both Brezhnev and Gomulka to condemn the Titoist heresy while pressing for an early world conference of pro-Moscow parties which would, in effect, excommunicate both Peking and Belgrade from the orthodox faith. A meeting in Budapest this week is expected to call for such a conference early next year.

The presence of Brezhnev and Shelest, the Ukrainian party chief reputed to have been the principal advocate of an early invasion of Czechoslovakia, would appear to indicate that there may also be private discussion among the invaders as to to how to proceed next in that occupied country.

The East German and Polish press have been openly critical for weeks of the official Czechoslovak leadership headed by Alexander Dubcek, with Pravda following suit early last week, even before the anti-Soviet demonstrations of Nov. 7-8 in Prague and Bratislava.

Kill-Nixon Plot Alleged: Three Face Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — A mystery witness who is said to have led police to three Yemeni Arabs as alleged plotters to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon is to tell his story this week before a Brooklyn grand jury.

The witness, described only as a 36-year-old man with an Arabic name, has been in protective custody. Police said the man described himself as an expert marksman and charged the three wanted him as the trigger man in the plot.

The men accused as the plotters are Ahmed Rageh Namer, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 19.

They were held on $100,000 bail.

COURT JAMMED

Hundreds of spectators jammed Brooklyn Criminal Court as the three, under heavy guard, appeared briefly for a scheduled hearing to answer charges of conspiracy to commit murder, criminal solicitation and possession of deadly weapons.

The three stood silently before Judge John Fury as their private legal counsel, Joseph Irvine of Brooklyn, demanded first an immediate hearing and then an adjournment of two days.

Assistant District Attorney David Epstein asked Fury for a week-long delay, pointing out that the case is being presented to a grand jury and that the government needed time to prepare its case.'

He also pleaded that the three could not possibly raise the $100,000 bail for each if they were to be freed pending trial.

Hanoi Rejects Saigon Demands

PARIS (CP) — Hanoi today rejected a South Vietnamese demand for written assurances on the agenda and representation as a condition for participating in the latest phase of the Paris peace talks.

"It's absurd," said a member of the North Vietnamese delegation here after being approached for comment on a statement in Saigon today by Information Minister Ton That Thien of South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has refused to participate in the peace talks because the Saigon government will not recognize the National Liberation Front as an independent body, insisting it should be part of the Hanoi delegation.

Hanoi has rejected a proposal by Thieu that there be only two sides at the bargaining table—North Vietnam and South Vietnam, with the United States and NLF as part of the two groups.

American officials questioned on Thieu's statement today put the emphasis on patience. They pointed out that talks are still continuing in Saigon between U.S. officials and Thieu on the question of South Vietnamese participation.

Asked if Thieu's statement was a hardening of Saigon's position the U.S. officials noted it had not interrupted the Saigon discussions.

Under the understanding worked out by Hanoi and Washington for the next phase of the Paris talks, the North Vietnamese and American negotiating teams appeared ready to go ahead with each describing the representation as it pleases.

CRITICIZES UNITED STATES

Chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy told a public meeting here Monday night that his side had agreed only to a phase involving four separate delegations, and he condemned the United States for delaying the opening because of Saigon's absence..

He said that if Saigon failed to show up there would be three-sided talks.

But despite its repeated public criticism of the delay, Hanoi has shown no sign of coming to the end of its patience.

Reliable sources here reported that American diplomats recognized that after 30 years of warfare, a limited delay in getting the enlarged talks under way here might scarcely seem significant to Vietnamese.

One U.S. source said the expanded parley, postponed from Nov. 6, might begin within two weeks. But he added there are differing views among U.S. delegation members about how long it will take to work out an agreement with Thieu.

Progress at Strike Talks

QUEBEC (CP) — With a contentious contract clause settled Monday, government and union representatives were to meet again today as the strike against the Quebec Liquor Board inched closer to settlement.

Negotiators Monday ratified a job security clause, a stumbling block in talks since the strike by 3,000 workers started June 26.

WIRE BRIEFS

Fewer Fatalities

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Attorney-General D. V. Heald said today there has been a significant reduction in traffic fatalities since the province began suspending automatically the licences of all persons convicted of impaired driving.

Oil Barge Wrecked

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del. (AP)—A barge with two men aboard and holding more than 1,000,000 gallons of oil went aground in high seas today. One man was swept overboard, but was washed to the shore and safety. The other remained aboard.

Borders Closed

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia moved today to close its borders to the free travel of its citizens abroad. This would be one of the sharpest measures taken against the people since the Soviet-led invasion in August.

Head-On Collision

WHITBOURNE, Nfld. (CP)—Four persons were killed and five others injured Monday in a two-car, head-on collision on the Trans-Canada Highway. RCMP did not release the names. All those killed were believed to be teen-agers.

Search for Plane

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Five aircraft, including a United States Coast Guard plane, began a search today for a single-engine plane reported missing Monday on a flight to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., from the Lakehead.

EGYPTIAN WAR GAMES BUILD UP TENSION

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Nasser attended front-line manoeuvres in the tense Suez Canal area Monday, while Premier Levi Eshkol indicated Israel won't give up control of the Tiran Strait, its outlet to East Africa, Persian Gulf oil and the Far East.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported Nasser spent seven hours atop a tank, watching a "massive" manoeuvre of tanks and armored divisions. It said he was accompanied by Defence Minister Mohammed Fawzy and Iraqi Vice-Premier Hamedi Ammash.

Al Ahram also reported wide contacts have been initiated among the Arab capitals to work out a plan of action following the "collapse" of UN envoy Gunnar Jarring's peace mission.

There was speculation in Cairo that Egypt and Jordan are again trying to arrange an Arab summit conference, which some Arab countries, particularly Saudi Arabia, oppose.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad returned to Cairo from New York two days ago and said Jarring's attempts to work out something between the Arabs and Israel had been rendered futile by Israel's insis-

Trust Firm Head Has Tax Problem

VANCOUVER (CP) — A key figure in the financially troubled Commonwealth Trust group of companies says he is under investigation by federal government authorities on an income tax matter.

Lawyer A. G. Duncan Crux of Vancouver made the disclosure Monday in a telephone interview from Nassau in the Bahamas with the Sun.

Mr. Crux, formerly president of Commonwealth Trust and a director of 16 related companies now under investigation by the provincial attorney-general's department, said he was in Nassau on business.

Asked if his income tax problems were related to the seizure last week of records of 35 commonwealth group companies, Mr. Crux replied, "I don't know."

"They're after me for income tax," he said. "They've been investigating me for some time."

Mr. Crux said he had been in touch with persons in Vancouver regarding the seizures and British Columbia Supreme Court declaration that froze the assets of five of them.

The court also froze the personal assets of Mr. Crux along with those of five other persons formerly associated with Commonwealth Trust and its subsidiaries.

"Ask the people who made the seizures what it's about," said Mr. Crux. "As far as we are concerned every company has always paid its income tax and I have always paid mine.

"I don't owe anybody anything."

The comments were the first Mr. Crux has made since RCMP officers conducted province-wide raids on Commonwealth offices.

BUSINESS TRIP

He said he was in the Bahamas conducting business on behalf of Commonwealth Trust (Bahamas) Ltd., a subsidiary of Commonwealth Acceptance Corp. Ltd., one of the firms that had its assets frozen.

Meanwhile, accountant A. D. Peter Stanley of Vancouver, who replaced Mr. Crux as president in September, and a 10-man team continued sifting through the documents seized by the RCMP.

Mr. Stanley, who was also named receiver-manager of the five subsidiary firms, said he cannot disclose what has been found in the examination, or what his team is looking for.

The accountant said last week he asked the government to intervene in Commonwealth affairs to prevent the possible channelling of from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000 out of the country.

Mr. Crux offered to co-operate with Mr. Stanley "any-time."

In addition to Commonwealth Acceptance, the companies placed under Mr. Stanley's control include Commonwealth Investors Syndicate Ltd., Diversified Income Securities Ltd., Commonwealth Savings Plan Ltd. and Centennial Mortgage Corp. Ltd.

No charges have been laid in the attorney-general's investigation.

Mr. Crux's wife, contacted Monday night at their Palm Desert, Calif., home, said Mr. Crux was on his way back to Vancouver.

She said she did not know where he had been except that it involved a business trip.

"All I know is he is on his way to Vancouver from Los Angeles tonight," she said.

Nixon's House To Be Museum

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (UPI) — A group of civic leaders will meet Thursday to try to purchase the small white house here that was the birthplace of President-elect Richard M. Nixon in order to make it a museum.

William Hurless Barton, a car dealer and a distant relative of Nixon, said, "Everybody in town is behind this muesum concept and we're getting plenty of support from outside visitors as well.

"We're already gathering material suitable for display in the museum," he said.

Canada's NATO Stand Clouded

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Canada's delegation to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization this week will face some tough questioning from the other 14 member nations as to this country's future contribution to the alliance.

Defence Minister Leo Cadieux and External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp will represent this country at the ministerial conference opening Wednesday.

They are expected to reassure NATO that Caada does not immediately intend to reduce its armed forces in Europe.

On the eve of the NATO talks Prime Minister Trudeau declared that Canada is more concerned about the threats of unrest and racial disorder in the U.S., than fascism, communism, intercontinental ballistic missiles and possible crises over the Berlin Wall. Mr. Trudeau voiced alarm over the stresses within North American society which might produce civil war affecting Canada when he spoke at Queen's University in Kingston.

Mr. Trudeau's declaration appeared to be a return to isolationism on this continent, Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary Centre) said here today.

Mr. Cadieux stressed before his departure for the NATO ministerial meetings that Canada continues to believe in collective defence.

NO COMMENT

He refused to comment on reports that the Canadian government plans to reduce its NATO commitment. He indicated that in his talks with other NATO defence ministers this week in Brussels he was confident they would be "satisfied" with Canada's position.

It is understood that there have been spirited discussions within the defence committee of the cabinet on the Canadian position regarding NATO. Unconfirmed reports are circulatig here that Mr. Cadieux has been fighting to maintain Canada's contribution to NATO but that it is a losing battle. J. A. Maclean (PC—Malpeque), the Progressive Conservative defence critic, said today the official Opposition was concerned by the reports.

"We understand there have been stresses develop within the cabinet on the question of NATO," said Mr. Maclean, "with the prime minister not convinced that Canada should maintain its strengh in Europe. We intend to pursue this with questions on the floor of the House."

A Canadian parliamentary delegation is now in Brussels attending the meeting of the North Atlatic Assembly which annually are held ahead of the ministerial metings. Two hundred representatives of parliaments from NATO countries are in attendance. While the assembly has no real powers its recommendations are qiven weight by NATO governments.

NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of Italy has warned that the Soviet Union many now move into Yugoslavia.

Mr. Brosio has accused the Russians of deliberately keeping the situation unstable in Europe.

tence on face-to-face negotiations with the Arabs.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban countercharged that Riad had walked out of the talks in New York and "deliberately squandered in cold blood" chances for progress.

In Jerusalem, Eshkol told the Israeli Parliament: "Free passage for our ships in the Suez Canal and freedom to defend free passage in the Strait of Tiran are conditions for peace."

Egypt's closure of the strait at the Southern end of the Sinai Desert was one of the causes of the Arab-Israeli war in June, 1967. The Israelis took the Sinai during the brief war, and observers in Jerusalem took Eshkol's remarks to mean that Israel will hold on to the area overlooking the strait.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem have reported that Foreign Minister Eban made clear to Jarring Israel's position on the Tiran Strait.

Up to now, the Old City of Jerusalem is the only captured territory the Israelis have said they will never relinquish:

At the UN General Assembly in New York, Secretary-General U Thant again appealed to Isreal to facilitate the return of Arab refugees to the territory on the west bank of the Jordan River which it seized from Jordan.

He told the assembly's special political committee this would relieve the refugees's plight in Jordan and ease an enormous financial burden on the UN Relief and Works Agency.

Than told reporters that Jarring's peace mission is not ended and that the Israeli, Jordanian and Egyptian foreign ministers were prepared for more talks in New York or ing wants to talk.

"We ought not to bury this mission, it is not yet dead," he said.

But Eban, who was scheduled to leave for home today, told a news conference Riad's statements and actions reflected Nasser's policy of no recognition, reconcilation or negotiations with Israel.

Increased Taxation Provinces' Solution

MONTREAL (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau said at the weekend the provinces must raise taxes, if they want money, and stop expecting Ottawa to turn its revenues over to them.

He told a $50 a plate Liberal party dinner it would be illogical for the federal government to increase its revenues merely to turn them over to the provinces.

"Let the provinces levy their own taxes and cease talking to us about transfers," he said.

At the federal-provincial conference in Ottawa last week, Quebec and Ontario sought revenues from the new social development tax, an annual two-per-cent levy on personal incomes. Finance Minister Benson rejected this request.

Trudeau acknowledged Ottawa is taking a firm stand on the matter of revenues, "but this firmness is not directed against the provinces."

Federal policy was dictated by necessity. The federal government knew where it was going and could steer its own course.

There was "a new concept" of federal-provincial fiscal relations, namely that each government must face its responsibilities. This had been the basis of Benson's position at the recent conference.

The prime minister departed from his prepared text to make this tough reply to critics of his government's position.

between Iovine and Epstein, Fury postponed the hearing until Friday but continued bail at $100,000 each.

The high bail had been set Sunday by Judge T. Vincent Quinn.

In the Namers' apartment in the East New York section of Brooklyn, authorities said they found an M-1 rifle, an M-1 carbine and 24 rounds of ammunition.

Nixon, who arrived Monday night in New York, where he has an apartment, was met by a heavy security guard.

The informant called police Friday night from a Brooklyn tavern and is reported to have told them: "I want to report a plot to kill Nixon."

The call was traced as the man continued to talk, and detectives sped to the bar, where the man was still in the phone booth. The Namers were picked up in their flat Saturday by police and federal agents.

All three worked as shipping clerks in a Manhattan garment factory. The elder Namer was said to have emigrated to the United States 12 years ago.

BEATLES SEEK HELP OF PEER

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles are looking for a successful businessman to direct their show business empire.

Lord Beeching, 55-year-old physicist and former deputy chairman of Imperial Chemical Industires, said today he had been approached by the quartet.

He was offered the equivalent of $48,000 a year — about half of what ICI, one of Britain's biggest industries, paid him — to take charge of their multi-million-dollar Apple Record Co.

Beeching said he'd "like to help the Beatles as I greatly admire their talent."

"But it is not an appointment to which I could give total involvement as I see it now."

Canadians Return in Triumph To Scene of War Liberation

By CAROL KENNEDY

MONS, Belgium (CP) — "There could never be another day like this," one Canadian veteran said as the survivors of the 1918 liberation prepared to leave here today.

Veterans' department officials agreed this two-week trip was probably the last great pilgrimage for the dwindling band of First World War survivors. Never again could there be an occasion like the 50th anniversary of Armistice Day in Mons, with Canadian flags all over the main square and 33 much-decorated Canadian veterans returning in triumph to the town they freed from German occupation in the early hours of Nov. 11, 1918.

The welcome, right down to the frosty, dull weather, matched that of 50 years ago, said the old soldier, though the Mons citizens of today were more restrained than their parents, who embraced the conquering Canadians in 1918 and showered them with flowers, bottles of champagne, and anything else they had managed to hide through four years of privation.

Many older Belgians wept openly Monday as the Last Post was sounded nine times in the central square, followed by the national anthems of the Allies. At Canada's turn, O Canada was played.

Even more emotional for some was the grand marchpast, the youthfulness of the national guards of honor contrasting with the veterans in their 70s and 80s.

"It's hardly fair that we get all the credit for liberating Mons — after all the British Lancers were with us on that day," said Albert Jerry Rintoul of Vancouver, Royal Flying Corps veteran.

But for the people of Mons nothing was too good for the Canadians. Many bystanders reached out to grab the old men's hands in a grip of iron, tears streaming down their faces.

"You cannot understand what it means to our generation — there is a link between us and these Belgians that will never be broken," said Rintoul.

Mayor Leo Collard paid tribute to the Canadians for coming to Mons on "this sacred pilgrimage" despite their great age and the long distance.

A Belgian general expressed his country's gratitude to the old allies and E. A. Cote, deputy veterans' affairs minister, gave Canada's thanks to Mons for the warmth of the welcome.

Emotion reached a high point at a banquest for 250 in the magnificent banquest chamber of Mons Town Hall.

MADE CITIZEN

Lieut. Joe O'Neill of Bowmanville, Ont., was reunited with the Belgian in whose house he set up company headquarters four hours before the armistice. They had met before in Canada. This was O'Neill's first trip back to Mons.

Brig.-Gen. J. S. Steawart, 90, of Lethbridge, Alta., was made an honorary citizen of Mons and given a standing ovation as was Brig.-Gen. John A. Clark of Vancouver, whose protrait hangs in the war museum here.

They presented the city with a Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry crest and a First World War brigade diary. Other gifts included a leather-bound book containing copies of war documents of the Canadian corps.

As dusk settled over the brick-and-gabled town, the veterans ascended a wooded hill to the Belfry memorial, a twin-pillared granite monument erected by the British and Canadian armies to commemorate the first and last battles of the war, fought here.

Wreaths were placed by the veterans and a piper from the Black Watch of Canada circled the monument playing a lament.

Lloyd K. Mudd of LaSalle, Que., the veteran who carried the Canadian flag throughout the day's ceremonies, lowered it for the last time.

In the main square, now illuminated with festive lights, the Patricias' band performed the ceremony of beating retreat. It seemed as if the whole town of Mons was there, massed in front of the lighted cafes. The Maple Leaf flag was lowered from its staff by two RCMP officers and presented to the mayor by Brig. Milton F. Gregg, VC. Then, abruptly, the chords of Tipperary ceased and it was all over.

Rain, Cold Casts Gloom on Rites

By The Canadian Press

Throughout the length and breadth of the land Canada on Monday observed Remembrance Day in the traditional manner with ceremonies at cenotaphs and special church services. Cannons boomed, planes droned overhead, the swirl of pipes filled the air as march pasts were held while peace demonstrators demonstrated.

In Victoria a peace group maintained an all-night vigil while in Halifax, Murray Warrington, 52, a veteran of campaigns in Europe and Sicily appeared at a downtown ceremony wearing a placard which read "I helped fight for your home . . . Why are you stealing mine?

Mr. Warrington said the city wants to expropriate his home for a public housing development which he termed "hell's half acre."

PAUSE TO REMEMBER

Elsewhere, Remembrance Day was the last day of a long weekend, an occasion for parades or simply a day on which workers paused for a traditional two minutes silence.

At Ottawa, 100 veterans stood with bowed heads as Brig. Fred Harvey, awarded the Victoria Cross for valor in the First World War, placed a wreath at the National War Memorial. He was followed by Pearl Rich, a Vancouver mother of 11 who laid a wreath on behalf of war-bereaved Canadian mothers.

Mrs. Rich lost two sons and a daughter in the Second World War.

The Montreal policemen's brotherhood chose their annual memorial service as the occasion to present a $5,000 education and welfare fund to the widow and children of Det. Gilles Jean, killed on duty.

Toronto's 100-man guard of honor of regular and reserve units broke with tradition when they presented arms to First World War veterans at the old city hall cenotaph. Ordinarily arms are presented only to an individual or a cenotaph itself.

A 21-gun salute was fired in Vancouver's Stanley Park as a flotilla of 20 yachts lowered flags to half staff. But some 800 veterans taking part in a downtown march-past were drenched in a downpour.

The march-past was led by three veterans of the Boer War, 89-year-old Gerald Webster and Albert Hannan and Albert Rippon, both 87. When fellow marchers gave them a spontaneous salute as the parade ended Mr. Webster responded with a step dance.

'Must Reform Parliament'

First Major Step in Reorganizing Canada's Political System, Says PM

By STAN McDOWELL, Times Ottawa Bureau

MONTREAL — Prime Minister Trudeau Sunday prescribed an orderly and disciplined renovation of the political and party system in Canada as the means of preventing a breakdown of democratic government.

"I think that many Canadians have realized that the government of Canada could break down," the prime minister told a capacity crowd at a fund-raising dinner of the Quebec section of the Liberal Federation of Canada.

Although he called for profound change, Mr. Trudeau insisted that it start from a solid, realistic base.

"In order to succeed," he said, "action, and particularly political action, must be identified with actual reality and must obey rigorous logic rather than some fleeting inspiration, no matter how generous this inspiration may be."

"The art of governing men," he added, "requires more than good intentions."

NO APOLOGIES

Mr. Trudeau said he would make no apologies for having devoted most of the energies of his government so far to reorganization.

"The government I lead has no intention of improvising," he said. "It rejects the idea of moving only when pushed, or of being content merely to react to events in the world around it.

"It will therefore take whatever time is necessary, and this will no doubt be several months yet, to set up an efficient organization, a smooth-running mechanism, able to respond to the real, deep-seated and complex demands made upon it by a modern society in the full swing of evolution."

The prime minister spoke from a prepared text, altering and adding to it as he went, with a force that he had previously displayed only in election-campaign improvisations.

"It has become urgent," Mr. Trudeau said, "if we want to save democracy, to transform the party system."

He said that accepting the principle of parliamentary democracy meant accepting the rules of the game, including the basic fact that political action is organized in parties.

He warned that in the past the parties had sometimes become electoral tools to serve the interests of the few, leading to a dangerous disillusionment with politics.

Nothing, he warned, could be more dangerous than the dissatisfaction and distrust felt by many toward political institutions.

"Because the evil is never the illness itself," he said. "It is the passivity in the face of the illness. It is inaction, fatalism, impotency, refusal. The evil lies, ffirst and foremost, in blind acceptance of the malady."

For this reason, he said, it was important to know that "while the vote is an arm of decision for the people, the political party is an arm of communication, verification, participation."

Participation, Mr. Trudeau said, was also the goal of his government as well as the party.

'CONSTRUCT TOOLS'

The first step in this direction had to be to "construct tools to equip an organization which will allow us to function effectively."

"We could have tried a few fireworks which would have dazzled public opinion for a time," he continued.

Instead his government had "made a point of proceeding rationally, giving priority to reform of the administrative governmental and parliamentary machinery."

The prime minister said the most urgent reform was Parliament itself.

WOULD BE OPPOSED

"In this age of computers and instant communication," he warned, "Parliament can no longer proceed with its traditional slowness without running the risk of always being left behind by advances in the life of society."

But he predicted that changes in parliamentary rules would be opposed by "small-c conservatives and reactionaries and maybe editorialists who will be saying, 'This is awful: they're changing the rules that have stood for 200 years'."

As a French Canadian, the prime minister called on Quebec, who had forged her identity in a fierce struggle for survival, to meet a new challenge "in concert with all other French Canadians, with all other Canadians, in giving to this vast country a heart, a soul, an original and exemplary spirit."

Canadians, he felt, could offer a message to a dangerous and divided world.

"Today we are all aware that war, total war, has become impossible because it is absurd and annihilating," he said. "And yet each observes the other with envy and disdain, each trembles and prepares in secret his monsters of horror."

Socreds Back Users' Rights To Marijuana

CALGARY (CP) — Delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Young Social Credit Association Saturday approved a resolution which said that individuals should have the freedom to decide whether to take marijuana.

The vote was 24 to 13 in favor of the resolution, which calls for marijuana to be made available in the same way alcohol is.

The motion, proposed by Calgary university student Earl Scoville, based its recommendations on the "relatively harmless effect" of marijuana on users.

Before the vote, delegates heard the pros and cons of the marijuana question, with one delegate arguing that the individual "should have the freedom to make mistakes" if he wishes to.

Lee Anderson of Medicine Hat, who said he would prefer to see cigarettes and alcohol banned, added that there would be "no laws left if everything was free."

"We wouldn't want to bring our children up in such a society," he said.

Priests Stage Protest Sit-In

WASHINGTON (AP) — A band of dissident priests has besieged U.S. Roman Catholic bishops at a sit-in at a posh hotel amid signs that the church leaders may soften the interpretation of Pope Paul's ban on artificial birth controls.

A proposed pastoral letter pending before the National Conference of Catholic Bishops moves tentatively toward making birth control a question of conscience for each married couple—a stance that could cushion the Pope's controversial ban on all contraceptives.

But the bishops said they had no power to intervene in the dispute swirlig around 40 Washington priests penalized by Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle after they dissented against his rulings that the Pope's edict prohibited any use of contraceptives.

About 200 priests, singing The Impossible Dream, marched into the bishops' hotel at nightfall Monday to show support for the 40.

They sat-in for three hours before Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, head of the conference, finally met with them and received an appeal asking the conference to require mediation of their dispute with the cardinal.

The contraceptive issue is dominating the bishops' five-day session which began Monday. A final stand on the controversy is expected to be shaped in secret debate starting Wednesday.

The proposed version of the pastoral letter already handed out to the bishops also probes the morality of the Vietnam war and takes a stand in favor of selective conscientious objection to a specific war. But the bishops refused to spell out any details in advance of their vote.

A civil engineer picketed the hotel Monday with a sign showing red flames and then inscription "To hell with dissenting French bishop—obey the Pope."

About 300 priests met during the day Monday to ask the U.S. bishops to step in the punishment dispute. Many of them, led by clergymen cast out from their rectories by Cardinal O'Boyle, marched a mile to the hotel to deliver the appeal.

Planes Bomb Supply Trails

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. B52 Stratoforts have bombed the Communists' Ho Chi Minh supply network in Laos every day since the bombing of North Vietnam was halted Nov. 1, informed U.S. sources said today.

As many as five flights of the eight-engine bombers fly over the neighboring nation each day to bombard the network of supply trails leading out of North Vietnam southward to the battlefield.

Together with fighter-bombers freed from missions into North Vietnam, they have intensified greatly the unannounced American bombing campaign in Laos, the sources said. U.S. spokesmen do not officially comment on the Laotian bombing.

The sources said the targets in Laos now are "choke points"—bridges, intersections and bypasses over which most of the Reds' southward-bound supplies must pass.

By blocking these points, American commanders feel they can back up Communist supply convoys for miles, making them easy targets.

On Borrowed Time?

INDICATIONS THAT ECONOMIC sanctions against Rhodesia may gradually be exerting a significant effect—despite aid from South Africa and a much less than unanimous support from United Nations members — have encouraged the British government to persevere in its efforts to bring Mr. Smith's Rhodesian regime to terms. Prime Minister Wilson went to the recent talks aboard HMS Fearless determined to insist on compliance with the six basic principles which have codified the British stand from the beginning.

These include a guarantee that "unimpeded progress to majority rule" shall proceed and that this movement should not be nullified by "retrogressive amendment of the constitution." There must be an immediate improvement in the political status of the African, i.e. black, population, and progress toward ending racial discrimination. The basis for independence would have to be shown to be acceptable to the people of Rhodesia as a whole —bearing in mind that more than 90 per cent of the population is black. And, as reassurance for the white portion of the people, there would be guarantees that, regardless of race, "there was no oppression of majority by minority, or minority by majority."

Clearly, in a population so largely black, where the blacks have not been educated to any great extent and are not yet familiar with the theory and practice of democratic government, initial progress would be slow and much would depend upon the goodwill and acquiescence of the white majority. It is because of doubts on that score that Britain insists on the safeguards in the six principles.

Against these, Mr. Smith's policies raise the immediate prospect, under the proposed constitution, of reducing the number of directly elected Africans from 15 to 6, and a clear indication that the country would move increasingly toward what the British government calls "full-blooded apartheid," and greater economic hardships for the black population. The fear is that the evolution of this situation would lead inevitably to guerrilla violence, with likely involvement of South Africa on the one hand and newly independent African states on the other.

Britain's Commonwealth Secretary, Mr. George Thomson, has made it plain that the government will continue to adhere to the six principles, as it did in negotiations aboard Fearless, but that armed invasion to enforce them is out of the question. The hope is that the growing economic and trade difficulties of Rhodesia will eventually bring the white residents to put pressure on Mr. Smith to concede enough on policy to make an agreement possible. But any settlement will have to include guarantees of political advancement for the blacks, as already contained in the 1961 constitution, and steady progress, commencing immediately, in removing discrimination.

There can be no doubt that this program would raise problems of implementation: the complex system of democracy cannot be successfully imposed overnight. But it is equally clear that this policy is the only one which adequately recognizes the inevitable trend of Africa today, while that of Mr. Smith can only exert a rear-guard action against the forces of our era. Mr. Smith may conceivably maintain "peace in our time" for the present generation of white Rhodesians with his plan of development—or non-development. But it could come to a violent end at any time as the provocation mounts.

Silence Is Golden

GREATER VICTORIA SCHOOL teachers, their spokesman says, have reduced their salary increase request from 10.17 per cent to 8 and appear perturbed because the school board has not come forward with an offer for bargaining purposes. Mr. E. E. Pearlman, the trustees' negotiator, says the board is still waiting for a reasonable proposal from the teachers. There seems to be justification for the board's stand. When the teachers cut their figure by more than 20 per cent without negotiations, they obviously recognize that their first request was much too high.

While the trustees have reportedly sought a meeting for next Thursday, that does not necessarily indicate submission of a counter-proposal from the board. In the meantime, Stikine and Portage Mountain school districts have reached settlements with the teachers for increases of 5.4 and 5.1 per cent respectively. Local conditions in Stikine and Portage Mountain make comparisons with Greater Victoria scales of questionable value. The point has nevertheless been made by James Lamont of the BCSTA, that "a negotiated settlement in one district has a profound effect on all district bargaining."

The situation existing in Greater Victoria seems to be the inevitable outgrowth of salary negotiation techniques over a long period of years. At one time the practice of those seeking raises was to ask a little more, in anticipation that the paying authority would offer a little less, with the eventual conclusion of negotiations at a point somewhere between. The practicality of the procedure began to break down when the divergence between what was asked and what was offered became unrealistic.

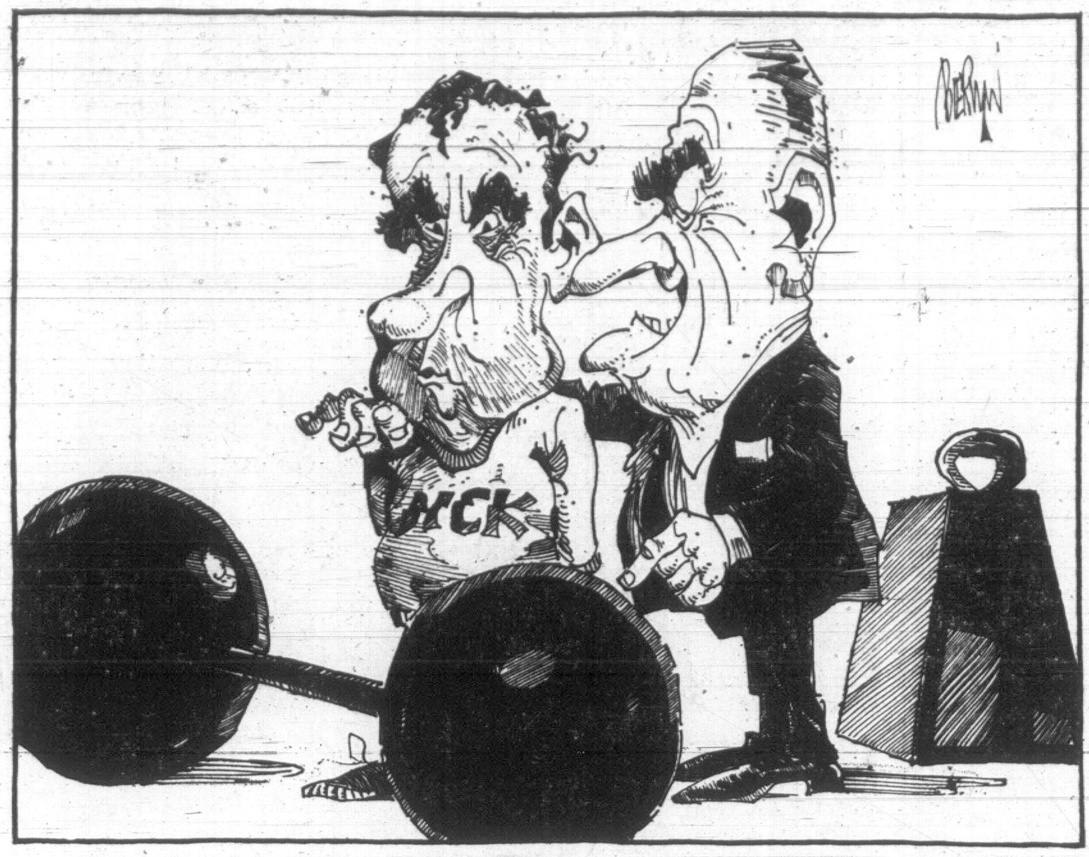
The current Greater Victoria non-negotiation illustrates appreciation of this point. The trustees are still waiting for what their representative calls a reasonable proposal. To the taxpayer, the board's silence so far has been golden.

A Reassuring Foul-Up

THE BRAVE NEW WORLD OF the computer wobbled on its axis last Tuesday during the American election counts and projections—an indication that escape from human error is not automatically guaranteed by the use of transistors.

Somewhere, something went wrong for half an hour and the lapse had to be admitted to millions of television watchers. The implications of the incident extend beyond the election returns. We are coming to an aceptance of the computer as the instrument which can eliminate a multitude of errors to which humans are prone. It is the means by which complex calculations and directions are reached in such delicate operations as journeys into space. It is the mechanism on which big business depends for efficiency and speed. It is a factor of importance in determining the behavior of nations to other nations.

In all these functions the machine performs well. But, as the population of at least one continent realized election night, it is not infallible. And amid the watchers' impatience at the failure of the mechanical monster, there must have been just a touch of smugness in realizing that even It makes mistakes.



"Practice a bit with these lighter ones, then in January you get the heavier stuff."

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Devices to Gain a Governing Majority

Alsop

THE Republican gains in House and Senate were superficially unimpressive. But with Richard M. Nixon as President, the conservative coalition between the Congressional Republicans and southern and border state Democrats will be much strenghtened, nonetheless. For one thing, the more liberal Republicans will tend to vote the party line with one of their own party in the White House, whereas in the Senate particularly, some of them used to stray pretty often. Then, too, Nixon cannot hope to achieve fairly dependable congressional majorities without the conservative coalition; and one may therefore expect that much attention will be given to the care and feeding of southern and border state senators and representatives.

To gauge the direction Nixon may actually take, it is essential to start with the foregoing kind of hard political fact. What is said at a time like this can be exceedingly misleading, as in the case of Nixon's vice-presidential choice before he made it at Miami. As on that occasion, furthermore, Nixon's advisers are rather sharply divided; so Nixon's own assessment of the facts will surely be decisive.

The second fact-group to consider is what may be called the Agnew-Wallace complex. The choice of Agnew instead of the widely predicted John Lindsay of New York caused pain and controversy at the time. To prove that he was not a racist, Nixon was even driven to carry Edward Brooke around with him for a while using the Massachusetts senator as a sort of portable human fetish.

'Southern Strategy' Pay-off

But the choice of Agnew nonetheless signified Nixon's choice of the "Southern Strategy," which was advocated from the first to last by his tough and able campaign manager, John Mitchell. Furthermore, that choice paid off in the form of around 75 southern and border state electoral votes, many of which Nixon might otherwise have lost to George C. Wallace.

Nor is that all. George C. Wallace's final vote was well below the vote the pollers were reporting in September and early October. But the Wallace vote was still enough to have transformed narrow Nixon margins into solid Nixon margins in states that Nixon carried, and this vote was enough to have put Nixon ahead of Humphrey in a good many states that Humphrey carried.

Looking backwards, then, the Agnew-Southern Strategy decision paid off handsomely for the president-elect. And if you look forward, it is also clear that bringing this year's Wallace voters into the Republican column in the border and northern states will be Nixon's best means of attaining the real governing majority which he now lacks. These, again, are hard facts of great predictive power.

These facts are far from meaning that the Nixon cabinet will be the sort of group that would be chosen by Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. As long ago forecast, defence and foreign policy are likely to be confided to leading Republican moderates like Nelson Rockefeller, William S. Scranton and Douglas Dillon.

New Economist

During the Eisenhower administration, once again, fiscal issues almost invariably divided Nixon from the arch-conservative secretary of the treasury, George M. Humphrey. For the treasury, therefore, Nixon can be expected to search for one of the financial community's converts to the new economics — someone conservative in aspect and in habit of mind, but different from George Humphrey in viewpoint.

These choices in the fiscal, foreign and defence areas should be enough to keep the moderate support that Nixon already has. He may even go a bit further in the liberal direction in the department of health, education and welfare — always provided that the man he chooses is not one of those compulsive "guideline-writers" George Wallace was always growling about.

A-G Key Choice

Politically speaking, however, the attorney generalship will really be Nixon's key choice. Campaign Manager Mitchell is one possibility, and with reason. For "law and order" are the province of the justice department; and what is done about law and order will surely be Nixon's main device for gaining that government majority that he must hanker for so strongly.

People have not thought much about this aspect of the matter. For instance, it is still almost bad manners to point out that there are pretty certainly just a few people with some very peculiar connections in the peace movement, in the far-out youth movement, and among the black militants.

Yet Nixon's rise began with the revelation of the peculiar connections of Alger Hiss. And this matter that people have not thought about may well make a lot of noise before all is over.

No Repetition

Regarding the picture of the German Shepherd dog which appeared in your paper the other evening, surely there must be a case which can be brought against the person who would chain a dog and then starve him.

What kind of neighbors do people have that would know and see such a thing happening and not report it, or do anything about it?

I should think it the duty of each of us to help make sure that things like this do not happen to poor defenceless animals. Thank goodness we at least have the SPCA.—"Animal Lover."

Why Not Combine?

If I may be allowed to perhaps endanger my reputation and gather ridicule by giving expression to thoughts occurring to me due to the U.S. election, I would say that seeing that both of their presidential candidates drew support in almost equal figures, and since neither man knows it all; why not ask or allow both to sit in office as loving, loyal and agreeable officials.

In both Canada and the U.S. we have far too much party, too much selfish political difference.—L. J. Pepper, 360 Douglas.

In North Ireland

A great deal of uninformed criticism about Northern Ireland has appeared in the newspapers recently as a result of incidents in Londonderry City. This takes no account whatever of the real progress which has been made by this small country of less than 1.5 million inhabitants.

For instance, the total trade of Northern Ireland amounts to well over £1,000 million. Exports are worth £500 million a year — about £340 per head of population.

More than 161,000 houses have been built in Northern Ireland in the post-war years a record now comparable with that of Great Britain on a population basis.

Much capital has been made of the absence of house-building in Londonderry City. The fact is that about 4,500 new houses have been built in Londonderry City in the post-war years by the local authority and the Housing Trust. This figure is well up to the average of other areas throughout Northern Ireland.

More than 70,000 new jobs have been created in new industries set up in Northern Ireland since the Second World War. Over 200 such industries have been established. Most of these are branches of British firms but in the region of 30 of them are from the United States.

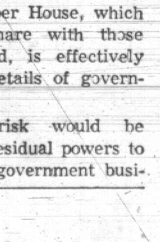
Northern Ireland spends twice as much per head of population on education as its neighbour the Irish Republic. A second university was recently opened and educational opportunity for all children, irrespective of family means, is increasing all the time.

Northern Ireland enjoys exactly the same social service as the rest of the United Kingdom and spends four times as much per head of population on them as the Irish Republic. — R. J. Hutchinson, 239 Superior.

FROM LONDON

By JIM TRAYNOR

A New Design for the House of Lords



Traynor

BRITAIN is just now in the midst of one of those great symbolic non-occasions which give journalists an excuse for high-blown excursions into history. It is a time for recalling the glories and foibles of the great aristocratic families, their medieval struggles with the monarchy, and later with the upstart Commons. For they have reached the end of the road as a governing caste; under proposals for the reform of the House of Lords, their progeny will have no automatic right to a say in the workings of Parliament.

It is little more than symbolic because the lords, or peers, have long since ceased to claim power as the concomitant of nobility. For over half a century, it has been recognized that any decisive attempt to do so would lead to the suppression of the House of Lords by the Commons. The Upper House, which the old aristocracy share with those more recently ennobled, is effectively limited to contesting details of government legislation.

An unacceptable risk would be involved in the use of residual powers to interfere directly with government business; either by delaying legislation for a year or suppressing statutory orders. (The House took its life in its hands last summer merely by imposing a short delay on the renewal of a Rhodesian sanction order.)

In short, little more than the right to sit and debate is involved in the decision to exclude future generations to hereditary nobility from membership of the second chamber of Parliament.

It would, however, be wrong to leave the impression that the changes in the Lords are of small consequence. Of far greater importance than the downgrading of ancient titles is the proposal to recast the Upper House in a more modern mould. It is to emerge theoretically less powerful, but with a real possibility of using the limited powers which remain to it.

Salaried Inner Core

Authority will be in the hands of an inner circle of peers who will complement the House of Commons, extending its legislative capacity while continuing to act as a review body. The central group, who will be set apart by their right to vote, will be appointees of the leaders of the political parties and will be required to attend a minimum number of sessions in return for a salary.

In other words, there is to be a professional core to the body which has come to be known as the best club in England, and which has many members who rarely if ever attend.

The Labor government's reform proposals, outlined recently in a white paper, give expression to the long-standing desire to convert the Lords from a medieval survival to an effective second chamber of Parliament. There is little concesssion to left-wing dogma, which despises the House as a repository of privilege and advocates outright abolition.

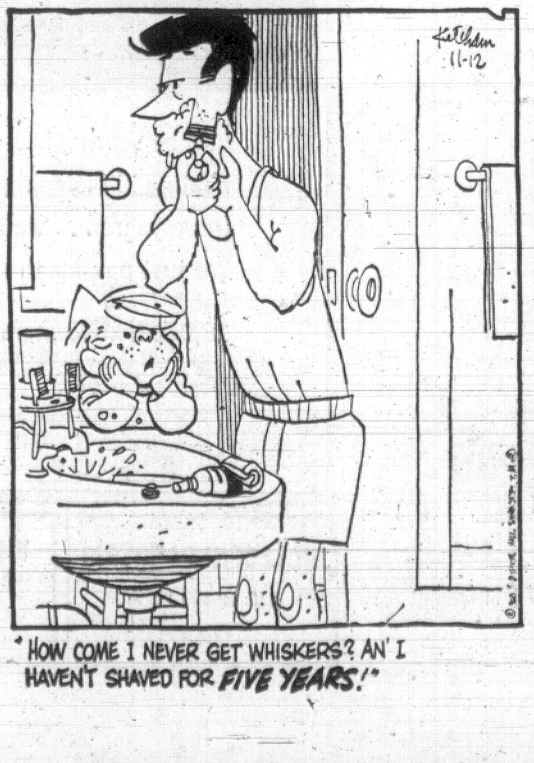
To Strengthen Chamber

Removal of the hereditary element is not advocated for its own sake by the government, but in order to make possible a strengthening of the chamber. The reform package as a whole is based on broad inter-party agreement and has been carefully devised to make the changeover as smooth as possible.

The 860 hereditary peers will be able to keep their seats for their lifetime. The right to vote will be withdrawn, but they will be eligible for selection as voting peers, and a few will likely be chosen by the Conservative Party. They, like other appointees, will be brought into the inner circle by the mechanism of acceding to life peerages, titles which lapse at the holder's death.

For consolation, the hereditary peers will have the knowledge that they will for the first time be able to vote in parliamentary elections and will be able to run for a seat in the Commons without renouncing their title.

DENNIS THE MENACE



"HOW COME I NEVER GET WHISKERS? AN' I HAVEN'T SHAVED FOR FIVE YEARS!"

Looking Back

Tranquille — The cornerstone of the new sanatorium building for treating tuberculosis patients at Tranquille was laid by the lieutenant-governor this afternoon.

Premier Richard McBride, Hon. F. J. Fulton, Hon. Dr. H. E. Young, G. H. Barnard, MP, all of Victoria were present.

The move to construct a sanatorium was started in Victoria on Jan. 21, 1904, when a public meeting was held to consider the matter.

For Favors to Come?

New York Times

THE spending in this year's political campaign is likely to set a record. But that is no surprise. Each Presidential campaign is the costliest ever. There is no ceiling in sight as political expenses continue to climb toward the stratosphere.

It is estimated that $20 million was spent to elect Richard M. Nixon. Roughly half this much was spent by the Democrats to elect Hubert H. Humphrey. George C. Wallace has reported spending $6 million. Earlier the supporters of Senator Eugene J. McCarthy spent $6 million for his campaign in the primaries.

Under the relentless pressure of having to raise these huge sums, the political managers are resorting to tactics which are questionable at best. The Democrats, for example, have revived the President's Club. For the sum of $1,000 or more, a contributor is encouraged to believe that he will have special access to the President and that invitations to dinner at the White House will come his way.

The President's Club, which was founded during the Kennedy Administration, continued under President Johnson and then disbanded when the latter chose not to run again, has always been a peculiarly distasteful fund-rainsing device. The Presidency of the United States belongs to all of the people. It ought not to be hedged around with thousand-dollar signs.

Moreover, the United States Government has become an enormous economic force because of the billions of dollars in goods and services which it buys every year. These contracts are a constant temptation to favor seekers. Both major parties run the risk of creating the appearance if not the substance of corruption and favoritism by becoming deeply indebted to private individuals, many of whom do business with the Government.

Footloose in Peking on a Sunday A Canadian Family Goes Exploring

By COLIN McCULLOUGH
The Globe and Mail

PEKING—What does a young — well, fairly young—family of three Canadians do on an autumn Sunday in Peking?

The question, I suppose, deserves another question: Why, indeed, do anything at all?

The answer to that is that in Peking, as in much of the world, Sunday is a day of rest. True, most of the shops remain open, and many of the services such as milk and mail deliveries continue, but factories and offices close for the day.

This no doubt is a matter of convenience and habit. It certainly has nothing to do today with religion: the many churches in Peking are still boarded up and on their doors flutter the tattered scraps of posters put up during the early stages of the cultural revolution.

The small foreign community in Peking also regards Sunday as a day off and — in the finest traditions of western suburbia — feels compelled to do something, anything, so that the day of rest is not spent in idle resting.

We—my wife and eight-year-old daughter and I—are caught up by the same fever.

The list of places to which one can go is short but, admittedly, impressive: the Peking Zoo, which includes pandas and is one of the best I have seen; the Western Hills, a favorite picnic spot; the Ming Tombs; the Great Wall, and the Summer Palace.

Afternoon in Tombs

We have spent several pleasant afternoons at the Ming Tombs, and one can make a rather complete, albeit somewhat tiring, day by going to the tombs and the Great Wall.

Both are reached by the same north-west road, the tombs being some 20 miles away and the wall about seven miles farther on. Just recently we made this trip, starting out at 10 a.m. with another family and a picnic basket.

From Peking to Nankou Pass, where the Yenshan Range of mountains begins with the sharply rising Pataling Hills, the road is wide and the driving is easy. This is mostly farming country, and the corn is high in the fields now.

For much of the way, traffic is fairly heavy with trucks, buses and bicycles. There are only two real hazards, though.

One is the ox- or donkey-drawn carts which, loaded with fall vegetables, roll slowly toward Peking. The driver, more often than not asleep on top of the load, is completely unperturbed by automobile horns and bicycle bells.

The other hazard is the manure collector. He rides a bicycle that has a large straw basket strapped to each side, and his job is to pick up dung from the road. He scoops it up with a small shovel and straw broom and pops it into the basket. During all this, he often shows complete disregard of oncoming traffic.

Further on, the craggy Pataling Hills spring up around you. The road narrows and curls up and around the mountain. There are a number of blind turns, some of them made safer by large round mirrors placed at the side of the road.

In the distance, one catches an occasional glimpse of the wall curving over a mountain top but, whether by accident or design, the road is so constructed that not until one last sharp turn do you see, suddenly, the Great Wall standing before you.

Clearing for Cars

It is surprising and satisfying that there is little there but the wall itself. A couple of small buildings stand near the stone steps leading to the top of the wall, and there is a little clearing where cars and buses can be parked.

Not long ago, there was no road directly to the wall and visitors had to come via the Peking-Paotow train to the Green Dragon Bridge station, and then go by foot to the wall.

One foreigner here likes to tell about the romantic old days when he rode a mule from the station to the wall.

The history of the Great Wall is so well-known, that there is little point in repeating it here other than to say that the wall is 1,684 miles long and its first sections were built between the fifth and third centuries, B.C. They were joined after 221 B.C. during the Chin Dynasty, and the wall was most extensively repaired during the Ming Dynasty in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

A long section of the wall has been restored in recent years, and it is possible to walk some distance along the top, which ranges from 16 to 32 feet wide.

In some places the wall is almost 40 feet high, and the view over the mountainous countryside is breathtaking: so is the walk. Without rubber-soled shoes it would be impossible to get up the 45-degree ramps and the sets of steep stone steps.

Towers Give Shade

Many of the Chinese hikers had canteens of water, but our only relief from the hot sun was the shade of the beacon towers. They had been used for alarm fires and, fortunately for us, some long forgotten engineer had thought it necessary to put up a tower every 120 feet.

We went westward as far as we could, which was to a sign that said, "No foreigners allowed beyond this point without a special permit."

Katharine was a bit disgruntled about that, but Regina and I (both of us puffing hard) thought it a splendid arrangement. Anyhow, the wall had crumbled badly past the sign. That sign, incidentally, was one of the few that we saw: the Great Wall of China is one place where Kilroy has not been.

We walked back to the car and soon were on the Long Road, which is lined with pairs of great stone elephants, camels, lions and court attendants who guard the way to the Tombs.

There were 14 emperors in the Ming Dynasty, and 13 are buried in widely separated spots on Heavenly Age Hill. From any of the tombs one can see for miles across the valley. It truly is a lovely site.

The tombs are similar in design but vary in size. Some of the larger ones have been restored, but we prefer one of the smallest simply because it is still untouched.

Hardly anyone visits it and the only sound is the singing of birds. The wall around the great courtyard is cracked and broken.

Porcelain Fragments

Inside, under the pines and cedars, are fragments of blue porcelain and pieces of brown glazed dragon tiles. Stone urns lie overturned in the high grass, and weeds have grown around the carved stone altar in front of the high vermilion spirit hall with its gently curved roof.

It is here, beneath the trees, that we spread a cloth on the ground and eat lunch.

I must admit, though, that despite the tranquility of the Ming Tombs, and the grandeur of the Great Wall, the Sundays that we have liked best were spent boating on the summer Palace Lakes.

The Palace is only half an hour away from our apartment, but we have to set off early in the morning in order to get a boat. There are plenty of rowboats, but only four or five of the small roofed barges, and you must have one of these if you intend to stay the day. The rental fee, by the way, is about $1.30 an hour.

Benches on Barge

The barge has leather padded benches on three sides, and down the middle is a narrow table covered with white linen.

There is enough room for eight adults, as well as hampers of food and drink. But because the day is for Katharine as well as us, we usually invite along only one couple with one child.

Then the children have room to play, we parents can relax, and the Chinese boatman who stands at the rear of the barge can wield his two long oars without fear of accidentally conking a child on the head.

I start to enjoy myself even before I get aboard. Light purple lotus flowers rise from green pads floating by the shore, and the blue waters of the lake do not stretch so far that you cannot see the graceful pagodas and arched white bridges that fringe the rim of the lake. It is like a delicate scroll painting.

Still, it is hard to ignore the clamor of loudspeakers playing revolutionary music and crowds milling around you. For the summer palace is not a semi-museum like Windsor Castle or the Madrid Palace through which people neatly file to view respectfully the royal past.

It is, rather, a giant park for the Chinese people to use — for walking, exploring, swimming and picnicking. And indeed they do use it.

The barge must leave the landing slowly, for the water is filled with rowboats and swimmers — men, women and children. The men wear dark colored trunks, usually made of wool. The women wear one-piece bathing suits — black and dark green are the most common colors — and bathing caps of clear plastic.

As the scow sedately moves across the lake, symmetrically you have an excellent view of the Summer Palace court buildings, located symmetrically in the side of a hill with the Sea of Wisdom Temple near the top.

Marble Boat

And you can see the marble boat which the Empress Tzu Hsi ordered made to justify her appropriation of naval funds for the building of the Summer Palace.

On the shore is a large billboard showing Mao Tse-tung wearing a white bathrobe and waving his arm. The painting commemorates Chairman Mao's nine-mile swim in the Yangtse River two years ago.

We were boating on the lake a few Sundays ago when the Chinese were celebrating the anniversary. Groups of young men and women were swimming across the lake, pushing ahead of them giant inner tubes on which portraits of Mao had been propped.

This part of the little voyage across the lake is interesting, in many ways beautiful, and busy. But eventually you reach a small but lovely gate-bridge, pass under it, and find yourself on a tiny and peaceful second lake.

Silent Shoreline

Few boats are here: the shoreline is silent and its greenness is broken only by a white pagoda and traditional Chinese house, almost hidden by trees. The loudspeakers at the palace can be heard only faintly.

The boatman rows the barge to shore, moors it to a tree and disappears into the woods for a nap while you open the hampers and have lunch.

One memorable drowsy afternoon a rowboat drifted by while we were eating. It carried six Chinese boys, four of them with guitars and two them with balalaikas. They were playing Carnival in Venice.

Later, of course, you go swimming from the barge and, because the lake is shallow, the water is surprisingly warm. And much, much later, reluctantly you sail slowly back to the Summer Palace: and you go home to Peking.

OMNIPRESENT MAO smiles down on Colin McCullough and his family while they have picnic lunch on lake at summer palace near Peking.

Television and Politics: It's Not Doing the Job

By GEORGE BAIN
The Globe and Mail

LONDON — Does television in Canada do a good job of covering politics and public affairs — as good as it does, say, of covering professional football.

It wouldn't have occurred to me, I admit, to think of the two on the same footing. But Richard Crossman, an articulate and combative Labor front-bencher, has just stirred up a lively debate here by saying, first in a lecture and then on a special BBC program, that television does relatively badly by politics.

His main complaint is that television trivializes politics and thereby contributes to a decline in public respect for parliamentarians and Parliament. This is the sort of point he makes:

A politician delivers a long, thoughtful speech, examining an issue or issues. That night, in the national news, his speech is reduced to a few sentences — which, if he is really unlucky, are meaningless. Viewers are confirmed in the belief that politicians don't deal with issues.

Even while saying this, Mr. Crossman acknowledges that news broadcasts suffer from having to review all the day's events in a small space.

Where politics comes off badly — as compared with sports, for one example — is in the lack of in depth programs to balance the unavoidable superficiality of the news.

Even wrestling, he points out, is given 60 minutes a week of straight, actuality broadcasting.

"And politics? After all, there is a minority really keen on politics and an active participation in community life. And it is not a small or unimportant minority. I reckon we are far more numerous than all the opera-goers and balletomanes put together, and at least as numerous as the active Christians.

"But in this question of balance between the serious minority audience and the mass audience, we are not nearly so well treated."

There is much more; Mr. Crossman's bill of particulars is a long one. For instance, he doesn't think it good for parliamentary democracy to represent politics quite so much in terms of gladiatorial confrontation. Also he feels that, while tough interviewing is needed, politics can only be brought into contempt if politicians constantly are grilled like prisoners in the box — and none too truthful ones at that.

One of the faults, if there is inadequate television coverage of politics (as more than one of Mr. Crossman's interrogators pointed out in the BBC special which he provoked), lies with the politicians.

They do not admit the cameras (and, in some cases, the pencils) to the places where things happen. One such place, this closed to all, is the caucus, but the more important is the House of Commons.

Mr. Crossman isn't opposed to admitting the cameras; he says the question that has to be answered is: How is Parliament to be televised?

In his view, if television were to tape the proceedings and then use random snippets for inserts in newscasts and so-called magazine shows, this would have the same trivializing effect that he had already complained of.

What would be better would be to tape and use, say, an hour of question period one day a week, or a solid hour of an important debate. (After all, he says, television doesn't hesitate to give horse-lovers a solid hour of horse-show.)

Are Mr. Crossman's criticisms available to Canadian politicians? Certainly there is a weakness for a politics of conflict; witness the continuing demand, especially by television, for the pungent comments of John Diefenbaker, the most indefatigable gladiator of them all.

★ ★ ★

The hot-seat, or let's-pin-his-hide-to-the-wall, type of interview seems to have gone somewhat out of fashion.

It is hardly true in Canada that television has neglected the party conference as Mr. Crossman says the networks here did this year.

However, there is hardly a surfeit of thoughful public affairs programming between conventions, election or other crises.

With which, we come back to where we started: how many hours of football will there have been this fall by the time the Grey Cup game is played on November 30?

Some of Us Collect Mobiles While Others Prefer Nubiles

By RICHARD J. NEEDHAM, The Globe and Mail

Needham

When I first started newspaper work in Toronto some 40 years ago, the pay was so low that any reporter with more than one pair of shoes was presumed to be taking money on the side.

Things have changed since then, however. Members of the profession now own costly homes in suburbs like Grisly Green, Anesthesia Acres and Withering Heights; they throw lavish whine-and-chase parties on weekends; and it was to one such party that I made my way recently.

As always, I had trouble talking and listening, because the stereo was blasting away with recordings by Bankrupt Benson and the Piano-Smashers.

I noted, however, that most of those present were newspaper people, the rest being the customary oddlings—a poetic justice, a thin Icelander, an unfrocked beast, a fairy godfather, a high churchman, a CBC urchin, a happy medium, a soiled scientist, a seventh-day adventuress, a women importer, a son of a bishop and a couple of airline bags.

Much of the talk centred around two infamous characters who work at the Mop and Pail—the brilliantly witty columnist, Rasputin J. Novgorod, and his brutish, illiterate editor, Dietrich Doppelganger. Listening in on a group of men, I caught the following fragments:

●

"I think of Brezhnev as a Red square ... You mean to tell me they have traffic lights in Saskatoon? ... Doppelganger has a heart as big as all indoors; if you were drowning, he'd be the first to throw you a Life Saver ... Canadians are the saltpetre of the earth ... Novgorod does no harm to those chicks who flock around him; he's too wise, too honorable, too fagged-out ... I understand the CBC is producing its own version of Warrendale, starring Rex Morgan, MD, Mary Worth and Doris Day; it contains such awful expletives as Gee Whiz and Holy Moly."

In another corner, a group of newspaperwomen were holding forth in shocking and slanderous fashion, "Chaste makes waste ... Doppelganger has the features of a Greek clod ... My husband comes in like a lion and goes out like a light ... I understand she gives trading stamps ... That's my lover standing in the corner there—tall, dark and hammered ... I've always regarded nightgowns as sheer nonsense ... I don't think the marriage will work out too well; she's Mensa and he failed cut-outs ... He asked for my phone number, but when I told him it was 112-416-368-7851, Local 3708, he just shook his head and walked off."

Drifting away to the bar, I found a group of men engaged in highly blasphemous discussion. "I rang the assistant manager and told him that if he didn't remove that Gideon Bible from my room, I'd throw the damn thing out the window ... Anybody who believes in God needs to have his oil changed ... The first step, as I see it, is to burn down all the churches." I cautioned them, "Easy now, fellows, there might be a clergyman around." They replied, "Dammit, we are clergymen!"

Back to the men's conversation I went, "Doppelganger always ceases to amaze me ... We had a great week's hunting at Parry Sound; bagged two Germans, three Italians, and a road surveyor ... When Novgorod dies, Scotland will declare a day of national mourning ... Doppelganger's the kind of person who burns his bridges before he comes to them ... To you it may be City Hall, but to me it's Aspidistra Power ... Novgorod's heart transplant was a great success; too bad about the alligator dying."

The women's conversation was just as scabrous: "Thou shalt not pill ... Even an Australian is better than no man at all ... Other people collect mobiles, Novgorod collects nubiles ... He got custody of the sauna, but she was awarded the bellytelly ... I just close my eyes, and think of the Royal Commission on the Status of Women ... Everything about Doppelganger is phony; even his lies, which appear to be fabricated, are true ... In Toronto, we regard sex as a form of sex perversion."

Growing somewhat befuddled by the conversation, the noise and the drink, I inquired of my hostess, "These two men all the talk is about, are they here?"

She laughingly replied, "Well, you see, Doppelganger doesn't exist, but if he did, he would be out in Japanese Columbia, conducting the Squamish Inquisition. As for Novgorod, that's him over there, doffing his badger-grey hairpiece to each women he meets, and presenting her with autographed copies of his two best-selling books, The Vertical Minority and The Smug Mosaic. That turtleneck sweater he's wearing is made from real turtles. Would you like to meet him?"

I quickly demurred, pleading a sudden attack of Dodge fever, after which I folded my tensions like the Arabs and silently stole away.

My judgement was vindicated by the last sound I heard as I went down the steps—the raucous voice of Novgorod declaring, "The reason Leda got attacked by a swan is that she wouldn't say boudoir to a goose."

Rash of Bombings Grips Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — A home-made time-bomb wrapped in newsprint was discovered early today at a downtown intersection and only two blocks away from the scene of a bomb explosion Monday night.

A police spekesman said the unexploded bomb, consisting of two sticks of dynamite wired to batteries and a clock, was discovered at 1:30 a.m. by a Montreal Transportation Commission employee walking home from work.

A police bomb squad, called out for the second time in less than six hours, rushed to the scene—at the intersection of Beaver Hall Hill and Belmont Street—and carted the package off to a deserted park where they defused the device.

An underground pedestrian passageway linking the CNR's downtown Central Station with the $75,000,000 Place Bonaventure trade centre and Bonaventure Hotel was the scene of a bomb explosion at about 8 p.m. Monday.

Although three persons were in the passsageway when the bomb exploded at about 8 p.m. EST, police reported no injuries. Damage was "light."

The bomb, believed to have been made up of one or two sticks of dynamite, had been placed in a cubicle adjoining a transformer room.

Police said the blast was concentrated in an area about 25 feet square.

A Place Bonaventure security officer said that an anonymous telephone caller had warned of a bomb in the passageway about two months ago, but no bomb was found.

In two hours following the blast, police said they received 20 telephone calls warning of bombs planted across the city. All were false.

Biafra Blasts Observers, Red Cross

UMUAHIA, Biafra (CP) — Biafra's commissioner of informaion Monday called the international observer team in Nigeria "a bunch of crooks" and said it is not wanted in Biafra.

Asked at a news conference whether Biafra would welcome a visit by the observer group, which Canada is a member, Dr. Ifegwu Eke said:

"We don't recognize the international observer team. They are a bunch of crooks. We have nothing against the observers personally but they are committing a fraud and they know it."

If a purely international team of observers were set up Biafra would welcome it, he said, but "we'll have nothing to do with this bunch that is operating from Lagos."

The observer team, which also includes representatives of Poland, Britain and Sweden, was invited by the Nigerian government to investigate charges by secessionist Biafra that federal forces are practising genocide against the Ibo people, the dominant group in Biafra.

In their reports so far the observers have rejected the allegation of genocide but criticized Nigeria's treatment of prisoners of war.

Dr. Eke said Biafra has been trying to have the genocide question placed before the International Court of Justice and has also been trying to get individual members of the United Nations to put pressure on Secretary-General U Thant to sponsor an investigation.

The information commissioner, whose position is equivalent to that of a cabinet, also attacked the International Red Cross, claiming it is "extremely unfriendly" to Biafra.

He said the Red Cross is playing politics in the war. He accused it of abandoning food, medical stores and motor vehicles to federal forces moving into Biafran territory.

He said the relief organization concentrated its Biafran operations on the area's periphery and asked why it didn't pay more attention to the hinterland.

Ottawa Cracking Down on Jobless Fund Fraud

OTTAWA (CP) — The unemployment insurance commission today announced intensification of its program to control fraud and other abuses which it hopes will save the commission some $5,000,000 in the 1969-70 fiscal year.

The commission released details of its stepped-up sleuthing program at news conferences here and at nine other points across Canada.

Chief Commissioner Jacques M. DesRoches said a team of consultants, engaged last December at a cost of some $100,000, has developed new criteria to allow the commission to focus on the area where false claims are most likely to be made.

The commission hopes to save some $3,000,000 between now and next March 31, end of the current fiscal year. Eventually a saving of about $8,800,000 a year could result.

STUDY MORE CLAIMS

In fiscal 1967-68 the commission submitted 120,000 claims to close scrutiny. This was about 10 per cent of the total claims. Under the new scheme, some 400,000 claims will be given a careful going over in fiscal 1968-69.

Last year, the commission detected more than 25,000 cases of fraud or abuse.

Other aspects of the intensified benefit-control program:

—The commission now will concentrate on interviews at its offices and other central points rather than at claimants' homes. This will allow more interviews at less cost each.

—The control force will be increased gradually to 260 from 130 across Canada.

Mr. DesRoches listed these main types of abuse:

Claimants return to work without telling the commission; some declare themselves available for jobs when they are not; others falsify their reasons for being out of work (to be eligible you must be fired, laid off or have a good reason for making a claim); and certain claimants list false dependents to boost their benefits.

Average overpayments detected have been about $55 each. The highest recovery of overpayment in a single case was $1,800. Of 2,500 prosecutions last year, a record of 99 per cent convictions was recorded.

Maximum penalties for offences under the Unemployment Insurance Act are a $500 fine, six-month jail sentence or both. Lesser penalties include disqualification from future benefits.

PUBLIC CONCERNED

Mr. DesRoches said about 2½ per cent of all claims are fraudulent.

"We hope to cut that to one per cent."

There was public concern about "free-loaders" under the insurance plan and the crackdown on offenders was designed to change this impression and improve the commission's image generally.

U.S. Comics Heroes Condemned by Soviet

MOSCOW (Reuters) — American war and space comic heroes were condemned here today as agents of U.S. ruling groups in the struggle for the minds of ordinary people.

The newspaper Sovietskaya Kultura, organ of the ministry of culture, devoted one of its four pages to an analysis of U.S. comics by Italian left-wing journalist Gianni Toti.

With the article, entitled Comics: A Flood of Multi-colored Lies," were photographs of covers and episodes from some of the more bloodthirsty varieties devoted to the deeds of U.S. marines in Vietnam and American exploits in space in the distant future.

Toti, whose article was written specially for Sovietskaya Kultura, noted President Johnson himself said that comics had more effect on readers than newspapers or political speeches and had called on comic book artists to pay special attention to Vietnam.

The task of the artists, Toti wrote, was to daily produce a vast flood of comics which train the U.S. public to see the Vietnam war as heroic, U.S. troops as defenders of freedom and the Viet Cong as sub-human beasts.

Millions of people reading comics in Europe and Asia as well as America "are transferred daily into an illogical world, a world of 'war and a way of life,' a world where only mentally sick and clearly made people could live," he said.

Smoking On Decline?

OTTAWA (CP) — For the first time, the trend in Canadian cigarette smoking is showing a "continuing, consistent decline," says Health Minister Munro.

The decline is in contrast to the sharp drops and rebounds of the past, he said in the text of a speech prepared for delivery today to a joint meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute.

Mr. Munro was in Hamilton today and the speech was delivered for him by his parliamentary secretary, Rosaire Gendron.

Mr. Munro, who smokes nearly two-packs of cigarettes a day himself, by the estimate of an aide, said the smoking decline "has the earmarks of an increasingly thoughtful public beginning to take intelligent action."

"The history of the human race is that in the long haul its instinct for survival has caused it to move away from that which has been perilous to it and there is reason to believe the historic process is gradually taking over in the case off this particular hazard."

Mr. Munro said there will be no letup in the health department's campaign to reduce smoking-induced diseases.

Storm Lashes Florida, Carolinas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cold weather today followed the wake of a furious storm that raked the Carolinas, Florida and central Alabama with mountainous snows, heavy rains and tornadoes.

Hundreds of travellers were stranded in some areas of the Carolinas where up to 10 inches of snow covered the mountains. Three hundred automobiles and two buses were reported stalled late Monday night between Hendersonville and Saluda on the South Carolina border.

Schools in Union County, S.C., remained closed because of the record snowfall. In eastern sections of South Carolina rain deluged the area.

Much of northern Georgia was whitened by snow and the eastern sections of the state had a mixture of snow and rain.

In the Vanderbilt Beach section of Florida north of Naples a tornado destroyed four houses and damaged a dozen others. Winds reached gusts of 50 miles an hour in Orlando, Cape Kennedy, Miami, Naples and Tallahassee.

St. Petersburg, on the Gulf Coast, reported gusts up to 60 miles an hour.

The intense storm that lashed eastern states with gales, heavy rain and snow threw its strongest punch at the southern Appalachian mountain area.

Heavy snow warnings were up for the mountains of Kentucky, the Virginias, Tennessee and the Carolinas.

The warnings also were extended northward to include parts of upstate New York, sections of Pennsylvania and the interior of New England.

Winds of 35 to 50 miles an hour battered the Virginia capes and the nearby sections of Maryland and North Carolina. Gale warnings flew northward from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Me.

Frigid Canadian air moved into Dixie in the wake of the big storm and frost or freeze warnings were issued for the mid-Gulf coastal region.

Motorists Panic As Big Span Sways

NEW YORK (AP) — Wet snow, rain and gale force winds gusting up to 60 miles an hour belted the New York metropolitan area today as a major November storm moved up from the North Carolina coast.

Police reported that dozens of motorists abandoned their cars on the Bronx-Whitestone Bridge and ran off when the structure began swaying in the strong winds.

The bridge, which spans the East River between the Bronx and Queens, was closed to traffic.

Gale warnings were issued for the metropolitan area with tides expected to be about three feet above normal. The weather bureau issued provisional heavy snow warnings for areas to the north of the city.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Profit-Takers Active

Profit-taking was the order on the Vancouver stock exchange this morning as trading reached almost 2,000,000 shares before noon.

Mining issues were particularly active with losses outnumbering gains.

Widespread weakness hit shares in the surging junior industrial and real estate section at Toronto today.

The New York market showed a gain but pared its advance. Trading was active.

AT TORONTO—In industrials MacLaren Power A gained 2⅛ to 19⅜, CPR 1⅞ to 74⅜, Royal Bank ⅞ to 24⅝ and Bank of Nova Scotia ½ to 24¾. Shully's Industries fell 3⅜ to 20½, James United Steel 3¼ to 10⅝ and OSF Industries 3 to 21¾.

Canadian Superior Oil lost 1½ to 55 and Banff ½ to 11½. Asamera was up 90 cents to 10¼.

AT NEW YORK pent-up demand from the Monday closing served to build up volume, and big blocs were traded. The largest was 188,800 shares of Safeway which put that stock at the top of the most active list for a while. It showed a fractional loss.

American Motors edged out Safeway for the top spot on turnover. It, to, was traded on some big blocks.

Among other very active issues, Gulf and Western and INA Corp. rose about three each, Reynolds Metals about 2, A and P, Spartan Industries and Magnavox more than a point each, Occidental Petroleum 1.

AT VANCOUVER Buttle Lake put on .25 at $3.25 and Churchill added a like amount at $6.25. Smaller gains went to Northwest Ventures and Trojan.

Hit by declines were Coast Silver, Calico, Gibraltar, Pacific Asbestos, Utica and Vananda.

In the oils, Bata lost .20 at $3.55, Royal American was off .10 at $1.30 but Trans-Canada added .05 at $3.25.

Brock Bros. lost .62 at $19.50 and Capital Estates was off .50 at $3.50. Hardwicke Investment Corp. gained .50 at $50. Great National Lands added .05 at $3.05.

AT MONTREAL industrials moved up and joined utilities and banks in topping yearly highs in active trading today.

James United Steel climbed 1½ to 13⅝, Calgary Power ¼ to 28½ and Radio Engineering 1¼ to 43.

CPR added 1 to 73½.

In senior oils, Home A dropped ⅝ to 33⅛, Union ½ to 49½, Texaco ½ to 34 and B-A ⅜ to 45.

AT LONDON prices continued to advance in active trading on the stock market as a hedge against inflation following renewed pressure on the prices and income policy.

In London dollar stocks, which did not fully reflect the Montreal-Toronto firmness, Algoma, Hawker and Hiram Walker gained 50 cents each.

U.K. BUILDERS WILL ADOPT METRIC RULE

OTTAWA (CP) — The construction industry in Britain will start on Jan. 1 to convert from the present imperial system of measurement to the metric system now widely used in continental Europe.

It means converting from inches and feet to centimetres and metres. An inch equals 2.54 centimetres and a metre is 3.2808 feet.

The federal trade department says the conversion will pose serious problems for Canadian producers of lumber and other building supplies who have built up markets in Britain as well as the United States.

New Marine Insurance Firm Formed

TORONTO (CP) — Seven Canadian general insurance companies have formed a marine insurance company to try to cut into a section of the insurance business now controlled mostly by foreign interests.

The new company, Canadian Marine Underwriters Ltd., hopes to capture part of the of marine insurance now written annually by companies operating in Canada.

At present, less than two per cent of the insurance is provided by Canadian-owned interests.

Canadian Marine Underwriters was formed by Co-operative Fire and Casualty Co. of Regina, Canadian Indemnity Co. and Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Co., both of Winnipeg, Gore Mutual Insurance Co. of Galt, Ont., Simcoe and Erie General Insurance Co. of Hamilton, General Security Insurance Co. of Canada and Les Prevoyants du Canada Assurance General, both of Montreal.

Steel Decisions

By BORIS MISKEW

MONTREAL (CP) — Two important shareholders' meetings this week open the way for the launching of a provincially-owned steel industry in Quebec.

The meetings, one in Toronto and another in Montreal, will consider an offer by Sidbec—set up by the Quebec government to establish a steel industry—to purchase certain steel-making and finishing operations of the financially-troubled Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. Ltd.

Shareholders of Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd. which now holds 77 per cent of Dosco's shares, will meet in Toronto Thursday while shareholders of Dosco will get together in Montreal the following day.

T. J. Emmert, Dosco chairman and president, recommended in a letter to shareholders that they vote in favor of acceptance of the proposed Sidbec offer.

Hawker Siddeley and Dosco both reported substantial losses in the first eight months of this year, down slightly from the year before.

Mr. Emmert said the sale of Dosco's Sydney operation to the Nova Scotia government, effective last Dec. 31, was a major step in the reduction of the company's losses.

Premier G. I. Smith of Nova Scotia said recently the Sydney steel mill, purchased from Dosco by the provincial Sydney Steel Corp., made an unexpected recovery in the first nine months of 1968 and will show a profit of $2.5 million by the end of the year.

Sidbec proposes, subject to certain conditions, to purchase all the outstanding shares in the capital of Dosco at a price of $11 a share provided that holdings of not less than 90 per cent of the outstanding shares of Dosco accept the offer.

Sidbec proposes to acquire Dosco's rod and bar rolling mill at Contrecoeur, Que., the company's Montreal works, the Truscan division in suburban LaSalle and the Etobicoke division in suburban Toronto.

Approval will be sought for the sale for $35.8 million of the Halifax Shipyards, Canadian Bridge and the Trenton, N.S., works of Dosco to Hawker Industries, which is being set up as a subsidiary of Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd.

ASSISTANT to the president of Greyhound Lines of Canada Ltd., Floyd L. Mogen of Calgary, is new president of the Canadian Motor Coach Association.

Price Paper Considering Merger Offer

QUEBEC (CP) — The Price Co. Ltd. based here, and Maclaren Power and Paper Co. have announced that "discussions are being held" relative to a "possible merger" of the two companies.

Officials of both companies would not eleborate on their brief announcement Monday.

Maclaren Power and Paper, based in Bunckingham, Que., is a holding company whose main subsidiary— James Maclaren Co. — manufactures pulpwood, newsprint and lumber.

Another of its subsidiaries, Maclaren-Quebec Power Co., operates power plants on the Lievre River in Quebec. A third, Lievre Valley Telephone Co., owns and operates the telephone service in that area of the province.

Finance in Brief

James-VIEW

James United Steel Ltd. of Calgary today announced it has cancelled a management contract and a purchase option with Vancouver Iron and Engineering Works Ltd.

James United said in a press release that the action was taken due to non-fulfillment by Vancouver Iron of certain provisions of the contract.

James United has operated Vancouver Iron since October, 1967 as paid managers for the trustees for the unsecured creditors and the owner.

Canada Packers

Canada Packers Ltd. had net profit of $4.17 million or 70 cents a share for the six months ended Oct. 12 compared with $3.94 million or 66 cents a share in the similar period last year.

Sales totalled $425 million, up $15 million from 1967. The company said this increase was "modest" partly because its fertilizer division was sold in the interim.

Pine Point Mines

Pine Point Mines Ltd. reports net earnings were down more than $7 million in the first nine months of this year compared with 1967.

President E. D. Morris said net earnings were $17 million or $3.80 a share, vs. $24.9 million or $5.51 a share.

Gross sales of lead and zinc were worth $29.8 million this year, down $1.3 million. Earnings from investment increased $400,000 to $700,000 this year.

The company paid no income tax last year for royalties earned by its properties in the Northwest Territories. This year ends the federal three-year tax exemption.

Pine Point is a subsidiary of Cominco Ltd. and operates a lead-zinc mine at Pine Point, N.W.T.

Vancouver Iron

The general manager of the financially troubled Vancouver Iron and Engineering Works says the firm will be closed indefinitely.

F. J. Farquahar, who had earlier expressed hopes of reopening the firm today, said it is now apparent the closure will be in effect for "quite some time."

VIEW went into receivership in August owing unsecured creditors $1.97 million.

$ EXCHANGE

VICTORIA—Purchase of U.S. funds in terms of the Canadian dollar was quoted by the Royal Bank today at $1.07 1/16 for cheques, $1.06¾ for cash, $1.05⅞ for silver. Sales were $1.07¾ for cheques and $1.07⅝ for cash.

MONTREAL (CP)—The U.S. dollar in terms of Canadian funds was unchanged at $1.07 5/16. Pound sterling was up 3/16 at $2.56 7/16.

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was unchanged at 93 3/16 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling was down 1/32 at $2.38 31/32.

Mine Shares Suspended

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec Securities Commission Friday suspended trading of James Bay Mining Corp. on the Canadian and Montreal stock exchanges.

A commission spokesman said the suspension will remain in effect pending a release of specific information by the Montreal company regarding "results of its exploration and development activity."

The commission is seeking information concerning the company's activity which has been carried out to date on its property in the Copper Mine River area of the Northwest Territories.

It said that it has been unsuccessful, after repeated attempts in rumor-chasing, to communicate with a director and officer of the company "who is considered responsible for reporting on the exploration and development activity of the company."

"It is the opinion of the commission that it is in the interest of the public to prohibit trading in the shares of the company," the commission said.

SAD PLAY FOR BEARS

This is play that cost Chicago Bears services of running star Gale Sayers (40) during National Football League game Sunday. Trying to turn corner, Sayers was stacked up by San Francisco's Kermit Alexander, who has his legs tangled with those of Sayers. Ligament damage to right knee forced Sayers to undergo surgery and he'll be out for rest of season. (AP Wirephoto.)

Rookie Off Taxi Squad Drives Bears to Victory

Chicago Bears lost the services of their key player, Gale Sayers, but rookie quarterback Virgil Carter filled the gap.

Sayers was injured during Sunday's 27-19 victory over San Francisco '49ers and is lost for the rest of the National Football League season.

The NFL's top ball carrier suffered torn ligaments in his right knee in the second quarter and underwent surgery Sunday night. But the Bears still rolled to their fourth straight victory, and kept a share of the Central Division lead, as Carter scored twice and passed for a third touchdown.

The former Brigham Young ace holds the all-time U.S. college careeer record of 6,354 rushing-passing yards.

Elsewhere Sunday, New York Giants stunned Dallas Cowboys, Capitol Division pace-setters, 27-21; Baltimore Colts whipped Detroit Lions 27-10; Los Angeles Rams struggled past Atlanta 17-10; Minnesota Vikings downed Green Bay Packers 14-10; Cleveland Browns trounced New Orleans 35-17; Pittsburgh Steelers battled St. Louis Cardinals to a 28-28 stalemate and Washington Redskins trimmed Philadelphia Eagles 16-10.

Sayers picked up 32 rushing yards, pushing his season total to 856, before being cut down on a shoestring tackle by Kermit Alexander.

SCORES TWO HIMSELF

Carter, elevated from the taxi squad last month when an injury shelved first-string quarterback Jack Concannon, flipped an 18-yard scoring pass to Bob Wallace after dashing seven yards for one touchdown and sneaking one yard for another.

The Giants beat the Cowboys for the first time since 1963.

Two field goals by Pete Gogolak made the difference after Fran Tarkenton raced 22 yeards for one touchdown, passed five yards to Joe Morrison for another and hit Homer Jones with a 60-yard scoring bomb.

Preston Pearson zipped 102 yards on a kickoff return, sending Baltimore ahead of Detroit to stay.

EIGHTH VICTORY

The victory, eighth in nine games for the Colts, kept them tied for the Costal lead with the Rams, who barely got by lowly Atlanta when Roman Gabriel's 10-yard touchdown strike to Jack Snow snapped a fourth-quarter tie.

Minnesota, sparked by a two-touchdown burst by fullback Bill Brown, held off the slumping Packers to retain a piece of the Central Lead.

The Cardinals, who tied Pittsburgh on Johnny Roland's one-yard touchdown plunge with 47 seconds to play, slipped one-half game behind Cleveland.

O'Keefes Tripped By Bustling Birds

VANCOUVER — University of British Columbia Thunderbirds outhustled and outbumped Victoria O'Keefes here Sunday to consolidate their hold on second place in the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

Quicker on the ball and more robust than the defending league champions, Thunderbirds earned a solid advantage in territorial play but were able to manage only a 1-0 vaictory on the sloppy Callister Park pitch.

They collected their only tally after 13 minutes during a goalmouth scramble, with Harvey Thom getting credit for the goal.

Few of the Victorians were in top form but one of the exceptions was youthful goalie Keljd Brodsgaard, who made several fine saves against UBC forwards.

Victory boosted the Birds within one point of the front-running Vancouver Firefighters and three points ahead of Victoria, Columbus and North Shore, all sharing the third berth.

Cloumbus climbed even with O'Keefes Sunday, getting three goals from Jim Barry on the way to a 6-1 triumph over Croatia.

North Shore reached the third spot Saturday, blanking Burnaby Villa 4-0 as Max Finny scored twice in the second half.

Gorge Captures Knockout Trophy

Gorge Molsons blanked Tally-Ho 2-0 Monday to capture the Victoria and District Soccer Association's McGavin Cup.

Playing on a slippery Heywood Avenue Park pitch, John Tregear scored the winners' first tally at the 23-minute mark.

Tally-Ho pressed hard in the second half but Gorge got all the rewards with Rick Lamoureux slamming in the insurance goal after 80 minutes had elapsed.

In first division league play on Sunday, Canadian Scottish stepped into a tie for first place with Victoria West with a 5-1 victory over Red Lion while London Soccer Club battled Hourigan's Kickers to a 1-1 draw.

In a Saturday first-division tussle, University Vikings did all the scoring but managed managed only a 1-1 tie with Victoria West. Jim Magi headed a pass back into his own net to account for West's goal. Rick Baldwin scored Vikings' goal.

Highlighting Sunday's second-division matches was a 3-0 upset victory Uvic Norsemen recorded against Watson's Hotspurs.

Pele Gets 900th, Talks With Queen

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Pele, Brazil's brilliant soccer star, scored the 900th goal of his pro career Sunday, giving Sao Paulo All-Star team a 3-2 victory over Rio All-Stars in a game played in honor of visiting Queen Elizabeth.

The Queen and Pele shook hands after the game, which drew a crowd of about 120,000 in Rio's huge Maracana Stadium.

Canadian Wins Event

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—Hilda Binns, 24, an insurance company employee from Hamilton, Ont., has emerged as one of the outstanding athletes off the Wheelchair Olympics.

She won the 60-metre wheelchair race for Class B novices Monday, covering the distance in 16.5 seconds to defeat Janet Swann of Britain by two full seconds and win a gold medal, her second of the Olympics.

Britain took the lead in gold medals Monday with 18.

Canada has two gold, three silver and three bronze awards and occupies 16th place in the medal standings.

Hornets, Oak Bay Barge Into Final

Chew Excavating Hornets turned slick passing and balance into a 30-0 shutout of defending champion Cowichan Timbermen in a Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League semi-final contest at Glanford Avenue Park on Sunday.

In the other sudden-death semi-final, at Macdonald Park, Oak Bay Farmer Construction came on in the final quarter to post a 20-16 upset victory over James Bay Mustangs.

With Dave Granlin and John Smith sharing the duties at quarterback, Hornets made it look easy as they rolled up a 17-0 half-time lead.

Mike Herold scored two majors while Granlin, Les Hudson and fullback Steve Parker each added one. Granlin also booted three converts and a 45-yard field goal to complete Hornet scoring.

Oak Bay's tough defence played a vital role in its win over James Bay, forcing Mustangs to fumble three times in the first half and blocking a kick that led to the winning touchdown. Two of the Mustang fumbles led to Farmer majors.

Mike O'Conner was Oak Bay's hero, blocking the Mustang kick in the fourth quarter. Dave Cruise fell on the loose ball for the winning major after Farmers, ahead 13-7 at the half, had fallen behind 16-13 in the third quarter.

Mike Blades and Glen White counted Farmers' first two majors while Terry Karpiuk added a single and Ray Genniver a convert. Ronnie Thom and Paul Burgoyne picked up touchdowns for James Bay and John Howe added four points with three singles and a convert.

Americans Celebrate

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — It isn't often the United States wins anything in international soccer competition so you can't blame the boys for wanting to celebrate.

"Yes, we'll go out on the town and celebrate a bit," coach Phil Woosnam said Monday after the U.S. World Cup team won its Caribbean qualifying section with a 2-0 victory over Bermuda.

The victory gave the United States six points to five for Canada and one for Bermuda. The Americans next play the winners of the Guatemala-Haiti-Trinidad section.

Bermuda fullback Lionel Smith headed a free kick into his own net for the first U.S. goal in the seventh minute and Willy Roy scored the second 33 minutes later.

Olympic Protestors Received German 'Mystery' Cheques

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An investigation is being pressed into mysterious cheques from Germany which turned up in the hands of some members of the U.S. Olympic team, Douglás F. Roby, U.S. Olympic committee chairman, said today.

He told a Birmingham group that some "big cheques from West Germany" wound up in the hands of certain U.S. athletes.

"We know who they are," he said.

"We have photostats. . . . We have facts, but as of now, no case. This was money from Germany given in Mexico to Americans and we can't prove what they got the money for."

"It's a strange set of circumstances."

Roby mentioned protests by some Negro athletes, saying: "Those fellows who gave us trouble down there were paid. Some of the other Negro athletes got big money."

Cranmer Runs Hurt But Pass Beat Esks

CALGARY (CP)—Coach Jerry Williams believes his Calgary Stampeders are approaching a peak at just the right moment — one week before they tackle Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Western Football Conference final series.

"If there's such a thing as peaking, we're hitting just about right," Williams said after the Stampeders disposed of Edmonton Eskimos 29-13 in a sudden-death semi-final Sunday.

Calgary shunted the Eskimos aside with unexpected ground power and the precision passing of Peter Liske, but Williams said that against Saskatchewan the Stampeders will use the offense "that works."

The best-of-three final opens in Regina Saturday, with the clubs returning here for the second game Wednesday night. The third game, if it is needed, will be played in Regina Sunday, Nov. 24.

The Stampeders, the most inept club rushing during the Canadian Football League's regular season, worked on a ground attack for a week before the semi-final clash and then turned rookie Dave Cranmer loose against the vaunted Eskimo defence.

RUNS 19 TIMES

Recovering from the ledtown on a first-play fumble that helped Edmonton take an early 6-0 lead, Cranmer ran 19 times for 127 yards, including a one-yard touchdown plunge on third down in the first quarter that put Calgary ahead to stay.

Living up to his credits as the man judged the best Canadian rookie in the WFC this season, Cranmer also collared seven Liske passes for 65 yards.

Ted Woods, Cranmer's half-back team-mate, galloped for 63 yards as the Stampeders more than doubled their regular-season average of 80 yards rushing per game.

In the Edmonton dressing room, coach Neill Armstrong said that the running of Cranmer hurt, "but it was the pass that beat us."

Liske, who holds a flock of CFL passing records, completed 25 of 36 attempts for 339 yards and hit Herman Harrison and Gerry Shaw for touchdowns.

ADD TO TOTAL

Larry Robinson kicked three converts, two field goals and a single, while Ron Stewart boomed a punt 66 yards for Calgary's other point before a sellout crowd of 23,380.

The Eskimos managed a touchdown by Randy Kerbow. Peter Kempf booted two field goals and a convert.

Kerbow's points came on a pass-and-run play covering 63 yards late in the fourth quarter after Canadian Frank Cosentino had replaced starter Charlie Fulton as the Edmonton signal-caller.

A total offence of 511 yards produced 28 first downs, three times as many as Edmonton managed on 153 yards passing and 121 rushing.

ANYWAY, PEOPLE EASIER TO HIT THAN BASEBALLS

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Cuban baseball teams will never again be invited to Mexico as long as such teams "abandon the game in the eighth inning in order to attack spectators," the Mexican Baseball Federation said today.

"It is one of the most brazen acts that has happened in baseball," said federation president Filemon Manrique.

"Never had we seen anything like it in Mexico or in the Caribbean circuit," he said.

Ten members of the Cuban team climbed into the stands Sunday and began swinging bats in an attack on Cuban exiles, who had been razzing them for their 5-1 loss to the United States in the post-Olympic Mexican tournament.

Cats Turn In Strong Display

Goalkeeper Ron Grahame disposed of one item while John Van Horlick and rookie Scott Munro picked up other "things" Saturday to spark Victoria Cougars to a 5-3 British Columbia Junior Hockey League victory over Penticton Broncos.

It was Victoria's first victory over the league-leaders but the Broncos snapped a three-game losing streak Sunday in New Westminister by shading the Royals 5-4.

In the league's only other game at the weekend, Kelowna Buckaroos romped to a 6-2 decision over Kamloops Rockets.

Dwayne Pentlund's goal with two seconds showing on the clock gave Penticton its victory over the Royals and salvaged a split on Broncos' two-game visit on the Coast.

'BEST EFFORT'

The Cougars, turning in what coach Doug Anderson described as their "best team effort" of the season, didn't give Penticton a chance to come close Saturday before 1,562 fans at Memorial Arena.

Sparked by the steadiness of Grahame and the "take-charge" display of Van Horlick, Cougars took a 1-0 first-period lead, led 2-1 after two frames, then broke open the tight contest with two quick goals to start the final period.

Grahame, who had decided to play without a face mask because it obstructed his vision of the puck in scrambles, made 26 saves.

The game standout, however, was Van Horlick. The forward-turned-defenceman played his finest game as a Cougar, dishing out clean but telling checks in the early going. For good measure, Van Horlick scored a crucial goal—Cougars' third—to ignite the third-period scoring spurt.

FINDS THE TOUCH

The husky Munro, who had scored his first goal of the season the week before, added two more Saturday. Grant Evans and the steady Len Barrie completed Victoria's total.

Pentland, Jim Whitlam and Norm Jackson scored for Penticton.

Cougars' defencemen played a strong, two-way role. They figured in four of the five goals as the Victoria team came up with a sound display of checking and positional play.

Symons' Long Jaunt Runs Argos to Final

TORONTO (CP)—Coach Leo Cahill, of Toronto Argonauts, says the "same positive attitude" that got them into the Eastern Football Conference final for the first time in seven years "will get us to the Grey Cup".

Cahill says his club is just as good as Ottawa Rough Riders, who the Argos meet here Sunday in the first of the two-game total-point final for the right to represent the East in the Grey Cup Nov. 30.

As confident as Cahill sounds today, he may have had a few worrisome moments Saturday before the Argos defeated Hamilton Tiger-Cats 33-21 in the sudden-death semi-final. Cahill and 25,723 Argo fans were set on their heels as Hamilton barged into a 14-0 lead before the game was five minutes old.

But Bill Symons brought the fans to their feet and the Argos out of their confusion with a 100-yard foot race against Hamilton defenders Barry Hansen and Bob Krouse at 9:55 of the quarter and Toronto was on its way to its first Eastern final since 1961. It is the first time Hamilton has missed the final since 1960.

Symons, Neil Smith, with two touchdowns, and Dave Mann, with four field goals and three converts accounted for Toronto scoring. Quarterback Joe Zuger, Alan Smith and Dave Fleming scored Hamilton touchdowns, while Tommy Joe Coffey converted.

Squash Sweep For Mainland

VANCOUVER — Victorians reached the finals in three of the five finals, but Vancouver and Seattle players walked away with the silverware in the annual Vancouver Racquet Club's annual invitational squash tournament at the weekend.

Victorians reaching the finals were Tut Jones, Ted Smythe and Doug Hawkes.

Final results:

A Final — Les Harding, Seattle, defeated Werner Forster, Vancouver, 3-1.

B Final—Roger Ovens, Vancouver, defeated Steve Silverman, Vancouver, 3-1.

B Consolation—Bill Pickens, Vancouver, defeated Doug Hawkes, Victoria, 3-2.

B Veterans — John Gillespie, Vancouver, defeated Ted Smythe, Victoria, 3-2.

C Final—Bob Puddicombe, Vancouver, defeated Tut Jones, Victoria, 3-2.

FOUR STRAIGHT LOSSES . . . . . . CHICAGO RECALLS NORRIS

DeJordy Dumped as Hawks Continue Tailspin

By CANADIAN PRESS

Denis DeJordy apparently has been blamed for the slow start of Chicago Black Hawks this season in the National Hockey League.

The Hawks, tied for last in the Eastern Division with Detroit Red Wings, Monday asssigned DeJordy to Dallas of the Central League and recalled another goaltender, Jack Norris.

Hawks have scored more goals than any other NHL team — 52. But they also have allowed the most — 45 — and are on a four-game losing streak. Ed Giacomin's brilliant goaltending Sunday helped New York Rangers to drop Chicago, 4-2.

The 30-year-old DeJordy had allowed 40 goals in 12 games this season for an unimpressive average of 3.70. Either Norris or Dave Dryden, with a 4.24 average, will be in goal Wednesday night when Pittsburgh Penguins play the Black Hawks at Chicago.

Oakland Seals visit Los Angeles Kings in the only game scheduled tonight.

Los Angeles and Detroit made their second trade in less than a month in other off-the-ice business Monday. The Kings acquired right winger Ron Anderson from Detroit for defenceman Paul Popiel. Anderson, 23, had no points in seven games with the Red Wings while Popiel had been playing with Springfield Kings of the American.

In Philadelphia, the Flyers announced that sophomore defenceman Joe Watson will be lost for two or three weeks because of minor surgery.

Giacomin hastened DeJordy's demotion with a sparkling, 30-stop display Sunday. The New York netminder twice stopped Bobby Hull on breakaways in the first period and had no chance on the goals — by Ken Wharram and Chico Maki, — that beat him.

In other Sunday games, Dean Prentice's goal with 44 seconds remaining helped the Red Wings to a 4-4 tie with the leading Montreal Canadiens; Jim Roberts' first goal of the year helped St. Louis Blues to a 1-1 draw with the Bruins in brawl-infested game at Boston; and Toronto Maple Leafs edged Oakland Seals 3-1.

The Maple Leaf lost rookie defenceman Rick Ley when he suffered a broken leg during the pre-game warmup. Montreal also came up with an "ouch" in the cripple department, losing centre Henri Richard with a shoulder injury after the veteran collided with Gary Sabourin of St. Louis as the Habs clipped the Blues 4-1.

Chinook Variety Gives Rival Coaches Problem

AL GLOVER
. . . hits 24 points

Rival coaches in the Inter-City Junior Men's Basketball League are finding it mighty difficult to plan an effective defence against Victoria Chinooks.

With six or seven players capable of staging a scoring spree in any game and with all of coach Moe Turner's young athletes able to hold down starting positions, the Chinooks can clobber a club with brilliant individual efforts or fashion a victory with everybody sharing the scoring load.

For instance, in their opening series at Vancouver, Chinooks turned big Bill Carlson loose for 32 points as they whipped CYO Saints 85-65 and then followed up with the 57-50 win over the Saints as Glen Moffat set the pace with only 10 points.

Balance and variety were again on display at Central Junior High School over the weekend as the Chinooks boosted their league lead to four points and ran their victory streak to four games by tripping Vancouver Killarney in two tussles.

Drew Schroeder was the hero Saturday night, needing only 14 points to set the Victoria point pace as he came up with an outstanding two-way effort to spark the Chinooks to a pulsating, 59-55 win.

Every Chinook got a piece of the scoring action Sunday, but the big gunner was Alvin Glover, who was superb in rugged scrambles for rebounds and a slick sniper as he hit 24 points in a 77-71 win.

EXCITEMENT FOR FANS

There was plenty of excitement for more than 500 spectators Saturday as the Chinooks squandered a 33-22 half-time lead and then charged down the home stretch to snatch the decision.

Trailing 52-44 with five minutes remaining, the Victorians collected the next 11 points to salvage the triumph that snapped a ffirst-place deadlock with the Killies.

Chinooks again hustled to a solid lead (32-24) in the opening half of Sunday's battle and then had their troubles before running away near the finish.

HOUSE HITS FOR 28

Killarney, sparked by the brilliant performance of quick little Ken House, who swished 28 points and set up many of his mates with fine passes, pulled even at 34-34.

Ahead by only four points (51-47) with six minutes to play, Chinooks erupted for 12 straight points to make it 63-47 and easily protected their lead against a strong closing surge by the Killies.

In Sunday's "mini league" preliminary, CFAX radiomen, perhaps inspired by their own introduction of players, surprised people with a 19-15 win over the City Police, who were well equipped with bobby helmets but suffered from a shortage of shooting accuracy.

In Saturday's mini-league affair, a squad of principals and vice-principals served up a lesson on the mechanics of basketball to Victoria Press and strapped the floundering pressmen 26-14.

Nats Finish Tour With 8-1 Victory

STAVANGER, Norway (AP)—Canada's national hockey team wound up its north European tour Saturday night by defeating a Norwegian club 8-1 in a dull contest.

As in Friday's game, which they won 7-2, the nationals had an easy task subduing the inexperienced Norwegian team.

Lee Clips Hawaii Purse To Pad Makalena Fund

LEE TREVINO
. . . birdie finish

HONOLULU (AP) — U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino has given away $10,000 of the $25,000 he won for first place in the $125,000 Hawaiian International golf tournament.

Trevino birdied the 15th and 18th holes Sunday to put his final-round score at 68 and tournament total at 272, 16 under par for the 7,000-yard course.

Trevino was a close friend of Hawaii golfer Ted Makalena, who won the International in 1966 and was killed two months ago in a swimming accident. He donated $10,000 of his purse to a trust fund to send Makalena's son through college.

George Archer, co-leader after three rounds, finished two strokes back at 274 and won $15,000 for second. He fired a final 71.

Dale Douglass shot a final 70 and posted 276 for third. A stroke back of him was Mac McLendon, who finished with a par 72.

Halfway leader Ken Ellsworth, playing in his first pro tour tournament, shot a 78 for 284, worth $,281. The young Los Angeles player made a par three on the 17th, but signed his card for a four and lost $700 because of the scoring error.

Arnold Palmer, after three 71s, shot 69 and finished at 282. Billy Casper, gunning for both of Jack Nicklaus' money winning marks, had 75 for 287 and won only $498.

Legion Gets Split In Hoop Thrillers

Mount Pleasant Legion broke even in a pair of Inter-City Senior Women's Basketball League games in Victoria over the weekend and their efforts left their coach a candidate for cardiac collapse.

Both games were heart-thumpers as the Vancouver club dropped a 48-46 verdict to Victoria Untouchables Saturday night at Victoria High School and nipped University of Victoria Vikettes in a 48-47 thriller Sunday at the Uvic gym.

Vikettes, vastly improved since their opening game, overcame a 22-16, half-time deficit to take a 45-41 lead into the final minutes. Helped by a pair of successful free shots as Uvic's Gail Vaughan fouled out, Legion charged ahead 48-45 and saw the margin trimmed to a single point as Jeannie Robertson dropped a last-second long shot.

Miss Robertson paced Vikettes with 14 points and Judy Hilliard was the Legion leader with 16.

Miss Hilliard fired 17 points Saturday as the Untouchables snatched a victory in the final minute to extend their unbeaten streak.

Rookie Arlene Allwin won it for the defending Canadian champions when she scored from her own rebound with 34 seconds remaining.

Behind 27-20 at the half, Untouchables pulled even at 34-34 and there was never more than two points between the clubs the rest of the way.

Mary Coutts fired 14 points for Untouchables, Miss Wallwin contributed 12 and Angie Radanovich added 10.

Quebec Team Fails In Rugby Title Bid

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Reps captured the Canadian Rugby title for the second year in a row Saturday by defeating Quebec All-Stars 13-3 before 4,000 fans.

The west coast side took a 5-0 lead in the first half when forward Dick Layzell picked up a loose ball and scampered 20 yards, putting the ball down between the posts to set up Ted Hunt's easy convert.

Hunt sparked the winners early in the second half, giving them a 10-0 margin when he scored a try between the posts after a short three-quarter run and converted.

QUEBEC SCORES

Quebec finally got on the scoreboard midway through the second half on a penalty goal by wing forward John Hooper of Ottawa.

The British Columbians quickly restored their 10-point lead when centre Gerry Lorenz ran 25 yards and lateralled to winger Brian MacKee who nipped into the Quebec end zone by the corner post.

B.C. fullback Don Burgess of Victoria missed the difficult convert attempt.

Shawnigan Tied In Senior Match

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — St. George's School teams from Vancouver won one and tied two of three exhibition rugby matches Saturday against Shawnigan Lake Boys' School.

Three penalty goals and two conversions by Rick Eden helped the visiting senior squad to a 19-19 draw. Bill Smith paced Shawnigan with two conversions and a penalty goal.

St. George's juniors romped to a 26-3 win while a match between fifth teams ended in a scoreless tie.

Prevention
an ounce

■ And if an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, it's certainly worth $9.95. At the Esso Car Clinic, selling prevention is our business. We're not a repair shop. We just diagnose car trouble. Scientifically. Accurately. We're the first to offer you this service. ■ Canada's only complete electronic automotive analysis. ■ It prevents small troubles from becoming big, expensive cures. ■ At the Esso Car Clinic, trained diagnosticians give your car a comprehensive series of tests, with special Esso-designed, electronic equipment. Then you get a detailed, written report. It tells you exactly the condition of your car. You can take it to your own garage for repair work, if you like. But for your convenience, we've built Esso Car Clinics beside modern Esso Service Centres. There you can also get estimates and have any necessary repair work done—guaranteed, of course. There's no obligation. ■ Why not phone us and reserve an ounce of prevention for your car? After all, a stitch in time. ■ It's just another service from Esso.

Meralomas Take Final Over Vikings

Vancouver Meralomas "A" team trampled University of Victoria Vikings 32-8 Monday to capture top honors in a seven-a-side rugby tournament staged by Oak Bay Wanderers at Macdonald Park.

Bob Graham collected three trys for the .Lomas and Barry Burnham added a try and four converts.

Dave Slater and Randy Howarth scored Viking trys and Al Foster added a convert.

In the consolation final, Oak Bay downed the Viking "B" squad 21-5 with Bob Hissink and Jim Temple sparking the attack.

In a Victoria Rugy Union second division match Saturday at Macdonald, Oak Bay got a try and penalty goal from Tom Walton on the way to a 22-6 win over James Bay Barbarians.

WORLD TITLE RETAINED

BANGKOK (AP) — Chartchai Chionoi of Thailand retained his world flyweight boxing championship Sunday with a narrow decision over Bernabe Villacampo of The Philippines.

Vikings Flubbed Basics Then Bears Took Over

University of Victoria's baseketball Vikings blew their basics Saturday night, and the mistake cost them the Golden Bear invitational tournament crown.

Trailing by only three points going into the second half, the Vikings missed three lay-ups in a row, then followed with a foul in the title contest of the prestigious Edmonton, Alberta tourney.

"That," says coach Dr. Bob Bell, "was the turning point of the game," and the host University of Alberta Golden Bears went on to chalk up a 97-69 victory in the final.

Vikings moved to the final round during Friday's games when they hammered the University of Calgary Dinosaurs 97-66 while the hosts were eliminating the University of Lethbridge Bobcats, 135-42.

LAUVAAS SETS PACE

Uvic had stopped Lethbridge earlier in a stop-over match on the way to the tourney.

John Lauvaas, Uvic's veteran forward, blasted away for 22 points in the final game, while rookie Corky Jossul and Brian Brumwell threw in 10 points each.

Dick Deklerk led Golden Bears with 26 points. Guard Bob Morris contributed 19, and tennis player Warren Champion added 18.

The loss doesn't depress coach Bell, though.

"The tournament served to establish the fact that Uvic really is a contender in the Western Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Association," he said.

Vikings are playing an exhibition schedule in the WCIAA this season, but will see regular play next year when Victoria enters as a full member.

ROOKIES IMPRESS

Bell said he was extremely pleased with the performances of his three rookies, Stan Piper, Tom Hatcher and Jossul.

Piper led the offensive and defensive rebounding in the final game while Jossul fired a tournament total of 28 points. Hatcher also got in on the scoring with a total of 16 points.

Of the holdovers, Brian Brumwell looked impressive in grabbing 20 rebounds as well as dropping eight points during the match with Calgary, while Lauvaas canned a total of 34 points.

Bob Morris of the host U of A squad was selected most valuable player at the tournament.

Lauvaas was chosen to the All-Star team along with Morris, Champion and Deklerk of Alberta, Glen Alexander of Calgary, and Peter Koochin of Lethbridge.

Calgary's Dinosaurs bombed the Bobcats 93-64 in the tournament's consolation round.

HUSKIES CONNECT

In other action Saturday, the Vikings water polo squad finished third as the University of Washington Huskies stole the University of Victoria Water Polo Invitational crown with a spectacular comeback.

The Huskies, sunk 5-3 by Vancouver Seals in their second game off the double-loss tourney, fought back in the loser's bracket, then edged last year's champion Vancouver Water Polo Club, 6-5, before drubbing the same team 6-0 in the final.

The Huskies worked up to the final series by stopping Uvic 6-4 and eliminating the Vikings from further competition.

Vikings lost their first game 7-6 in overtime in a penalty-fiflled first-round match.

Uvic's Brian Pearce, who finished second in the over-all scoring with 14 goals, continued to play in the opener despite having his glasses smashed. He scored five goals.

University of Washington's Jack Hayden, who scored 20 goals, earned the most valuable player award.

How long would your family last on $25,000?
Five years maybe? Then what?

Invested at 6% with a monthly drawing account of $500, it would last just under 4 years and 10 months.

Now ask yourself this question. How long could your wife and children live on your estate? Would there be enough money to ensure a mortgage-free home? For your children to grow on? And how about their education? In other words, enough to ensure continuing family security as long as it's needed.

These important questions need expert help to answer. That's why Manufacturers Life has developed a special Financial Planning Service.

Here's how it works. Through the Manufacturers Life Representative, the service focuses on you and your family, your present situation and your objectives. It cuts out all guesswork and generalities. For example, it will help you determine 1. exactly what you want your estate to do. 2. Whether your present estate is sufficient and 3. if not, it will suggest the next step towards achieving your goals.

As part of this service the Manufacturers Life Representative will plot your individual Security Graph—the clearest way we know of to show you how you stand. Why not get in touch with the well informed professional from Manufacturers Life. You will find him a competent adviser who will respect your confidence and understand your problems.

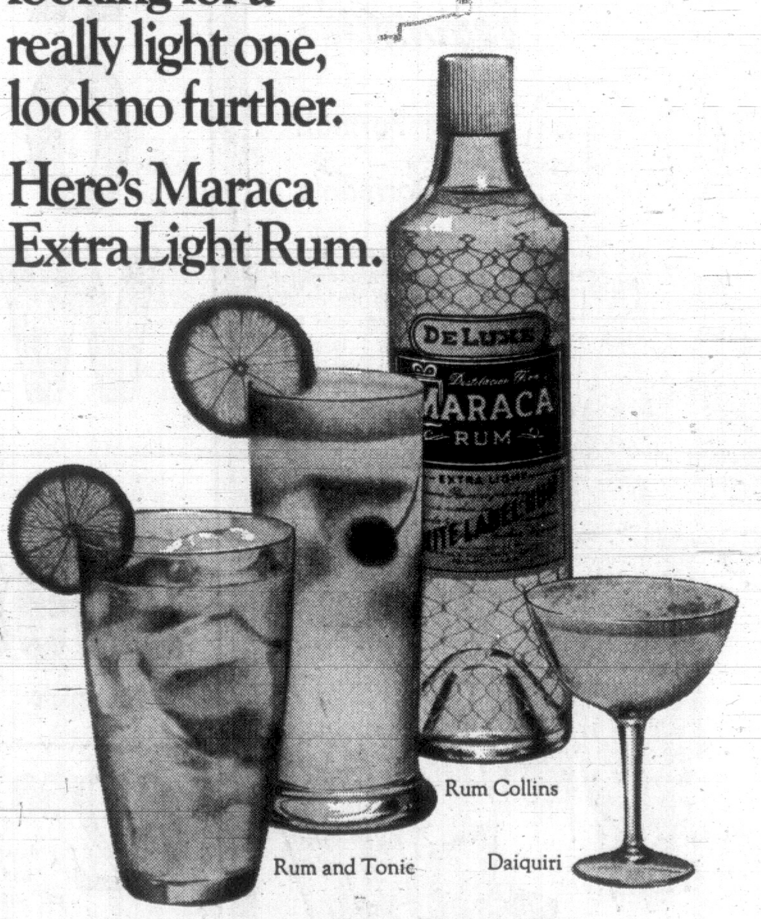
If you go from rum to rum looking for a really light one, look no further.
Here's Maraca Extra Light Rum.



Some rums belong back when men were men and rum was a way to keep from freezing.

People today look for a rum that's smooth, mellow, mixable and above all light.

Isn't that what you look for?

Then just say 'Maraca White Label Rum'. It's extra light.

Maraca Black Label and Gold Label. Dark and Gold in colour, but both light in flavour.

Doxy II Claims First Series

By SHIRLEY HEWETT

Peter Coombs' Doxy II was acclaimed the over-all winner Sunday of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's first Winter Series race.

Cubara, first across the line, was second over-all on the corrected time basis. Denny Coverdale's Melee was third.

Flying spinakers on a close reach in 20-knot winds, Cubara withstood a strong bid from second-place Reality to lead the 13-boat fleet across the finish line of the 9½-mile course.

Doxy II, Filey Brig, Concubine and Melee all finished within a minute behind the two leaders.

Over-all placings in divisions A and B were Cubara, first; Reality, second, and Concubine, third. Doxy II led divisions C and D, followed by Melee and Fred Gardiner's Shih Yen.

CARDS WIN SQUEAKER

TOKYO (AP)—Phil Gagliano homered in the ninth inning Sunday to give St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over Yomiuri Giants. Cardinals now have a 9-3 record in their 18-game tour of Japan.

Phoenix Job Goes to Fox

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Charley Fox, 47, a coach with the San Francisco Giants for the last four years, has been named as manager of the Phoenix Giants of baseball's Pacific Cost League.

Fox succeeds Clyde King, moved up to manage the parent San Francisco Giants.

Fox has been in the Giants' organization since 1942 and has managed the Giants in the winter instructional league in Arizona for the last eight years.

Don Glover Wins Pro Pin Tourney

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Don Glover of Bakersfield, Calif., overcame a 71-pin deficit in the final game Sunday night to pick up his second tournament victory of the year at the $31,000 Joliet Open of the Professional Bowlers Association.

Glover trailed Bill Hardwick of Louisville, Ky., by 71 pins, but rolled to a 256 as Hardwick slumped to a 166 in their head-to-head meeting.

The victory was worth $3,000 to Glover. Hardwick received $1,600.

FIGHT RESULTS

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Jerry Quarry, Bellflower, Calif., stopped Bob (Bull) Mumford, Los Angeles, 5 (heavyweights).

TOKYO — Jaguar Kakizawa, 134½, Japan, outpointed James Skelton, 133½, The Philippines, 10.

JEST A MINUTE BY BOB cumberbirch

Here's a tip for American tourists visiting overseas. If you need any information and are looking for the American embassy, just follow the mob. The embassy will be a stone's throw away.

* * *

Mechanic to car owner: "And for new customers we have a special this week . . . we're charging only what we estimate!"

* * *

A fellow walked into a tavern, saw no one behind the bar, so he rapped and shouted: "Where is everybody? I want a drink."

Soon, a horse walked out of the back room. The man stared at him. The horse said calmly: "Okay, you're making such a fuss. What do you want? Order up."

The man continued to stare. The horse repeated: "All right now, let's have it. What's your order?"

Finally the man asked: "The cow sold the place?"

* * *

"Doctor," said the obviously disturbed young man to the psychiatrist, "my biggest problem is that I always dream of baseball."

"Don't you ever dream about girls?" asked the psychiatrist.

"What!" gasped the young man. "And miss my turn at bat?"

VICTORY FOR IRELAND . . . . . . AT LAUREL

Sir Ivor Wins International

(Times News Services)

Erin Go Bragh with a southern accent—that was the 17th running of the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel race course.

Sir Ivor, representing Ireland but bred in Kentucky, virtually flew over the final one-eighth mile Monday to win the $150,000 International.

And the colt he beat to the wire at the end of the 1½-mile over grass was Czar Alexander, a United States representative who was bred in Ireland.

Sir Ivor, ridden by Lester Piggott of England, had trouble handling the soft turf course, but managed to turn apparent defeat in his first U.S. start into victory with a stretch run that overtook Czar Alexander and Fort Marcy, the other U.S. entry, about 20 yards from the wire.

Paul Mellon's Fort Marcy, who won last year's International, was third, a nose back of Czar Alexander, owned by Gustave Ring, and 1¼ lengths ahead of Carmarthen of France.

Rounding out the order of finish were La Lagune of France, the only filly in the race; Petrone of France; Azincourt II of Argentina, and Tackeshiba-O of Japan.

Sir Ivor, the first English Derby winner to race in the United States since Papyrus came over and lost a match race to Zev in 1923, ran the distance in 2:37 1-5 to pick up first money of $100,000 and return a winning mutuel of $5.80.

Elsewhere in racing, Wheatley Stable's Funny Fellow, a stretch-running son of The Irishman-Foolish One, came flying down the rail with one of his patented charges and won the $56,700 Roamer Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday.

Well back in the pack for most of the 13-16-mile test, Funny Fellow went into high gear once the field of nine turned for home and edged Draft Card, ridden by Ron Turcotte, by a neck, Iron Ruler, the favorite who had moved to the lead at the head of the stretch, was third.

At Louisville, Ky., two 30-to-1 shots, TV's Princess and Frederick Street, ran first and second in the first division of the Falls City Handicap at Churchill Downs before Sale Day captured the second.

HORNETS NAB SPOT IN FINAL

NANAIMO — Mount View Hornets threw up a solid defence here Saturday and cruised into the Vancouver Island high school soccer final with a 4-0 conquest of Nanaimo.

Bill Walker sparkled on attack for the Victoria club, scoring twice and setting up a goal by Mark Robb. Gary Clarke collected the other tally as the Hornets erupted for all their goals in the second half.

Hornets are scheduled to play for the Island crown Thursday at Qualicum Beach.

How can we explain the sudden popularity of Seagram's 5 Star?

Easy.

Easy tasting. Easy to look at. And with the Seagram name on it. No wonder so many people are switching to 5 Star—gently blended for easy taste. Now that we've explained it, get the proof. That's the real easy part.

Ex-Minister Murdered

BEIRUT, Lebanon (Reuters) — Nasser al-Hani, 48, a former Iraqi foreign minister and ambassador to Lebanan, was murdered in Baghdad Monday night, authoritative Iraqi sources said today.

Hani served as foreign minister in the Iraqi cabinet formed by Col. Abdel Razzak al Nayef in July after a coup by army strongman Gen. Ahmed Hassan al Bakr.

Two weeks later, July 31, Bakr dismissed the Nayef cabinet and made himself prime ministers.

Hani was left out of Bakr's new 26-member cabinet. A few days later, Aug. 12, he was made an embassador at the Iraqi foreign office.

Hani, a former assistant professor at Baghdad University, has held a number of diplomatic posts. He was ambassador to Syria in 1953 and to the United States from 1964 to 1967.

Youths Sentenced

NANAIMO — Irvin William Paulsen, 18, and William Victor Ritchie, 19, both of Campbell River, convicted of assaulting a 15-year-old Indian girl July 23, were sentenced Friday to 12 and 18 months, respectively, by Mr. Justice Thomas Dohm of the British Columbia Supreme Court. Paulsen was originally accused of attempted rape but was convicted of indecent assault and Ritchie of common assault.

Earthquake Hits Dodecanese Isles

RHODES, Greece (AP) — A series of severe earth tremors jolted nearby islands of the Dodecanese group today.

The honeymooning Aristotle Onassis and his bride, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, anchored aboard the yacht Christiana off Rhodes Monday night, but the quakes were hardly felt on the island.

Torrential rains were sweeping the area as the Christina sailed this morning, reported bound for Athens.

The tremors began about midnight and there was panic in villages on the islands of Kos and Nisiros. Police reported cracks in a number of farmhouse walls but no serious damage or casualties.

To Name Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Reports are circulating at the Vatican that Pope Paul will call his third consistory during the Christmas-New Year season to name at least 15 new cardinals.

BACKACHE & BLADDER IRRITATION

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids...and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissues.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved . . . actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

Assassination Trial Hoisted Until March 3

From AP-Reuters

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray's first-degree murder trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was posponed today until March 3. The state objected to the delay, accusing the defendant of "trifling with the court,"

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle granted the continuance to give Ray's new lawyer, Percy Foreman, time to become familiar with the case.

The tall Texas lawyer only last Sunday night replaced Arthur Hanes as defence counsel.

It was learned that a major issue in the split between Ray and Hanes was the insistence of the lawyer that the case be opened today as scheduled.

DEFENCE READY

Hanes told the court: "The defence was ready to go to court today."

With the state and Foreman at odds over the trial extension, Judge Battle remarked: "Well, you gentlemen have dropped this right in my lap."

He then set the trial date for March 3, and received a commitment from Foreman that the new defence chief would let the court know on Dec. 12 whether he would be ready for the March trial.

He earlier approved Ray's switch in lawyers.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Hanes, who charged in an interview before court opened, that the switch was a subterfuge to gain a delay which he opposed, was directed to put up a $1,000 bond on a contempt-of-court citation by the judge.

Battle, who will preside at the trial, said Hanes violated his order against pretrial statements about the case.

It was Ray's first public appearance since his arraignment in London following his arrest by Scotland Yard detectives last summer.

Ray, 40, is accused of killing King with a rifle shot when the civil rights leader was here to lead a garbage strike demonstration.

In the current issue of Look magazine, Ray is quoted as saying he unknowingly became involved in "some sort of plot to kill King" eight months before the slaying.

GUARD THE AREA

Meanwhile, authorities threw up what they hope will be a foolproof security screen around the court area.

Final security checks by hundreds of police began before dawn today.

An entire city block was cordonned off around the court and security areas within the 43-year-old steel and concrete building were guarded by armed men.

SECURITY CHECKS

Reporters, the public, the judge, lawyers and even the police were to undergo at least two security checks before being admitted to the courtroom.

The FBI claimed the fatal bullet was fired by Ray from a cheap lodging house about 200 feet away. Ray denied the slaying.

INOVLVED IN PLOT

In the Look article, author William Bradford Huie says Ray wrote from his Memphis jail cell: "I suppose I became involved in some sort of plot to kill King when I first took those packages into the United States from Canada ... but nobody told me anything about any planned murder of King or anyone else."

U.S. Dollar Backed

TOYKO (Reuters)—Japan will purchase $100,000,000 worth of special certificates from the U.S. Export-Import Bank by the end of November to co-operate in the United States dollar-saving program, the finance ministry said Tuesday. The certificates will be for terms up for three years, the ministry said.

Super

There are no secret ingredients in Super Shell.
Just know-how.

Making gasoline is a little like making a martini.

Most people use the same ingredients, but not everybody knows how to put them together for best results.

There are no secrets among Super Shell's ingredients, and most are used in one competitive gasoline or another. But no two refineries use all of the same ingredients in the same proportions.

5 mileage ingredients

Super Shell has five ingredients for good mileage.

(1) Platformate contains petroleum molecules with extra energy built into them.

(2) If your spark plugs misfire, you waste gasoline. TCP helps to prevent this.

(3) Butane helps give fast starts. And the faster you start, the less gasoline you use before you get going.

(4) A detergent fights deposits that can build up inside the carburetor. These deposits hurt your mileage.

(5) Mixed Pentanes help your engine warm up quickly—whatever the weather. This prevents misfiring, bucking, coughing and wasted fuel.

These five ingredients make Super Shell a good mileage gasoline.

You'd expect it to come from Shell. After all, mileage is our business.

How to go farther

Everybody at Shell wants you to go farther. We think about all the things on your car that can hurt your mileage. Like soft tires. A dirty air filter. Worn spark plugs.

We look for new ways to help you get better mileage. In summer and winter. In city traffic and on the highway. Because mileage is our business.

Pull in at the Shell sign—if you'd like to go farther.

BOMB TOSSED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—A bomb exploded outside an East Harlem police station early today, shattering its lower windows and those of two tenements across the street.

There were 15 policemen in the station at the time but there were no injuries.

Detectives said the package containing the bomb was apparently thrown and hit the front wall of the building.

UVIC'S TREASURE VAN SALE

How About a Camel Saddle or Tiny Elephant?

By BOB MITCHELL

The last time camels were seen plodding around British Columbia was during the Cariboo Gold Rush, more than 100 years ago.

The camels never survived, but if you're still in the market for a camel saddle you might be able to pick one up for $32.50 this week at the annual Treasure Van sale being held at University of Victoria.

Sponsored the World University Service of Canada, Treasure Van will be in the lounge of Uvic's student union building which has been transformed into a miniature international marketplace for the four-day sale that opened at noon today.

Not all the items among the $20,000 worth of merchandise are as costly as a camel saddle, howerver.

For customers who want something practical, hand-woven Korean slippers are selling for under $2 a pair; and home decorators will find displays of Greek pottery and Taiwanese masks.

KANGEROO HUNT

Anyone contemplating a kangeroo hunt next weekend might be interested in the Australian boomerangs that come complete with instructions for throwing them.

Forty countries from around the globe are represented in the sale comprised exclusively of hand-crafted goods, says Uvic Treasure Van organizer, Julie Mannix.

Most popular items among Victoria students and public last year were the Spanish wine skins, Mexican jewellery and Indian incense (10 cents for a tube), she said.

Victorians also bought a lot of Taiwanese fertility dolls — "They really work," said Julie.

"These are mostly items that you wouldn't find in a botique downtown."

The Treasure Van idea was born 16 years ago from a seed — a Manchadi seed, a pea-sized Indian ornment that contains a tiny carved ivory elephant, and can be found in the current display at the university today.

In 1952, a former prisoner-of-war sold Manchadi seeds at the University of Toronto to aid the Indian craftsmen she had come to know during her imprisonment in India.

WORLD WIDE

The idea caught on with World University Service, and today WUS contacts from around the world are aiding craftsmen in underdeveloped countries by sending their work to Treasure Van headquarters in Toronto, where it is distributed across the country for sale to the general public.

Treasure Van tour supervisor Tony Glister travels with the merchandise from university to university, and helps members of each WUS branch get their sale under way.

Last week, he was at Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, and the week before that he was at UBC. Next week he'll be in Edmonton.

"Of course, we're doing this for a profit," Mr. Glister said, "how else could we help anybody?"

Funds obtained from the Treasure Van sales go to pay the individual craftsmen, as well as covering the cost of shipping the goods around the world and keeping up the national WUS office in Toronto.

Mr. Glister felt Treasure Van's greatest benefit to Canadians is the educational value of seeing products produced in countries about which little is known.

Commenting on a recent move by delegates at a WUS convention in Edmonton to do away with Treasure Van, he said:

"Treasure Van is not dead — it has become a chrysalis — and who knows what might emerge and take wing next year."

PRAIRIE BANKERS MANAGE

A native of Alberta's Peace River Block is manager of the first Victoria branch of the Bank of B.C.

He is Lloyd Grove, who has 20 years' banking experience in Alberta, the last 15 in Calgary and Lethbridge. Mr. Grove's last Alberta posting was with the Bank of Montreal in Lethbridge, which he left in July to take on organization of the new BBC branch.

His staff of 14 permanent employees — assisted on opening Thursday by Vancouver staff and casual help — are all experienced bank personnel.

They are headed by assistant manager Robert R. Thompson, who started in the bank business in B.C. in 1946 and has worked in Nanaimo and Prince George.

In the past 19 years Mr. Thompson has worked for the Toronto-Dominion Bank in each of the western provinces.

The branch's other top posts are held by administrative officer Terry Nielson and his assistant Mrs. Lois Blackley.

Catholics Sentenced For Draft File Fire

BALTIMORE (WP) — Nine Catholic activists, including two priests and three former Maryknoll missionaries, have sentenced to prison terms ranging from 2 to 3½ years for burning selective service ffiles in anti-war protest last May 17.

The sentences were imposed by federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen before a courtroom packed with supporters of the defendants.

'LYNCH MOB'

In handing down the jail term to the group that has come to be known as the Catonsville Nine, Judge Thomsen said: "I hope your trial and sentence will make you and your followers and supporters realize that liberty cannot exist unless it is restrained and restricted and that there can be no justice . . . unless individuals are willing to recognize the right of the majority."

Friday's sentencing came after a day of frequently-heated arguments in which the defendants maintained, as they did throughout their trial, that they acted out of conscience. The prosecutors compared the burning "to the action of a lynch mob."

Russian Deserters Dismissed as Hoax

STOCKHOLM (Reuters) — Police have reported they now are convinced that reports of five Russian soldiers hiding here after deserting from occupation troops in Czechoslovakia are untrue.

Police Commissioner Birger Hassler said the man who claimed Friday he was sheltering them telephoned him this morning.

"He told me that both the Swedish press and he himself had been taken for a ride," the commissioner said.

"We have now abandoned the whole thing."

The man, Hans Almaborg, told Reuters today he was given the information by an English-speaking Russian. "And I have no reason to doubt him. But now I believe he has been making a fool of us all."

Almaborg had claimed the five were here for a week, scared to give themselves up to the Swedish authorities for fear of being sent back to Russia.

Arkansas Monkey Law Struck Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today struck down the Arkansas "monkey law" which forbids teaching evolution in the public schools.

The decision will also affect indirectly Mississippi, the only other state with an anti-evolution law on its books.

The Arkansas statue forbids teaching the theory "that mankind ascended or descended from a lower order of animals." Violations subject a teacher to a fine of up to $500 and dismissal.

The Supreme Court unanimously reversed a decision of the Arkansas Supreme Court upholding the state statute.

Speaking for the court, Justice Abe Fortas said the "law's effort was confined to an attempt to blot out a particular theory because of its supposed conflict with the biblical account, literally read."

"Plainly the law is contrary to the mandate of the first and in violation of the 14th amendment to the constitution," the opinion said.

The 1st amendment guarantees freedom of religion. The 14th makes the guarantee binding on the states.

U.S. Smokers Hit by Ban

SAIGON (Reuters) — U.S. servicemen are banned from taking cigarettes or tobacco into Australia in case they contain marijuana, a spokesman said today.

The order, which comes into effect Sunday, was made at the request of American embassy authorities in Australia.

The spokesman said he understood there was "some problem" about marijuana smuggling into Australia.

Marijuana is easily obtainable illegally in South Vietnam.

FOR TWO MINUTES, the 2,000 people gathered by the Cenotaph on the lawn of the Legislative Buildings kept silent. Only a pair of shrieking gulls disturbed the thoughts of ex-servicemen recalling lost comrades as the 11th hour came and went Monday. Younger people, born too late to feel the loss of loved ones of earlier generations, stood respectfully subdued, even those who felt they had to prove their feeling with a sign urging respect for the living too. Their message had been heeded by the veterans long ago. It was concern for the living in countries under the heel of aggression which took them overseas, in two wars. So the sign at right was described as a "sensible slogan" and no one objected. (Photos by William E. John.)

Vets, Youths Meet And It Was Peaceful

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

For 35 years, Clem Gill of the Royal Canadian Legion has recited the time-honored lines:

"They shall grow not old as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them."

Mr. Gill came to Victoria from Cornwall, England, in 1912, and went back with the 7th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, in 1914.

Since returning to Victoria from Europe in 1919 he has taken part in every Remembrance Day service.

●

In 1933, he volunteeered to recite Laurence Binyon's famous verse, "They shall grow not old," because he thought Victoria clergy did not give the right expression to the words.

Ever since, Mr. Gill has repeated Binyon's lines—and on Monday they were heard by more than 2,000 men, women and children who gathered in heavy rain around the Victoria cenotaph.

As the parade of veterans, servicemen and cadets assembled for two minutes' silence, a group of long-haired youths displayed a banner: "Respect for the dead, concern for the living."

No one objected.

●

"I think that's a very sensible slogan," said one veteran on parade.

The young people, mostly from local high schools, posted a 24-hour vigil around the Cenotaph. They stood from 4 p.m. Sunday through the cold, rainy night and silently moved to the back of the Legislative Buildings lawn when the parade arrived.

It was the 50th anniversary of the end of the First World War on Nov. 11, 1918, and for that reason, the turn-out of veterans was better than it has been for many years.

●

The parade was led by the Naden Band and commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. Leonard Forrest of the Fleet School, Esquimalt. George J. Corp commanded the veterans, assisted by Beau Tracey, a veteran of Zebrugge.

A 21-gun memorial salute was fired by the 5th Base (B.P.) Field Battery from the city's heliport, instead of at the Cenotaph.

The salute began at 11 a.m. and continued at 60-second intervals throughout the services at Victoria, Esquimalt and Oak Bay.

Many contended this gunfiring was out of place, particularly when it occurred during the recital of the Lord's Prayer.

"We won't have it next year," said Mayor Ray Bryant of Esquimalt.

At the close of the Two Minutes' Silence, a solitary note was sounded by Herman Bergink on the Centennial bells.

●

In the parade were the Royal Canadian Navy; the First Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles; 155th Company Royal Canadian Army Service Corps; the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's); the army, navy and air force cadets; the cadettes and wrenettes; the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire: the Red Cross, and the women's auxiliaries.

Lieutenant-governor John Nicholson, in high hat and morning clothes, took the salute at a march past in front of the Empress Hotel.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Roberts, rector of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church.

The lament, Flowers of the Forest, was played by Pipe-Major Frank Knight and the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's).

The hymns, The Silent Tribute, and O Valiant Hearts, were sung and the service closed with the Last Post, Reveille and the singing of O Canada and God Save the Queen.

DISTANT DRUMS and the echo of bugles of another day lend dignity to the gaze of Tommy Davis, 93, who was thought to be the oldest vet on parade Monday. He served with the Pioneers but marches now with the Pro Pats Legion. Each year there are fewer 1914-18 veterans on parade but those who do appear still march briskly past the reviewing stand.

VICTORIAN UNHARMED IN CRASH

A surveyor's assistant with the provincial lands service, Jon M. Magwood of Victoria, escaped injury Sunday in a light-plane crash near Nanaimo.

Mr. Magwood, 4416 Wilkinson, was a passenger in a plane that lost a pontoon while attempting to take off near the northern tip of Newcastle Island in Departure Bay, RCMP said.

Pilot Aubrey Musselman and passenger Eric Thomson, both of Chilliwack, were also uninjured.

Police said the aircraft drifted on to rocks at the tip of the Island about 3:15 p.m. after losing the pontoon.

Draft Barrett Drive Flowers Within NDP

By JOHN MIKA

The beginnings of a Barrett bandwagon appeared today even before the 38-year-old veteran MLA declares himself a candidate for the New Democratic Party leadership.

"I have asked Dave Barrett, of Coquitlam, to enter the leadership race," said deputy party leader Alex Macdonald, MLA for Vancouver East.

Mr. Barrett said he will announce his decision Thursday, but there is little doubt that he will seek retiring Robert Strachan's mantle at the April 12 leadership convention in Vancouver.

He likely will be challenged by freshman Vancouver-Burrard MLA Tom Berger, the 35-year-old lawyer who was beaten by a decisive two-to one margin two years ago when he challenged Mr. Strachan's leadership.

STOPPED TAKE-OVER

Although Mr. Strachan has said he will not indicate his personal preference, it is unlikely that rank-and-file members will forget that it was Mr. Barrett who played a prominent part both behind the scenes and at the 1967 convention in organizing the effort that crushed Mr. Berger's take-over attempt.

David Stupich, MLA for Nanaimo and a popular NDP executive member, said he may run if there is no strong trend for any of the early candidates, but it will be two weeks before he makes up his mind.

Robert Williams, MLA for Vancouver East, said he will make up his mind about entering the race in about a week.

Norman Levi, immediate past president of the NDP who also was considered an anti-Berger man at the 1967 convention, said he will not be a candidate and will not indicate his preference until later this week.

Mr. Barrett, a social worker who is credited with Mr. Macdonald in forcing Phil Gaglardi's dramatic resignation of the highways portfolio last session, said he will not make any statement on his position until Thursday night.

GIVEN HEADSTART

But Mr. Macdonald's warm endorsement gave him a head start in the race which was immediately fortified by Gordon Dowding, MLA for Burnaby-Edmonds, and helped further by Rae Eddie, MLA for New Westminster.

"In my opinion, he is the most exciting political figure in B.C. today," Mr. MacDonald said of Mr. Barrett.

"He has the warmth, the humor—and with humor I closely ally humanity—and seriousness.

"And he has the youth and vision and drive."

Mr. Dowding said he "completely" agrees with Mr. Macdonald.

"I certainly feel Mr. Barrett has a duty to run because he has the qualities and capabilities neded to make a leader."

Mr. Eddie said he had not committed himself until he knew who the candidates were, but if Mr. Barrett ran he likely would endorse him.

Mr. Berger was expected to make an announcement later today.

Ernest Hall, MLA for Surrey, told the Times he expected Mr. Berger to make a second attempt for the leadership.

Mr. Hall and Dr. Ray Parkinson, both freshman MLAs, are Mr. Berger's strongest supporters as they were in the 1967 convention.

PAM GILLAN

City Beauty Takes Third In Pageant

Pam Gillan, a 20-year-old stenographer from Victoria, was third in the Miss Canada Pageant televised Monday night.

A Montreal pre-med student, 17-year-old Marie-France Beaulieu, was crowned Miss Canada by last year's winner Carol McKinnon of Prince Edward Island.

Pam was second-runner up behind Miss Edmonton, Heather MacRoberts.

Miss Victoria arrives at International Airport tonight at 10:15 and will be greeted by a delegation from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"We want anyone who can come out and show her we're proud of her," said a Jaycee spokesman.

MODEL AMBITION

Pam, who wants to become a model, competed against 25 girls from the 10 provinces. They were judged on talent, bathing suits and evening gown presentations.

Pam, who works as a secretary in the provincial department of health, was chosen to represent Victoria in competitions held in May. She received more than $900 in gifts from local businesses.

The new Miss Canada, Marie-France Beaulieu, won a scholarship and a world tour.

City Pensioner Wins $1,000 In Montreal

For voluntarily paying a $2 tax to the City of Montreal, Victorian E. Fred Greenshields now is $1,000 richer.

Born in Montreal, Mr. Greenshields lived and worked there until three years ago when he retired to 1466 Dallas where he lives with his wife.

He was one of 150 finalists flown to Montreal Saturday to answer questions on the city for the chance to win up to $100,000 in silver ingots.

Mr. Greenshields, 68, said he planned to put some of his winnings towards a boat. He is a fisherman "without much success" to date. He is not expected to return to Victoria for a week.

Ladysmith resident Agnes Mayovsky won $500 in the draw. Prizes ranged from $100.

Mrs. Jeannine Boisvert of Montreal won the grand prize, the fifth woman to take it in six draws since the plan was set up to meet an expected $28 million deficit in the Montreal budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

TWO OTHER ATTEMPTS FAIL

$1,000 Stolen From Safe

About $1,000 was stolen from a safe at Pearson's Motorcycle Sales, 3388 Douglas, early Saturday evening.

Saanich police say there was no sign of forced entry to the safe. There was no evidence the remainder of the building had been ransacked.

Police said the person or persons involved entered the building by ripping a piece of asphalt siding from the southwest corner of the building between 6 and 8 p.m. It is believed exit was made from a warehouse door on the south side.

City police report two safes were attacked but nothing taken at McGavins Toastmaster, 1255 Pandora, overnight Satuday.

Entry to the building was made by climbing through a window on the second floor. Police said two safes were attacked with a sledge hammer. One had holes drilled in it in several places and the dial was knocked off the other.

Magistrate Pays Tribute To Dr. Alcorn

Magistrate William Ostler today paid tribute to Victoria psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Alcorn who died suddenly Saturday.

The magistrate made his remarks in central court before the first case was called. On Friday, Dr. Alcorn gave testimony in two cases.

"Those who knew him recognized him as a selfless and dedicated man. You might even say he was an officer of this court," Mr. Ostler said.

"I am indebted to him for a tremendous amount of work over the years with cases arising here. A number of unfortunate persons with emotional problems owe a great deal to him for his work in the solution of their problems.

"Very frequently there was very little reward for him except in helping other people.

"By his death people have lost a friend and a healer, the court has lost a dedicated worker and the community a dedicated citizen."

Dr. Alcorn, 62, was a staff member of Royal Jubilee, St. Joseph's and Veterans' hospitals, and a co-founder of the Unitarian Church of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Metropolitan United Church, 1411 Quadra Street. Rev. Arthur D. Wilmot will officiate.

City Girl Wins Majorette Class

Victoria Chinatown Lions majorette Lorraine Wong captured first place honors in the novice open class at the Miss B.C. Majorette competitions during the weekend at Burnaby.

Competing for the first time, the 16-year-old Miss Wong, 3175 Beach Drive, placed fourth for the Miss B.C. Majorette title.

Karen Aitken, 15, of 4119 Ambassy, placed third in the novice solo competition.

OAK BAY GETS BANG OUT OF QUIET

Oak Bay' Tweed Curtain shook violently Saturday night after a loud explosion—still unexplained—startled residents.

The blast sent persons into the streets and to their phones with inquring calls to the police, newspapers and radio stations after 10 p.m.

No one could pin down the area where the blast originated and no reports of damage were made.

A police search failed to turn up an answer but there was speculation the noise was caused by an American aircraft breaking the sound barrier.

JACK HOSKINS

Blind Tripped by Blind Spots of Others

By PETE LOUDON

The waitress was trying her best to cater to the blind man.

His food was arranged with the meat at 3 o'clock, the potatoes at 6 o'clock and the vegetables at 9 o'clock—the positions on his plate where he was used to finding it.

Then she asked his companion, who could see, "Does he take cream in his coffee?"

"Why don't you ask him?" said the blind man, sharply.

Jack Hoskins, field secretary of the Canadian Institute for the Blind here, said later he regretted his rudeness. He knew the girl was trying to be helpful, but like many people meeting a blind person, she was trying too hard.

Her manner suggested that because he could not see, he probably couldn't hear, talk or enjoy other normal reactions.

"Some sighted people seem to think blind," he said.

"Remember there's nothing wrong with a blind person except he can't see."

Mr. Hoskins doesn't belittle the loss of sight, he has been missing his for 20 years. If you want to understand a little bit of what it's like, try living half a day with your eyes closed.

★ ★ ★

When you're counting your bruises later, remember you still haven't felt the utter despondency of knowing you face a lifetime of darkness.

Imagine coming to the CNIB newly blinded, meeting a man's voice and trying to shake hands with it. Mr. Hoskins says you learn to laugh at such flailings and gropings—but not much can be humorous in those first days.

You've been proud of your independence. Suddenly you can't move unless a friend offers his arm. (You don't propel a blind man, you let him follow you.)

Even when you learn again to walk alone you must advertise yourself with a probing white cane. A tricycle, toys on a sidewalk or a rumpled scatter rug suddenly are perils.

The snow you once enjoyed is another enemy. It deadens the sounds you need to hear . . . and booby traps your path. The park you enjoyed can be a terror, there's no sidewalk, curb or wall to give you direction.

Dressing isn't a problem—once you learn to hang the tie that goes with your blue suit on the hanger with it. Harder is finding out whether there's a soup spot on your lapel.

You'll have to learn to read all over again of course, deciphering the dots of Braille by fingertip. It may take a year and then you will read only 60 per cent as fast as the sighted person.

Asked whether a blind person could be able to draw aid and comfort from a seeing-eye dog, Mr. Hoskins surprised us by saying it isn't likely.

★ ★ ★

There are about 360 "legally blind" persons in Greater Victoria. And not one of them has a seeing-eye dog.

Any blind person who wants one and who can qualify for ownership may obtain one from the CNIB, but the eligibility is limited to about 2 per cent. The main qualification is that you be totally blind as compared to legally blind. A minority are totally blind.

And you must be physically fit because the dog must be walked about 3½ miles daily. Most Victoria blind are elderly.

Mr. Hoskins says the person classed as legally blind, who might be able to see a blur or a white line, tends to lead the dog instead of being led, which is contradictory to the training of the animal.

Also the owner must be prepared to spend 10 weeks at the kennels of Seeing Eye Inc. (New Jersey) or Guide Dogs for the Blind (in California) before the valuable animal is released to him.

Many blind persons wouldn't want a dog. Their care is an added chore and to avoid spoiling the training, the dog must constantly be with his charge.

"I can think of a number of circumstances where I wouldn't want one with me," said Mr. Hoskins. He mentioned the problem of taking a wet dog on a bus.

The CNIB, besides offering training to blind persons, offers recreational benefits, bus passes, reduced rail fares, passes to movies (!) with a friend who can describe the action, free canes, a Braille library, talking (recorded) books, discounts on furniture and appliances, a $500 annual income tax deduction, bowling and fishing outings.

★ ★ ★

All the benefits in the world, of course, won't compensate for being blind. But if you'd like to make things smoother for blind people, support the CNIB.

The easiest way to do it is to support the United Appeal in its current fund drive. One of your benefits, if you've read this far, is that you can see to write a cheque.

GUIDELINES FOR THE TEEN-AGE GIRL

Pros and Cons of Going Steady Have to Be Weighed Carefully

By DR. TOM McGINNIS

(Editor's Note—This report on teen-age boy-girl relationships is adapted from the book, "A Girl's Guide to Dating and Going Steady." The author is a well-known New Jersey psychotherapist and professor at New York University.)

The practice of going steady has developed only fairly recently among teen-agers. In your parents' time it was more common among young men and women who were considered old enough to marry. Going steady is an American invention. The fact that it is so popular with teen-agers indicates that they believe it does something for them that other relationships fail to do. It tends to have definite built-in advantages for certain people and certain types.

The pros and cons of going steady are things you will have to consider in deciding when and whether you yourself should go steady if the opportunity presents itself. Obviously, one cannot say that the practice is all good or bad. Its value depends on you, mostly. Research has found, however, that certain types of persons tend to go steady, while certain other types are less likely to do it.

1. Going steady is more common among girls who seek security above excitement. Sometimes her early experiences in life convince a girl that it is worth a great deal to have a boy she can rely on to escort her to various social affairs. One girl who first attended dances at age 14 recalled her frequent embarrassment at finding herself sitting alone while every other girl had been asked to dance. She had no boy friend to take her to parties. These memories are still so painful that she does not want to experience others like them again. Going steady gives her the feeling that she will not be left "out in the cold" in the future.

2. Going steady appeals to girls who are more anxious about what their friends think of them. It confers "status." Some girls feel unhappy if their girl friends are going out and they are not. When girls are together, they often talk about the things they do with their steadies. A girl without a steady beau may feel out of things and may have feelings of inferiority when such talk begins.

3. Girls and boys most likely to pair off this way often feel somewhat closer to engagement and marriage. A girl who expects to marry after graduating from high school or soon afterward, and does not expect to attend college, is likely to settle for a steady companion at an earlier age than the girl who looks ahead to more years of education. That makes sense. Since going steady is a step toward marriage, girls who see marriage only a few years away are much more interested in taking the step.

Those least likely to go steady (apart from girls who would like to, but have not found the right boy) are generally those who are looking farther into the future. Such girls may see themselves as college graduates, or as being older before they become serious with a man. They are less likely to worry about what friends think of them.

'BREAKING IT OFF'

If you go steady, you have to face the possibility that your relationship will break up sooner or later. Sometimes this can be a painful and disturbing experience.

The earlier you go steady, the less likely it is that you will marry your boy friend, and the more likely that you will have to break up your relationship later. Also, the longer you go steady, and the closer your relationship, the more painful the break may be.

Probably the main reason couples break up is that they grow apart from each other. Most people, looking back at their school years, are surprised at how their interests changed and developed during their teen years. In the first year of high school, for example, the big men on the campus are generally good athletes or excellent dancers or farther advanced socially than their friends. Gradually, "the brains" may begin to come into their own. In schools where most students are interested in going to college, the boys with high marks may be as popular with girls as the stars of the football or basketball teams.

Girls and boys who have the most mature understanding of what it takes for a male and female to get along well together are best able to make the break without hurting either one. They recognize that people with different interests and values are not wrong or bad. They are just different. You are not wrong, for example, if you are the stay-at-home type who likes to curl up with a book and listen to soft music, just as a boy is not evil if he wants to dance or visit friends. Yet, you must admit that you are not made for each other.

GAIN BY BREAK-UP

When a long-standing attachment breaks up, many girls feel it is a great loss. I take a longer-range viewpoint and regard it as a gain. After all, a main purpose of going steady is to try to discover whether you are suitable for each other, whether your interests and personalities match so well that you feel you could spend your lifetime together.

If you discover at some point that your interests and personalities do not match, you have learned something important. You have saved yourself from possible greater disillusionment later. Also, in the process you have thought about what you want—or at least do not want—from life. This experience should help you make a better choice of a boy friend—one better suited to your needs—the next time.

The best way to break it off is to do it honestly by discussing frankly your feeling that you are not suited for each other at this time. By doing this above-board, you are really saying that going steady has had its worthwhile features and that a dignified end to it is what you both deserve. For you must have seen some admirable characteristics in each other or you would not have gone steady at all.

What are common reasons why a boy and girl decide not to go steady any longer?

1. They are getting too serious.

2. They discover that they have less in common than they thought.

3. They become restricted by the lack of freedom and long to be free again.

4. Someone else looks more attractive.

If you want to break off for any reason, you should not feel ashamed or guilty for doing so. You should feel free, in fact, to call off any friendship—even an engagement—right up to the moment that you say "I do." Your boy friend has a similar right, and he should be able to exercise it without feeling that he is betraying you or giving you a dirty deal.

It would be less than natural if the one who feels rejected did not feel bad about it. Generally, however, a relationship does not break off suddenly. Nor is it generally completely one-sided. What usually happens is that the girl and boy begin to feel that they do not have the best possible relationship after all. Once either partner is dissatisfied, it is usually best to break off, at least for a while. Going steady should be wanted equally by both of you.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Jealous When His Girl Visits Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that has bothered me for a long time and I don't know how to handle it.

The fact is I get very jealous when my fiancee goes to her doctor for a physical examination. Kathy has a very good figure, and you can't tell me that a doctor doesn't enjoy seeing a girl with a good figure. I just can't stand knowing that some other man has seen Kathy undressed.

We plan to get married in a few months, and I don't know how to beat this problem, but I know if I don't conquer it I'll go nuts.

It's bad enough right now, but I'm sure it will bug me even more when Kathy has a baby, and he will have to deliver the baby and so forth. Have you any suggestions?

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: I could suggest that your fiancee use a woman physician, but it wouldn't "solve" your problem; it would only mask it. Let me assure you that a doctor doesn't "enjoy" one patient any more than another — no matter how "good" her figure is. So grow up and forget that nonsense. You are jealous over nothing.

DEAR ABBY: How can a man determine whether his wife is a rudder or an anchor?

EMERGEE, Lockport, N.Y.

DEAR EMERGEE: If she's guiding his progress, she's a rudder. If she's impeding it, she's an anchor. And any man who depends exclusively on his wife for the former, or allows her to do the latter should be keelhauled!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. Every time I go to the closet to get something to wear, it isn't there. My mother is 20 years older than I am, but she's my size. I think my clothes are too sexy for her, but she doesn't think so. I work hard and buy all my own clothes and she just helps herself to anything she wants. She's not careful with them, either. If a button falls, off, that's just too bad. She also gets spots on things, and I have to launder them. Warnings don't help. I've tried that a hundred times. I am 25 years old and fed up. Any suggestions?

CLOTHES POOR

DEAR POOR: You can either lock your clothes up or find another place to live.

DEAR ABBY: Yours is the voice of wisdom, mine is the voice of experience.

I have read in your column many letters about friction between the wife and her mother-in-law. You said, if they cannot get along, keep them apart — no matter what the cost. How right you are.

I felt it unwise financially to maintain two households — one for my widowed mother and one for my wife and children, so I invited my mother to make her home with us.

I learned too late that it wouldn't work, for my mother alienated our children from us, and all the money I had saved, I had to pay out in psychiatric treatment for my wife and our eldest daughter.

THE FABRIC DOCTOR HAS THE ANSWERS

QUESTION:

Can Deodorants Damage Fabrics?
Mrs. B. T.

ANSWER:

Yes, many deodorants have chloride salts which cause deterioration of some fabrics, especially silk. Make sure deodorants are completely dry before allowing the garment to come in direct contact. If such a stain occurs, have the garment drycleaned as soon as possible.

SHOPPING GUIDE

What's the Use Of Simulated Skull?

By PENNY SAVER

I don't pretend to understand why someone would want a skull. My sons do. When they saw the almost life-sized replicas in a store they said: "Hey groovey. That would look good on my desk." And: "Like, Mon, it's a conversation piece. Put it in a dark corner perhaps with a weird light on it and you could tell people it was real. It would be gassy if they believed you." I still don't want a skull. It could be useful in a little theatre production of Hamlet—but even there its use would be limited. Or if I ever write the dramatization of Poe's "The Gold Bug" that the boys have asked me to do for years, a skull might come in handy at production time. But then I would have to drill a hole through it and a replica of a skull with a hole through it would be doubly hard to find a use for.

The skulls that I saw are $5.98 for anyone who can think of a reason for having one. They are one among many decorative sculptures made by a Victoria firm. I am not sure what material the craftsman who makes them uses, though I would guess it to be a kind of plastic or plaster. The sculptures cover quite a range of styles. For instance, a pair of classical busts ($15.98 a set) sit next to a pair of impressionistic monks. Also in an impressionistic mood is a swirling statuette entitled "Sarah" ($7.98) which reminded me of Lot's wife after she had been turned to salt. Switching again to classical styles of art there is the head of a Buddha and another of an Egyptian Pharaoh. Other statuettes show penguins ($2.98 and $1.98), killer whales, seagulls, totem poles and snowbirds. Many of the latter are in a solid background color (usually black but for the totem poles, reds and browns) with the incised lines picked out in a contrasting color (usually white).

Corks Need No Popping

Bottle caps have a bad habit of not being reusable. Unless you are going to finish the bottle at one sitting some sort of cork is in order. The other day I saw some novel corks topped with funny heads. These heads sport hats, beards and fuzzy hair. No two look exactly alike. I discovered something else about these novel corks that made them ideal for seldom-used beverages. The head itself comes off the cork revealing a metal pouring tube so that once the cork is in place, you don't have to remove it to pour. A single cork is 98 cents. A set of two with a stand is $1.98. Three in a stand are $2.98. The stands are very plain and are completely unfinished so you can leave them as they are or paint them to suit your decor.

There is a modern poet, I think his name if Field but I am not sure, who wrote an intriguing poem about a giant Pacific octopus. For the purposes of the poem he was in love with it. Well, I'm in love with an octopus, but while it is Pacific it certainly isn't giant. It is, in fact, around eight inches tall and made of brightly colored pipe-cleaners. These attractive novelties are $1.25 each and come from Japan. They have plastic eyes that wobble when the octopus is moved and many more than the usual eight squirmy legs. The one I have is a striking orange and black but many other colors are available.

If you would like to know where to shop for these items, please call 382-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Must Adapt Eating To Number of Birthdays

Lowman

While people in many countries of the world are tragically suffering from malnutrition, those in the United States, Canada and other numerous places may find overnutrition (a nice word for overweight) a problem.

There are several reasons for this. In the first place, in some countries middle-aged men and women remain about as active as they were in younger years. In the more affluent countries, the majority of the occupations and preoccupations and the many mechanical devices greatly limit physical activity. Also, while the diet available in supermarkets is nutritionally advantageous because of its great variety in essential foods, it also offers a temptation to buy many of the delicious high-calorie foods on display.

Possibly the most important factor is the failure of people to adapt their food intake to their ages. This is one time when being age-conscious brings you happy dividends. If the same food intake is maintained in spite of a decrease in physical activity, the only result possible is a gain in pounds.

Human activity and food consumption should be in direct proportion to one another. We need food to provide us with energy (expressed in calories. No weight will be lost or gained if one expends in energy what one consumes in food. However, if you eat less food than you need to support the day's activity, then fat stored in the body tissues will be used and weight will be lost.

If, on the other hand, as is so often the case, you consume more than is required to support your energy expenditure then weight is gained, with the surplus stored as fat. It is so easy to allow the pounds to slip up on us.

For instance, if you gain a pound a month, or even five pounds a year, in 10 years this will amount to a gain of 120 pounds in the first instance or 50 pounds in the second. This is a startling thought! Ten years can pass before you know it.

All you need do to gain a pound a month is to eat a couple of candy bars, have a piece of iced layer cake, drink a cup of cocoa and have one cup of malted milk each week (or calorically similar items). This, of course, in addition to your food requirements to maintain your present weight. How these extras count up!

Tomorrow we will think of fitting food intake to your years and, therefore, save both figure and health.

Dieting is not an easy task. Make it easier for yourself by sending for Josephine Lowman's "Count Your Calories" chart. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Churches Combine Efforts for Fair

There was something for everyone at the Peninsula Country Fair, held at Sanscha Hall, in Sidney, recently. An estimated 1,000 guests attended, raising approximately $1,580 and enjoying Irish dancing, Indian crafts, costumes reminiscent of the Victorian era and the art of a television entertainer.

Kuper Island school girls, gay with bright costumes and stage makeup, gave Irish and Mexican folk-dances. Doreen Swakum, dressed in appropriate costume, danced a Spanish number. Deanna Sterling starred in a Maori dance. The dancers were trained by Sister Mary Leonita.

Peter Rolston put on a show of ventriloquism and tricks of magic. Norman Tweedhope convened bingo games, Mrs. C. North was in charge of a cake walk.

Fall fair games were organized by Alan Pettigrew. Tea was served under the convenership of Mrs. M. Dorran and Mrs. K. Adkin.

Mrs. T. Douse and Miss Ina Rooke handled the candy stall and a fish pond was run by Mrs. H. Tivy and Mrs. A. Anderson. The Sisters of the Immaculate Heart ran a stall of Indian crafts which had been decorated by students of the Tsartlip Indian School. The carding, spinning and knitting of Indian sweaters was demonstrated by Mrs. N. Pelkey, Mrs. D. Pelkey, Mrs. E. Claxton and Mrs. M. Claxton.

Other stall conveners were: Home baking, Mrs. E. Battison and Mrs. P. Schiller; knitting and sewing, Mrs. E. Franklin and Mrs. G. Goodmanson; parcel post, Mrs. L. Leahy and Mrs. F. Worrall; children's gift bar, Mrs. D. Patterson; attic treasures, Mrs. J. Pettigrew; Christmas items, Mrs. H. Wall; garden shop, J. Verhagen and family, assisted by Mrs. C. Larose; delicatessen, Mrs. M. Wolownik and Mrs. R. Kennedy.

Children of the combined parishes of St. Elizabeth's Church, Sidney, and Our Lady of Assumption, Brentwood, contributed many handicrafts, led by Mrs. E. Butler. Mrs. J. Miletich was in charge of motif and decorations.

Raffles offered a chicken dinner, camera and portable television set as prizes.

Master of ceremonies for the successful event was Chief Philip Paul.

Swiss Consul Here

Mr. E. Andres, consul of Switzerland, and Mrs. Andres, paid an official call on the Lieutenant-Governor today. On Wednesday the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nicholson will give a reception at Government House for 4-H Club delegates attending the 37th annual 4-H club conference in Ottawa and Toronto. That evening the Lieutenant-Governor will present certificates to Red Cross blood donors at Red Cross House.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Cook, 816 Pembroke Street will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday. They will be at home to their friends between the hours of 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. on that day. Mr. Cook, who also celebrated his 83rd birthday Monday, first came to Canada in 1909. He returned to England during the war years and it was at this time he met his future bride, Miss Rose May. They were married in Folkestone, Kent, in 1918.

Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Durell, 3120 Quadra Street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Monday by holding an at home for their friends from 7 to 9 p.m. The couple has a daughter, Doris, who lives at home. There are three sons, Philip, who lives in Victoria; Kenneth, who is in Toronto, and Brian of Napanee, Ont. There are three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Prior to coming to Victoria the Durells made their home in Regina.

Hold Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Harvey celebrated their golden wedding Sunday with an open house from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at their home at 911 Leslie Drive. A week before, their family had held a dinner in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey have three daughters living in Victoria, Mrs. Alice Grant, Mrs. Frances Robertson and Mrs. Raemila Gibbons. They have 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The Harveys who are both active members of the Lake Hill Bowling Club, were married in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Halifax, on Nov. 5, 1918. They homesteaded in Saskatchewan after which Mr. Harvey served with the Royal Canadian Navy for 21 years.

Off to England

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Baird and their small son, Quin, left for England on Wednesday aboard the P and O liner Oronsay when she sailed from Vancouver. Among the ports to be visited en route are San Francisco, Acapulco, Nassau and Lisbon.

UNIQUE AUCTION AT ART GALLERY

Mrs. Leslie Wood and Mrs. David Wardell are seen with two of the many unusual items that will be sold when the Women's Committee to the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria holds a Connoisseurs' Auction at the Gallery on Thursday, at 8:30 p.m. Admission will be the donation of a unique item or $1. Among items collected to date are a 17th century Kashan vase, a 19th century Sicilian folk carving, a Chiang dynasty scroll and an antique Japanese paint pot. Sherry and refreshments will be served. There will be displays of hand-made jewelry and other handicrafts. Lorraine Travis will provide a musical background. Mrs. G. S. Hilliard and Mrs. C. P. Wilson are assisting general convener Mrs. K. B. Barnes. Mrs. C. H. Miller is treasurer, and Mrs. W. L. Wood is in charge of those gathering items for the event.

Mrs. Kennedy Reveals Her Fears

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy says she has worried about the safety of her one surviving son, Senator Edward M. Kennedy, but still feels "he should go on in politics."

The mother of the late president John F. Kennedy and the late senator Robert F. Kennedy, both slain by assassins, was quoted in an interview in the current Look magazine.

She said she thought her youngest son "made the right decision, for the obvious reasons," in declining to allow his name placed in nomination for president at the Democratic convention.

"This was not the time," she added.

Mrs. Kennedy, 78, said she was in Europe during the convention and "didn't realize how strong the pressures on him had been until I got home."

"Teddy greeted me by joking: 'You almost had another candidate'," she said

Mrs. Kennedy described the Massachusetts senator as "ambitious; he wants to do what the older boys did."

Mrs. Kennedy also says she thinks her daughter-in-law, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, will be "very happy" as the wife of Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis.

"It's been quite a lonely life for her," Mrs. Kennedy said of the widow of President John F. Kennedy. She said she and her ailing husband, the former ambassador to Britain, have known Onassis for 15 years.

Weather Fails to Spoil Bazaar Held by Emerald Rebekah Lodge

Pouring rain couldn't deter guests from attending the tea held Friday at the K of P Hall by the Emerald Rebekah Lodge Number 17.

An hour after the tea was opened by Mrs. J. Brandon, district deputy, the home cooking stall, manned by Mrs. M. Swain, Mrs. E. Hogg and Mrs. L. Hookway, was reduced to a dozen cookies and a box of buns.

The white elephant stall, under Mrs. L. Wilson and Mrs. M. Sutherland and the novelties stall, Mrs. B. Shea and Mrs. R. Chambers, were no less popular.

TEA CONVENER

Everyone took a chance to rest their feet and enjoy the tea convened by Miss Dulcina Guelpa.

A touch and take table was convened by Mrs. D. Mann.

In charge of the tombolas were Mrs. Alice Homuth, Mrs. L. Molyneux and Mrs. P. Smoothy. Mrs. B. Shea was selling tickets for the chicken dinner. The door prize was a poodle-shaped tea-cosy.

Door receipts were handled by Mrs. M. Guyatt and Mrs. M. Sawyer.

Table decorations were arranged by Mrs. A. Scott.

Mrs. J. Allison was general convener of the affair which raised $382.

BUTTON, BUTTON, who's got the button, or should it be the key. The strange postures exhibited above were photographed by a San Francisco Examiner photographer on Stockton Street shortly after a Montgomery Street financial executive had dropped his car keys down the cable car slot on Stockton. Keith Fitch, left, whose keys they were, was soon joined by others in the search, which lasted 45 minutes before recovery was made. In the meantime cable cars broke the rhythm of the search as they shuttled back and forth on San Francisco's hills. (AP Wirephoto.)

Fiery Separatist Will Resign

MONTREAL (CP) — Separatist Francois Aquin, embroiled since 1967 in political disputes ranging from President de Gaulle's "vive le Quebec Libre" slogan to treatment of English-language minorities, announced Monday he is resigning as an Independent member of the Quebec legislative assembly.

Mr. Aquin, 39-year-old Montreal lawyer, said in a statement he feels ineffective as an Independent MLA under the current parliamentary system.

The system did not give him the leeway to promote the aspirations of the Quebec people. He had appeared in the legislature only rarely during the current session.

Mr. Aquin was first elected to the legislative assembly in 1966 as Liberal member for the Montreal area riding of Dorion. He broke from the Liberal party July 28, 1967, when it opposed de Gaulle's "vive le Quebec libre" slogan shouted during the president's 1967 tour of Quebec.

He decided to sit as an Independent, joining forces with another disgruntled Liberal—Rene Levesque—who found the separatist group Mouvement Soverainete-association in late 1967.

But the two met head on last April at an MSA meeting in Montreal when Mr. Levesque swung separatist supporters to endorse a "fair play" policy toward language and education rights for the English-speaking minority in a free Quebec.

Mr. Aquin, who subsequently resigned from the MSA, opposed the policy on the grounds that state aid to English-language schools should be only for a "period of transition" instead of being full-time.

He also disputed economic theories held by Mr. Levesque, who favors an independent Quebec with loose economic ties to Canada.

Mr. Levesque's separatist group was disbanded last month and merged with Gilles Gregoire's Ralliement national to establish a new political force—le Parti Quebecois.

Meanwhile, Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand's only comment on Mr. Aquin's resignation was that a byelection would be held.

The announced resignation leaves three vacancies in the 108-seat legislative assembly. The other two, in Bagot and Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace, are to be filled in byelections Dec. 4.

The house now has 54 Union Nationale members, 48 Liberals and three independents.

Natural Gas In Cars Is Success

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pacific Lighting Corp. says preliminary tests of a natural gas system to propel automobiles were so promising it plans to convert 1,000 vehicles from gasoline propulsion.

Developers demonstrated the natural gas system last week.

Fuel storage was an obvious drawback. Eight hundred cubic feet of tanks took up most of the trunk of a demonstration auto. The driving range is snort also—about that of battery-operated cars.

Officials said enough power to equal that of a gallon of gasoline costs about eight cents—compared with 34 cents or more for gasoline. Conversion costs about $300 an engine.

Locomotive Kills Two Trapped on Trestle

AUBURN, Wash. (AP) — A man and boy trapped on a trestle two miles east of Auburn Sunday were killed by a railroad locomotive.

Nine-year-old Martin H. Thompson of Kent, Wash., and James E. Marshall, 25, of Auburn, were killed as they tried to outrun the train.

The boy's father, Charles Thompson, had returned moments before to their car to get fishing bait they had forgotten.

The engineer, Melvin Ashley of Auburn, said he saw the two fleeing to safety and slowed the train to 20 miles an hour but the locomotive hit them, pitching them to the side off the tracks at the end of the trestle.

Vote Clouds Future of U.S. Okinawa Base

By SELIG HARRISON
The Washington Post

NAHA, Okinawa — A stunning victory by a nationalist leader opposed to the continued deployment of nuclear weapons here has cast storm clouds over the future of the major U.S. military base complex in the western Pacific.

Moderate Chobyo Yara, leader of a diverse coalition ranging from anti-Communist socialist factions to the pro-Communist Peoples Party, decisively trounced his Conservative opponent for governor, Junji Nishime, on a platform demanding a nuclear-free Okinawa and the return of the island to Japan.

The size and sweep of the Yara victory jolted American military commanders and foreshadowed increasing popular pressures both here and in Japan for an early end to the 23-year American regime on the island.

"We've come a long way from the days of "Teahouse of the August Moon," observed an American-educated Yara supporter.

Pointing to the retention of the five-vote margin held by his Liberal Democratic Party in the Ryukyuan legislature, Nishime aides warned that Yara would need opposition support to carry out reform programs and could not "go too far."

DANGER ECONOMY

The conservative candidate based his campaign on the argument that a Yara victory would endanger the Okinawan economy with its heavy dependence on jobs and services from U.S. bases. But an analysis of nine key election districts in central Okinawa adjoining major U.S. installations showed that even in these Nishime target areas, Yara won by a margin of 56 per cent.

With 96 per cent of the votes counted, Yara polled a total of 233,273 to 203,373 for Nishime, running ahead in three out of five districts in Southern Okinawa, six out of seven in the city of Naha, and two out of five northern districts in addition to his lead in seven out of nine central districts.

O'BRIEN
... resignation urged

Bank Chief Under Attack

LONDON (Reuters) — More than 60 Labor Members of Parliament are calling for the resignation of Sir Leslie O'Brien, governor of the nationalized Bank of England.

The parliamentarians presented a motion in the House of Commons Monday night attacking Sir Leslie for his "continued public criticism of government economic policy," which they fear could damage the pound.

They want Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins to tell Sir Leslie that if his position is irreconcilible with government policy, the only honorable course for him is to resign.

Drugs 'Totally Ineffective'

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A panel of 200 scientists has found scores of drugs tested in a study for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration "totally ineffective."

The panel called for relabelling of more than 2,000 drugs—two-thirds of those tested so far in the study.

Dr. Robert K. Cannan of the National Academy of Sciences told a group of science writers Monday that revision is necessary because "the labels were misleading and devious."

"They left the impression that a drug could do what it cannot do," he said. "To put it bluntly, there was not a fair representation of the drug in question."

Dr. Cannan reported on a two-year study of drugs placed on the market between 1938 and 1962. The study now is about 87 per cent complete, and there is no reason to suspect that the two-thirds figure will change when the study of 3,600 formulations is finished, he said.

The study, being made by a National Academy of Sciences panel at the FDA's request, covers drugs introduced prior to 1962—about 85 per cent of all those now on the market.

Those introduced since 1962 have been subject to laws requiring that label claims be substantiated.

Dr. Cannan said 6 per cent of the drugs tested so far have been "rated totally ineffective" despite elaborate claims.

The biochemist declined to name brands, saying that was up to the FDA. A full report will be made when the study is completed, probably early next year.

Only a small fraction of the drugs covered in the study can be bought over the counter, Dr. Cannan said. The rest are prescription items.

You have met 3 members of a most unique family. Not only do Pat, Dave and Carol read Dynamically but their mother and father too. The Gerry family have an average reading rate 7 times faster than the average reader, they read more and enjoy more of what they read. They have this to say about their newly learned skill:

PATRICIA GERRY— High School Student: "I love reading this new way. Not only do I read 5 to 10 times faster, but I comprehend and retain more of what I read. The study method taught me is great."

DAVE GERRY— UVIC says, "The Reading Dynamics Course has enabled me to read my text books 5 to 7 times faster than ever before with greater comprehension. The study techniques taught are the greatest thing going."

CAROL GERRY— University student, "I can do all of my studying reading in a quarter of the time that it took me before taking the Reading Dynamics course. Studying, and using the 'Wood Method' gives me greater comprehension and retention. I thoroughly enjoyed the course."

WHO HAS TAKEN THIS COURSE?

Over 400,000 students have benefitted. Graduates represent members of the late President Kennedy's staff, senators, businessmen, Members of Parliament, housewives, high school and university students and busy people from all walks of life . . . people who like to read but don't have the time.

TIME MAGAZINE SAYS:

Time Magazine in referring to Reading Dynamics' impact on legislators in the U.S., said, "Washington has seen nothing like it since the days when Teddy Roosevelt read three books a day and ran the country at the same time."

READ THESE STUDENT COMMENTS BY VICTORIA GRADUATES

MARLENE PATTERSON — Teacher: "Excellent instruction. I read faster with more concentration and better comprehension."

W. G. GERRY—Municipal Engineer: "Good course . . . faster reading both for pleasure and business."

BLAKE FERRIS—Instructor, U. of Vic.: "Extremely good course. I am reading seven times faster with greater comprehension and retention. Great for study reading."

DEREK HYDE-LAY—Teacher: "I recommend this course highly. I tackle my reading with more enjoyment and confidence and my recall ability is much greater."

PAUL KJEKSTAD—Student: "I read 3 to 10 times faster with greater comprehension. All students should take this course."

BARBARA MACLAREN—Student: "Excellent course, has increased my speed greatly and with better understanding."

9 IN MEMORIAM

GILLAN—In loving memory or our dearest son, age 15 years, Douglas Gillan, who suddenly left us on Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, 1964.

Gone Before
Rev. 22:1-14
Douglas you left us suddenly four years ago,
Only passed beyond the shadows
To that land of endless day,
Only held in sweet communion where tears have passed away.
You are blending with angels in their chorus around the throne.
Now you'll never know no more sorrow,
You've a mansion all your own.
You have met the lovely Bridegroom,
And the friends who've gone before
And you would not journey earthward
Though you love us as of yore.
For your hands are filled with treasures
And your soul filled with grace,
Joy we cannot half imagine
Now reflects from your dear face.
Oh, so suddenly you left us
For your mansion in the sky;
In a twinkling you were raptured,
You could scarcely say "Goodbye"!
But we'll meet you soon in Heaven,
When our pilgrimage shall wane,
And we'll say a Glad "Good Morning,"
Where we'll never part again,
While on earth you loved to hear and sing,
A sweet chorus, hymns, we now recall,
"The Love of God, Sweet Jesus,
Walking with the King, Blessed Assurance,
How Great Thou Art, The Lord is My Shepherd,
Jesus walked this lonesome valley,
Saved by Grace, Asleep in Jesus,"
We shall journey on with patience,
Brave in Jesus Precious Name,
Till the day we meet in Heaven,
Oh, so changed, but still the same,
And your memory will be blessed,
As this earth we sadly roam
And will live the more for Jesus,
Who has brought you safely Home.
O, how blessed is the promise,
When our spirit is set free,
To be absent from the body
Means to live, O Lord with Thee!
—Loved and remembered always, Mom, Dad and Paul.

9 IN MEMORIAM

PHILIPS—In loving memory of my beloved husband, John W. Philips, who departed this life November 10, 1963.

To me he has not gone away,
Nor has he wandered far.
Just entered God's Eternal Home,
—His loving wife, Isabel.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You don't need to gather the greatest possible number of points to have a good score in match point duplicate. All you need do, when it is your hand, is to score more than most other players will collect with the same cards.

East's two-club overcall was made in accordance with best modern standards. He had a very good hand but did not want to make a takeout double with nothing in spades.

South's jump to three spades shut out West effectively. As a matter of fact a pass would have done just as good a job.

When the bidding got back to East he looked at his opponent's convention card and saw that they were playing preemptive jump responses in competition. Then he doubled.

Opening lead—♣2

This was a perfect example of the modern all-purpose double. It was primarily for takeout, although East would not mind if his partner left it in and showed just the sort of hand East held. A good hand with a good club suit, lots of high cards, and fair support for the unbid suit.

West recognized the bid and went up to four hearts, whereupon North bid four spades. Had East been clairvoyant, he would have bid five hearts. That contract would wheel in because of the favorable position of the king and jack of clubs but East wanted a sure profit. He got it all right. West opened a cluband the defence gathered two tricks in each suit except trumps for a plus 500.

This was less than the 650 they would have scored for bidding and making five hearts but it was good enough to get them 10 match points out of a possible 12, because at most other tables there was no real interference bidding by North and South, and the hand was played at a part-score contract.

NEW SPANISH COLONIAL UNIQUE SPANISH DESIGN

Unsurpassed in quality and planning to give the utmost comfort and convenience in this modern yet traditional Spanish home of 2,400 sq. ft. A personification of prestige results by natural waterfalls on property of 100x170, plus overlooking miles of the blue Pacific, enhances the architectural beauty of the sparkling exterior design while the equally attractive interior provides an unusual functionality.
A renowned Toronto firm of interior decorators has given a unique ensemble of walls, light fixtures, plus luxurious carpeting, has kept this Spanish welcome, yet modern in every way. Main floor consists of an impressive foyer entrance, with closet for wraps, mammoth entertaining room of 14x23, with red brick floor-to-ceiling fireplace with raised hearth. Two king-sized bedrooms with louvred closet doors. More than ample space bathroom, utility room. Up the wrought-iron stairway to the upper level, with an extra-large living room, again with elegant fireplace, and a view that makes you want to rest forever, another bedroom at its best, bathroom of exquisite design with colored glass, infra lights and vanity. Formal dining room one step from impressive kitchen with eating area for a family.
Let's step out on the wrap-around promenade to the large sundeck, over the double garage. Viewpoint, yes — the Spanish courtyard with curved stairway, the waterfalls blending themselves with the distant waters of the ocean. There is just too much in this home for us to adequately describe. All we can say is . . . if you seek the superlative in location, the quiet dignity of yesterday, livability and quality, we urge your inspection of this home.
Also extensive landscaping and retaining wall to be completed by vendor.

10 MILE POINT UNUSUAL — ATTRACTIVE

This attractive home, built with a high regard for Japanese architecture also uses the best functionalism of Western architecture to produce better living because — it is located in the 2nd best area (Uplands is first) — the lot is large, 74x220 — it's treed, offering you a natural park of your own. The privacy extends also to the home. The living room is peninsular with a separate entrance (how many times have you crossed through a living room or dining room to get to another room — A living area should not serve as a passageway). Between the living room and the large dining room is a free standing stone fireplace — serving both rooms and it soars to the full height of the open beamed roof. The wall between the dining room and kitchen is translucent and has a Japanese design. The lighting from either room through the panelling adds a most interesting feature to these rooms. The kitchen has black walnut cabinets that only Tech Designed Homes would produce. This is a room that most ladies will not be able to resist. The bedrooms are large, 2 have feature walls and special lighting and there are two full bathrooms. In addition there is a large rumpus room finished in yellow cedar with a floor to ceiling fireplace. There are many more features. The price is $39,500 and there is a 8½ per cent mortgage available. B. Price, 385-2458.

DE LUXE DUPLEX $47,650

In this day and age (and really it has always been that way, even when butter was only 25c per lb.) you only get what you pay for. After viewing this well-planned 3½ yr. old, 2-bedroom duplex conveniently located in the MT. TOLMIE area and considering what each side as an individual home has to offer you will agree it is TOP DOLLAR VALUE.
The owner's side features:
—Wall-to-wall carpeting.
—Built-in stove and oven in beautiful cabinet kitchen.
—Large family room with fireplace and bar which can also be served from the kitchen for informal eating.
—Large master bedroom with en suite bathroom.
—Self-contained in-law suite in basement.
—Sundeck leading from the family room.
The tenant's side is the same except it has hardwood floors and does not have the family room and in-law suite. However the full basement is roughed-in.
This MEDALLION home has a large 6¾ per cent N.H.A. mortgage with monthly payments of $168.

ISLAND NEWS

Dangerous Boy Nabbed

NANAIMO — A 14-year-old boy described in juvenile court by a psychiatrist as a potential killer was recaptured Sunday after his second escape from Brannan Lake School.

RCMP said Monday the boy and a 15-year-old companion with whom he fled from the institution Thursday night were discovered in a Qualicum Beach home when the residents returned from a trip.

The pair had sought refuge after the older boy became ill.

When the 14-year-old was recaptured after his first escape in July, Vancouver psychiatrist, Dr. Keith Akins told a hearing he was suffering from brain damage that caused a form of epilepsy which threw the boy into fits of violent anger.

The doctor recommended at that time that the boy be sent to the provincial mental hospital at Essondale for treatment.

The judge recommended psychiatrict treatment at Brannan Lake.

COBBLE HILL — Alex Walker attended the 50th anniversary of the First World War armistice held Monday in Ottawa.

Mr. Waler, from Mill Bay, was selected to represent branch 126 because of his 50 years of service to the Canadian Legion. He was national vice-president in 1939 and president from 1942 to 1946.

He joined the Cobble Hill branch when he retired to Vancouver Island.

TERRACE — A Canadian Forces aircraft from Comox was sent here Saturday night to fly a 10-year-old boy with head injuries to hospital in Vancouver.

The boy, whose name was withheld, was injured in an automobile accident earlier in the day near Kitimat, 420 miles north of Vancouver.

Car Crash Kills Man

Mervin Eugene Olson, 34, of Parksville, was killed Sunday night in a three-car collision on the Alberni Highway nine miles west of the Vancouver Island community.

Three others were injured.

Legion Plans Housing For Elderly

COMOX — The local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion plans to go into the construction of low rental housing for senior citizens.

A special branch meeting approved in principle the formation of a society to sponsor the project.

Committee secretary Bob McKellar said that the society would pay one-tenth of the cost, the provincial government one-third, and the federal government the remainder through Central Mortage and Housing Corporation.

He said rental for single and double units would be $43 and $53 a month, which would cover the cost of the mortgage.

Property is available in Comox, which would be provided free of town taxes.

RCMP NET CATCHES BOY

DUNCAN — A 13-year-old Saanich boy who went on a fishing and hitch-hiking expedition on his own during the weekend was picked up and returned safely home by RCMP.

Brent Mockford, 13, of 1034 Erindale, was spotted Sunday walking along Highway 18 near Schutz Falls, about 12 miles west of here, by motorist Russell Hughes of Youbou.

Mr. Hughes had heard the boy's description in an RCMP appeal on the car radio. The boy's parents had reported the boy missing when he had failed to return home Saturday night.

Pulp Union Posts To Be Contested

NANAIMO — Gordon Wickham and Victor Aquino, both of Nanaimo, will contest the vice-presidency of the Pulp and Paper Workers union during elections to be held Dec. 3-5.

Reg Young and Murray Johnson, also of Nanaimo, and Frank Jameson of Crofton will contest the office of second vice-president.

Orville Braaten of Vancouver was re-elected president and Angus McPhee of Prince Rupert was re-elected secretary-treasurer at the union's sixth annual convention held in Prince Rupert.

Wood Workers Short on Jobs

DUNCAN — Slow construction created a surplus of carpenters and laborers as well as a surplus of skilled and semi-skilled sawmill workers, R. S. Robinson, manager of Canada Manpower Centre, said today.

Although tree planting is in full swing and logging camps are working to capacity, there were cutbacks in the pulp and paper mills, he said.

A few calls have come for experienced dairy farm workers and welders, but these positions have been filled. A steady demand for female sales help, waitresses and domestic help has been easily met.

SMALL TURNOVER

Mr. Robinson said that turnover in stenographic and clerical positions has been relatively small.

There were a total of 981 unemployed registered at the centre in October, an increase of 63 over the previous month.

"This was due to the lack of construction and an influx of people from the prairies," Mr. Robinson said.

Veteran Actor Dies at 54

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Wendel Corey, a veteran of movies and television who combined acting with politics, died last week. He was 54.

Officials at the Motion Picture Country Home and Hospital in this Los Angeles suburb said Corey died a few hours after being admitted with a liver disease.

Corey came to Hollywood in the late 1940s after reaching stage success on Broadway. Among his best known films were The Rainmaker, Rear Window, Sorry, Wrong Number and The Search.

From 1965 until this year he was a city councilman in Santa Monica, the oceanside suburb where he lives. He campaigned unsuccessfully in 1966 for a Republican nomination for Congress.

Policeman Shot Dead

SEATTLE (AP) — A policeman was shot to death and one of two armed men was wounded Monday night in a holdup attempt.

Robert Allshaw, a 10-year veteran of the Seattle police force, was killed.

Allshaw, 36, a traffic officer, and his partner answered a call reporting a robbery under way at a grocery store.

Other police units arrived about the same time, and while the two attempting the holdup were being arrested, Allshaw was felled and one of the gunmen was wounded.

The wounded man was placed in a hospital under police custody. His companion was jailed.

Rain Postpones City Horse Show

Because of rain the annual horse show at the Victoria Riding Academy was cancelled over the weekend and will be held Nov. 24.

Don Carley, manager of the riding academy, said he expects 70 entries from all over Vancouver Island. Riding and hunting horses will be shown.

MP to Study Lower Rates For Ferries

PORT ALBERNI — Freshman Comox-Alberni MP Richard Durante said he will study the B.C. ferry situation to see whether more federal assistance might be used to lower ferry rates.

He told a Sunday meeting here that $38-million in federal funds had gone to pay for 40 per cent of the provincial government's fleet.

"If the federal licence plates were taken off Mr. Benett's ferries, they would sink like stones," he told 100 persons gathered to protest high ferry rates between the Isand and the mainland.

It was a small tournout to support a 4,000-name petition now on its way to both federal and provincial transportation departments.

MAJOR PROPOSALS

Major proposals in the Alberni Citizens Committee petition are free passage for old age pensioners; raising children's age limit to 16 from 12; decrease in adult fares and special fares for non-commercial vehicles.

Similar petitions are circulating in Nanaimo and Duncan and another is expected to begin at Courtenay.

Dr. Howard McDiarmid, Alberni MLA, said be would ask the provincial government to consider ferry passes for the elderly.

He said he thought ferry rates now are all right in most cases, although he said a commuter-ticket system on weekdays might be a good idea.

HOME GARDEN

How to Sow Early Peas

By HILDA BEASTALL

Some gardeners feel they haven't a suitable space for sowing early peas and broad beans, yet would certainly enjoy having these tasty vegetables ready to eat by late May or early June. For these wishing gardeners, we suggest assembling a coldframe in a sunny spot protected on north and east.

Hilda

Peat pots or veneer plant bands two inches square, placed closely together in a 12-by-24 wooden flat, three inches deep, will grow nice little plants during winter. Keep the flats in the coldframe from now until spring.

The plants will then be suitably grown and hardened to put out into garden rows without any disturbance of roots.

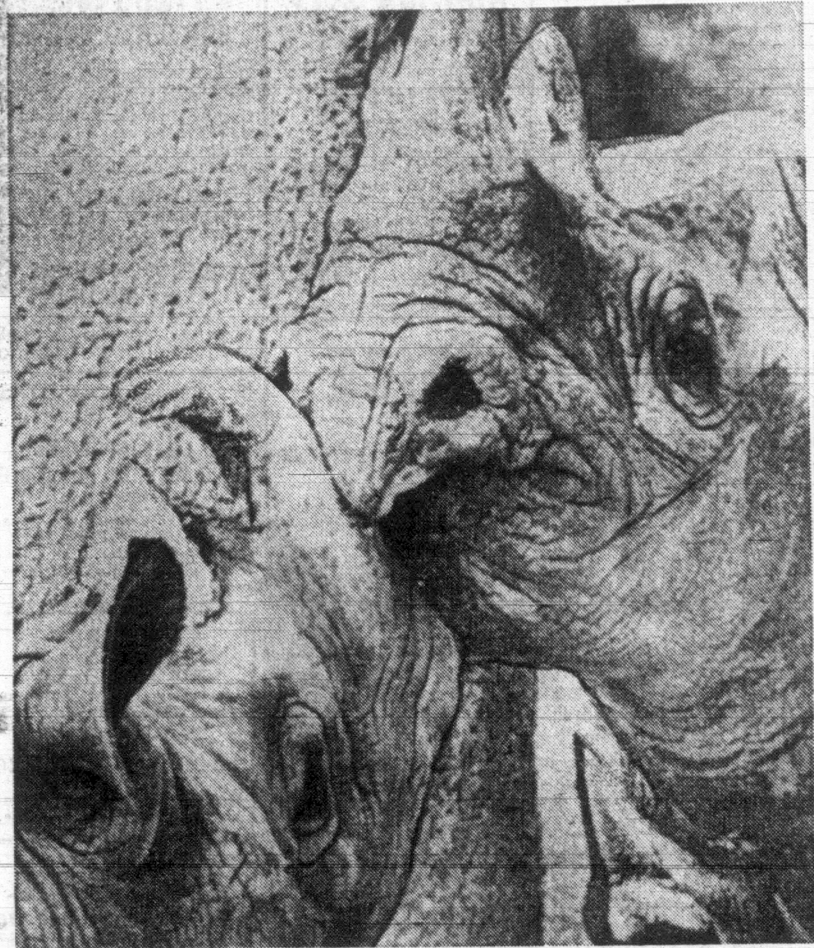
Weather can become a bit settled during March some years, and planting out then might give you a faster start than sowing outside now.

One seed to a pot or band; mixture should be screened soil plus some sand. The flats will go at once into the frame, with no glass cover on unless frost is forecast.

No coddling is wanted, but extremes of weather can be excluded by using the coldframe intelligently.

Sweet peas may be started in the same way. Be sure that adequate labels are used or you'll end up growing sweet peas in the vegetable garden, and garden peas up the back fence.

Wood labels and a weatherproof garden pencil are well worth the investment, for half the fun of gardening is knowing what you have and being able to recommend varieties to your friends from your own experience.



BIG KISSERS meet when a six-year-old male rhinoceros, left, was introduced to a female rhino at Los Angeles zoo. The flirtation began when the male arrived six months ago from Quebec, but they were only able to cast fond glances at each other over a concrete wall. Brought together for the first time, they were shy until the female broke the ice with this big kiss. (AP Wirephoto)

FLASHBACK ON CANADA

End of World Feared From Shooting Stars

By BOB BOWMAN

Last week I mentioned some of the superstitions of seamen, especially in the days of sailing ships. There were lots of superstitions on land too and some of them persist even today. The expression "touch wood" is the landlubber's version of a seaman's superstition. Blasphemy, or use of foul language, was considered to be unlucky on board ship, and sailors who heard it would ward off evil consequences by touching cold iron or steel.

Bowman

There have been several scares about the end of the world. There was a severe earthquake in Quebec during the winter of 1663 and people rushed into the churches because they were convinced that the end of the world had come.

Then Nov. 12, 1833, there was another scare in a much wider area of Canada caused by a shower of shooting stars. As the constellation Orion began rising in the eastern sky, the shooting stars put on one of the greatest shows in history. Gradually they spread over the entire sky. People fell to their knees in prayer. Church bells rang. It seemed that the end of the world was near as the display lasted until dawn.

However, Canadians have learned to make great use of astronomy. It has been of the greatest value to surveyors in the mapping of vast areas. The first observatory was established at Toronto in 1839, followed by Fredericton in 1851, and Quebec in 1854.

Other events Nov. 12:

1757 — Force of Canadians and Indians destroyed German Flats, killing 50 people.

1774 — British citizens in Canada protested Quebec Act which restored French law.

1813 — U.S. General Wilkinson abandoned campaign to capture Montreal.

1820 — Presbyterians of Quebec and Montreal petitioned for share of clergy reserves.

1856 — Grand Trunk Railway opened from Quebec to Toronto.

1880 — Explosion at Stellarton, N.S., killed 50 miners.

MONCRIEFF
. . . he asked Andy

Atlas Winner Intrigued By Space

A World Book Atlas was presented today to Stephen Moncrieff, 4087 Monarch Place, for his Ask Andy question, "What is the fourth dimension?"

A Grade 8 student at Gordon Head Junior High School, Stephen has an inquisitive mind, especially on scientific matters dealing with space and matter.

He reads scientiffic books and as a hobby makes science models and drawings.

He is also interested in Greek and Roman mythology. His outside activities include swimming, sailing and camping.

He is an ardent reader of Ask Andy and likes asking questions. Stephen hopes eventually to win a set of World Book Encyclopedia—the top prize in the Andy competition.

A BIT WET

About two-thirds of Indonesia's 575,893 square miles is covered by rain forest.

ASK ANDY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a World Book Atlas.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Stephen Moncrieff, age 13, of Victoria, for his question:

Where is the fourth dimension?

The dimensions of a flat page are its length and its width. If these dimensions exist anywhere, they must also exist through the universe. This is also true of any other dimension that the mind of man is capable of grasping. We use length and width to figure the problems of plane or flat geometry. Solid geometry calls fofr a third dimension of height. We use height, length, and width to measure objects and spaces in the everyday world around us. But these three were not enough to figure some of the energetic items in our modern age. Fast planes, fast bullets and moving targets made speed a necessary new element. And speed is related to time, plus all the other dimensions.

Scientists off the 18th Century figured out how to use geometry to solve the fourth, fifth, and other dimensions that might be needed. As a rule, we take the fourth dimension to be a measure of time in relation to the other three. Even space travellers must base their calculations on the relationship of space, time, and distance. And to them, the fourth dimension is time.

Andy sends a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Wendy Duggar, age 16, of Hope Hull, Alabama, for her question:

What is the science of entomology?

The ancestor words of "entomology" mean "cut almost in two." This does not help us to pin down its specific meaning. What's more, it is easy to confuse it with several sciences. Etymoloy, ecology, and ethnology sound a bit like entomology. However, only two of the four are remotely related.

The science of entomology is a branch of biology, the master science of all living things. The origin of the world "entomology" was a Greek word meaning "cut or sliced almost into two parts," and it is hard to think of a plant or animal to which this could apply, but the Greeks thought of one. They observed the slender waist of a bitsy bug and used their world for cut to name it. We borrowed this word to coin entomology, the branch of biology that encompasses the vast hordes of insects.

The different insects on this planet outnumber all the other animal species by ffar. More than half a million of them have been named and classified, but some entomologists estimate that this is only a smal percentage of the total. All of them belong in the Insecta Class of the Arthropoda Phylum. Insecta is subdivided into about 25 different orders. A student entomologist can accumulate a large bug collection on a few field trips, but sorting the specimens into their proper classifications requires some study. A career in entomology requires a bachelor's degree, and specialized careers such as research and teaching require a master's or doctorate degree.

The field of entomology is immense fofr several reasons. There are vast numbers of insects; they are found almost everywhere; and though all of them are bitsy creatures, the differences between them are astonishing. Such a multitude of creatures must, of course, affect and influence a multitude of other living things that share our planet. An entomologist must have a general knowledge of all these aspects, but he cannot become a specialist in all of them. He may select one aspect of insect life or one group of insects as his own field; or he may specialize in the inter-relationships of insects with other living things — which delves into the fascinating new science of ecology.

The study of insect biology is big enough to occupy several life-times. It includes their body structures, their life histories, and perhaps their behavior patterns. The study of insects in their environment probes the role they play with plants and other animals in the balance of nature. This corner of ecology also considers the way insects affect human lives. Researchers in this area seek methods to control insects that destroy crips and those that carry germs. Others seek ways to help silkworms, honeybees, and other insects that are useful to mankind.

Most bug experts work in applied or economic entomology. In recent years some of these researchers have launched a lot of new chemicals to control the population of insect pests. These insecticides certainly kill bugs. Unfofrtunately, the sprays and powders spread far and wide, and many desirable creatures are destroyed or harmed. Entomologists interested in ecology now warn people to use these powerful, sneaky insecticides with great caution and never lavishly.

Band Concert Season Inaugurated

By BERYL PROUDMAN

The schools' band concert season opened with a flourish Sunday afternoon when Jerry Bryant mounted the podium at the McPherson Playhouse to conduct the senior concert band from Esquimalt high school.

This program was interesting primarily because it gave an insight into band possibilities for the future.

Although the students can already play conventional works like Osterling's "Bandology" and Grundman's "Kentucky 1800" almost with their eyes closed, band directors like Mr. Bryant are constantly looking forward and seeking ways to broaden their musical horizons.

Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" in which fugal entries were picked out for various instruments, although it presented a challenging hurdle well worth attempting, proved a mild disaster with some intonation problems and occasional co-ordination lapses.

Charles Carter's "Symphonic Overture" and Hale Smiths "Tribal Dance' were more within the players' capabilities while they were also musically interesting.

The most daring work attempted was Donald Whit's fascinating sound dialogue, "Dichotomy."

The smiling relaxation which accompanied works associated with the movie and television world showed with which area the young people felt most familiar and comfortable.

Bill Hasting, from the Canadian Forces College of Music joined the band for two solo numbers, one his own arrangement of "Londonderry Air."

The jazz ensemble in which Mr. Bryant, at the piano, was joined by drummer Harvey Wanless, bass player Len Michaux and James Kennedy, flautist, added yet further variety to the program.

The four gifted musicians achieved a bond only possible between players who share a similar interest in music and play together for enjoyment.

In a jazz session where the audience would hear and appreciate the intricacies and recognizable jazz characteristics of such playing, this group could probably have played for hours without becoming tedious, but not in a school band concert setting.

Though James Kennedy played the flute very well, the instrument's partly dynamic and tonal limitations tired the ears of listeners who had come prepared to hear a school band in concert.

Emotionally Upset Given Nude Therapy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — By removing all their clothes, participants in group therapy lose inhibitions and can understand themselves better, says Paul Bindri, a Hollywood clinical psychologist.

He described Monday to the American College of Medical Hypnotists the 21-hour sessions he has been holding each weekend for about a year at Palm Springs, Calif. There are 14 nude particiapnts, male and female, at each session. Bindrim says they paid $45 a weekend.

"Clothing constitutes a mask behind which the individual hides," Bindrim said in describing his theory.

Participants just sit and talk about emotional problems at first. As they become more familiar they can touch and embrace but with certain limitations.

At dawn the second day they have "a spiritual experience," Bindrim added, by climbing into a warm swimming pool and meditating quietly together.

Body contact is encouraged because it is "essential to emotional expression." But he says the paritcipants are able to enjoy sensual pleasure without sexual involvement because they are so emotionally "turned on."

At first, some members of the American Psychological Association objected, he said, but formal protests have been withdrawn. Doctors, clergymen and lawyers at the convention lauded his experiment.

Who ever heard of having Eleanor Collins for dessert?
But since we've changed our first show to 9:00 p.m. this week (to give you a chance to dine without having to constantly stop to applaud) Miss Collins should be just about on time for dessert. Now isn't that a great way to end a pleasant dining experience?
Why not stay for her second show at 12:30 and begin the next day in a nice way? It's all part of our plan to leave a nice taste in your mouth.

Nixon Pledges Israel Backing

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard Nixon told American Jewish leaders 15 days before his election it was vital to U.S. interests in the Middle East that Israel retain her current military superiority over her Arab neighbors.

Nixon's expression of concern for Israel's security was made in question-and-answer session with the presidents of 21 national Jewish organizations.

The Oct. 21 meeting, at the New York offices of an Israeli publication, was closed to the public, but an account of the discussion was released later by meeting organizers and a Nixon representative.

They quoted Nixon as emphasizing that he would not, if elected president, "wave any missiles at anybody," but would use "firm, private diplomacy to convey to the Soviet Union the deep interest in the United States in the sovereignty of Israel."

CONFRONTATION FEARED

They also quoted him as saying he favored a peace arrangement worked out between the Jewish nation and her Arab neighbors, but was opposed to having the Soviet Union act as one of the guarantors of a peace arrangement, as he said the Russians had promised.

Nixon also said sale of 50 Phantom jet fighter planes to Israel would serve as a "deterrent to further conflict in the Middle East."

In an interview with a team of Associated Press editors published six days later, Nixon said in answer to a question:

"If this Mideast situation is allowed to continue to boil up, there is the danger that a confrontation could occur there, and the Mideast is more vital in terms of what it means to the United States, Western Europe and the rest, then Vietnam, and if a confrontation occurs there, the danger of world war is greater than it is in Vietnam.

"Therefore, it is vitally important on virtually a crash basis that we have the kind of discussions with the Soviet Union that will indicate that the Mideast area is one where they are playing with fire when they build up the forces that might engage in a war of revenge in the Mideast."

ASTROPHYSICIST David Goodenough of Victoria will spend one month in Cerro Tololo, Chile, working on a Canadian astrophysical research project there. The son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Goodenough, 3179 Glasgow, is studying for a doctorate at the University of Toronto. Since graduating from Victoria High School he has taken degrees at UBC and at the University of Toronto.

Calgary to Upgrade Educational System

CALGARY (CP) — Changes in education which would cost an additional $17,654,159 between now and 1973 will be proposed to the Calgary public school board tonight.

The proposed changes are contained in a 58-page educational priorities report prepared by the board administration.

Prepared at the request of trustees, the report lists upgrading of teaching staff as the top priority.

It recommends increasing the number of degree teachers on staff by 3 per cent a year for the next two years and by 4 per cent in 1971. The upgrading would cost an estimated $3,133,350.

The report also recommends fractional reductions in class size which would drop the teacher-pupil ratio in elementary schools to one teacher for every 25 pupils and in junior and senior high schools to one teacher for every 19 pupils.

The reductions would cost an extra $3,048,750 over the next five years.

The report called for an expansion in the double entry program for admitting Grade 1 pupils in September and February. The program has been tentatively approved by the board for implementation in 1970 and will require 96 additional teachers. The cumulative cost is estimated at $3,799,000.

The administration urges increases in the number of school aides, classroom assistants who perform non-teaching tasks and leave teachers with more time for preparation work.

The report recommends that the school-aides program be extended at the rate of 20 a year, which would require $2,102,800 over the next five years.

Old Transport Concepts Get Verbal Blast

HALIFAX (CP) — J. W. Pickersgill, president of the Canadian transport commission, urged Maritimers Saturday to take the lead in ridding their region of outdated or inadequate transportation so that money can be liberated for provision of better transportation.

"There is always a tendency to fight to hang on to what exists, whether or not the cost exceeds the benefit," Mr. Pickersgill said in a speech to the Atlantic provinces motor transport convention here.

"Yet we all know that the same dollar cannot be spent twice for two different things."

Mr. Pkcersgill told his audience: "It is even more in your interests than in the interest of the government and taxpayers of Canada to make sure that every dollar of federal money spent on transport in this region should yield the maximum benefit to the region.

"What this means is that the local authorities, businessmen and producers of the region should be the first to seek the elimination of obsolescent, redundant or wasteful transport facilities or services, so that the money spent on them will be available to help provide up-to-date facilities and services."

DISTANCE A PROBLEM

The former transport minister said it is the provision of modern facilities and services, not the bolstering of outmoded or unneeded transportation, that "will really help overcome an obvious economic disability" of the Atlantic region, namely its distance from the country's great centres of population and consumption.

The Canadian transport commission, the national regulatory agency for all modes of transportation, wants to help make "national transport policy contribute to overcoming the transport disabilities of the Atlantic region," Mr. Pickersgill said.

"But we can really help only if you yourselves are forward-looking and dynamic in your approach."

ENCOURAGING MOVE

Mr. Pickersgill said it is encouraging that both Halifax and Saint John are exploring new transport technologies "to see whether these ports cannot become so efficient and so economic that they will attract traffic on a competitive basis."

"I believe very few people today really believe the economic future of Halifax and Saint John can be assured by attempting by legislation and prohibitions to force traffic through these ports at a substantially higher cost to the Canadian economy or the Canadian treasury," Mr. Pickersgill said.

Peace Talks Anticipated

LAGOS (AP) — A third round of negotiations to try to end the 16-month-long civil war in Nigeria is expected to begin within a few weeks, informed government sources have reported.

The meeting, to be attended by members of the heads of state consultative committee on Nigeria of the Organization of African Unity, probably will be in Monrovia, Liberia, the sources said.

A Nigerian government source said that the OAU committee probably would invite the Nigerian head of state, Maj.-Gen. Yakubu Gowon, and the Biafran leader, Lt.-Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, to separate conferences.

U.K. Launches New Drive for European Unity

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP) — Three top British ministers are trying in Brussels this week to promote European military and foreign policy co-operation inside the North Atlantic alliance but outside the Common Market.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, Defence Secretary Denis Healey and Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins will be in the Belgian capital Wednesday for a special meeting of ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the implications of the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Alongside that 15-nation gathering, the three British ministers planned an intensive round of talks with their West European colleagues, seeking to prmote co-operation in fields outside the scope of the Treaty of Rome, which set up the European Economic Community and its Common Market.

The move reflects the growing conviction in the British government that President de Gaulle Belgian proposal for co-opera- entry into the Common Market and that none of the other five members with the possible exception of The Netherlands is prepared to buck the French president.

France's veto last month of a Belgian proposal for co-operation with Britain within the European Union was a bitter disappointment in London. But the reaction was even more bitter to word from Brussels that Belgium was not prepared to stand up to France.

Prime Minister Wilson's ministers now are seeking a wider setting in which to press for European unity.

Healey led off the drive last week with a speech urging "sense of European identity within the Atlantic alliance."

He called for a "continuous dialogue between Britain and the other members of NATO on questions of defence policy and strategy."

"The existence of a European identiy among NATO's members on this side of the Atlantic would make progress towards the reunification of Europe as a whole more easy," he said.

While emphasizing that Britain has no intention of undermining the American commitment to Europe, Healey warned of the pressure on the United States administration from Congress and the American public to reduce that commitment. He said this makes it urgent for Europeans to draft a collective policy, not only on European issues but on such wider problems as the Vietnam war and the nuclear arms race between the United States and the Soviet Union.

YOUTHFUL LEADER FOR ALBERTA NDP

CALGARY (CP)—Grant Notley, secretary of the Alberta New Democratic party for eight years, was elected leader Sunday at the party's annual convention.

He defeated two other candidates, Edmonton lawyer G. S. D. Wright and last-minute entrant Alan Bush, a former Grande Prairie, Alta., clergyman now living in Vancouver.

Mr. Notley, at 29 one of the youngest provincial NDP leaders in Canada, succeeds Neil Reimer, who held the position for five years. Mr. Reimer resigned the post to devote more time to union activities.

Mr. Notley polled 143 votes to 113 for Mr. Wright. Mr. Bush, a former NDP organizer in Alberta and a candidate in the 1965 election, received 22.

UNLUCKY LADY, the Continental Shipper, limped into Ogden Point again this morning after another losing battle with the cruel sea. Last month the 556-foot vessel left Crofton for Japan on her maiden voyage. Heavy seas shifted her lumber cargo and she returned to Victoria to be reloaded. She left again on November 5 and 60 miles out encountered raging seas and lost about one-third of her deckload. Hundreds of feet of guard rail were torn out as tons of lumber crashed into the sea. With the remaining lumber teetering she gingerly made her way back. Reloading will take about two weeks.

Unity Puts Pressure On Saigon

Times News Services

NEW YORK—President-elect Richard Nixon Monday night declared that President Johnson speaks for him on Vietnam and other crucial foreign policy matters.

Nixon emerged from a lengthy meeting with President Johnson to say the president was pursuing policies which he would adopt when he moved into the White House.

Nixon's statement brought gloom to the Saigon regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was stalling the Paris peace talks in hopes that Nixon would take a stronger stand against the Viet Cong.

Nixon flew here Monday night for a stay of several days following a lengthy meeting with Johnson at the White House.

Before meeting the president he will replace Jan. 20, Nixon had talked about possible personal missions to Saigon or the Paris peace talks—should Johnson deem them helpful. He also suggested he might send emissaries abroad—presumably to Siagon or Paris—if Johnson agreed.

But after their White House talks, neither Nixon nor Johnson said a word, or even hinted at, pre-inaugural foreign travel by the president-elect or the dispatching of representatives from the incoming administration.

MAY MEET AGAIN

Johnson, however, did indicate he might be having more conferences with Nixon before Jan. 20, and these presumably might result in the assignment of a direct diplomatic role to the president-elect.

"It was a very pleasant and co-operative meeting," Johnson told reporters, "as we expect all these meetings in the days ahead to be."

Nixon, appearing jointly with the president, talked about such foreign policy problems as Vietnam, a possible new Mideast crisis and the ever-present question of American-Soviet relations.

"If progress is to be made in any of these fields," Nixon said, "it can be made only if the parties on the other side realize that the current administration is setting forth policies that will be carried forward by the next administration. . . . I have assurance in each instance to the secretary of state and, of course, the president, that they could speak not just for this administration but for the nation and that meant for the next administration as well."

Meanwhile Defence Secretary Clark M. Clifford accused South Vietnamese government leaders today of of balking at a peace talks arrangement "in the last out of the ninth inning."

Clifford said the United States should go ahead with the peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris if President Thieu of South Vietnam continues his refusal to take part.

Swapping lawyers on the eve of his trial, James Earl Ray, charged with the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, is now represented by Percy Foreman, Texas criminal lawyer (above), who once represented Jack Ruby and was defence counsel in the murder trial of heiress Candace Mossler. Astronauts Face Lunar Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said today the Apollo 8 mission will attempt an orbital flight around the moon, probably during the Christmas holidays.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the launching from Cape Kennedy, Fla., for what a few years ago would have been pure science fiction, will occur no earlier than Dec. 21.

This would mean the three Apollo 8 astronauts would spend Christmas Eve and part of Christmas day making the lunar orbits.

NASA officials announced at a news conference the Apollo mission would be "open-ended"—that is, conducted in steps referred to as plateaus or "commit points."

"Each plateau includes a thorough system check of crew, system and equipment operations," officials said.

"Only when all conditions are satisfactory will the decision be made to commit to the next plateau."

NASA said this type of operation allows for various alternate missions, including a low, earth-orbit flight, a flight to a distance of as much as 60,000 miles or a flight around the moon.

SAFET YA FACTOR

"Conducting the mission in this manner provides both maximum crew safety and maximum benefits through alternate flight mission selection as the flight proceeds," the announcement said.

Apollo 8 will carry two 40-year-old men who have already orbited the earth—Air Force Col. Frank Borman and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell, plus Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

Russ Seeks Red Summit In Bid to End Divisions

Times News Services

WARSAW — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev today reiterated the Kremlin's determination to go ahead with a projected world Communist party summit conference despite differences in the movement over Moscow's treatment of reformist Czechoslovakia.

He told the Polish Communist party fifth congress here it was the duty of all parties to strengthen unity and cohesion to be able to launch "a still bigger offensive against imperialism."

Brezhnev's appeal for unity followed in implicit rebuke by the Polish party leader, Wladyslaw Gomulka, to Western Communists who condemned the Moscow-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 20.

It was the first time since the invasion that the Soviet leader publicly confirmed Moscow's intention of staging the world gathering.

POSTPONED

The action against Czechoslovakia threw the international Communist movement into turmoil and led to postponement of the summit originally scheduled for Nov. 25.

Attending the talks are East Germany's Walter Ulbricht and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, with Hungary's Janos Kadar the only absentee among the five leaders who ordered the Aug. 20 invasion of Czechoslovakia. Kadar is represented by Bela Biszku, a member of the Hungarian politburo.

Numerous other "fraternal" delegates from Communist parties around the world are present, including Rumania's aging former president Chivu Stoica. However, no invitations were extended to the Yugoslav, Chinese or Albanian parties.

The Chinese and Albanians have been excluded from gatherings of pro-Moscow parties for four years, but this is the first time the Yugoslavs have been barred from such a congress since former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reconciliation with Marshal Tito.

At Moscow's 50th anniversary celebrations only one year ago, Tito himself spoke.

DETERIORATING

Relations between Moscow and Belgrade have been deteriorating rapidly since the invasion of Czechoslovakia, with the orthodox Polish and East German regimes attacking Yugoslavia with greater and greater vehemence.

In the Soviet Union itself, attacks were mostly indirect and partial until a 19-page criticism in the Moscow monthly Kommunist a fortnight ago.

Sunday morning Pravda escalated further. The Soviet party daily celebrated the 50th anniversary of Lenin's article "the proletarian revolution and the renegage Kautsky" (a pamphlet attacking as traitors the democratic Socialists led by Karl Kautsky of Germany) with a polemic denouncing the Yugoslavs at greater length and even more strongly than the Chinese.

EARLY SESSION

Observers here expect both Brezhnev and Gomulka to condemn the Titoist heresy while pressing for an early world conference of pro-Moscow parties which would, in effect, excommunicate both Peking and Belgrade from the orthodox faith. A meeting in Budapest this week is expected to call for such a conference early next year.

The presence of Brezhnev and Shelest, the Ukrainian party chief reputed to have been the principal advocate of an early invasion of Czechoslovakia, would appear to indicate that there may also be private discussion among the invaders as to to how to proceed next in that occupied country.

The East German and Polish press have been openly critical for weeks of the official Czechoslovak leadership headed by Alexander Dubcek, with Pravda following suit early last week, even before the anti-Soviet demonstrations of Nov. 7-8 in Prague and Bratislava.

EGYPTIAN WAR GAMES BUILD UP TENSION

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Nasser attended front-line manoeuvres in the tense Suez Canal area Monday, while Premier Levi Eshkol indicated Israel won't give up control of the Tiran Strait, its outlet to East Africa, Persian Gulf oil and the Far East.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported Nasser spent seven hours atop a tank, watching a "massive" manoeuvre of tanks and armored divisions. It said he was accompanied by Defence Minister Mohammed Fawzy and Iraqi Vice-Premier Hamedi Ammash.

Al Ahram also reported wide contacts have been initiated among the Arab capitals to work out a plan of action following the "collapse" of UN envoy Gunnar Jarring's peace mission.

There was speculation in Cairo that Egypt and Jordan are again trying to arrange an Arab summit conference, which some Arab countries, particularly Saudi Arabia, oppose.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad returned to Cairo from New York two days ago and said Jarring's attempts to work out something between the Arabs and Israel had been rendered futile by Israel's insis-

Kill-Nixon Plot Alleged: Three Face Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — A mystery witness who is said to have led police to three Yemeni Arabs as alleged plotters to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon tells his story today before a Brooklyn grand jury.

The witness, described only as a 36-year-old man with an Arabic name, has been in protective custody. Police said the man described himself as an expert marksman and charged the three wanted him as the trigger man in the plot.

The men accused as the plotters are Ahmed Rageh Namer, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 19.

They were held on $100,000 bail.

COURT JAMMED

Hundreds of spectators jammed Brooklyn Criminal Court as the three, under heavy guard, appeared briefly for a scheduled hearing to answer charges of conspiracy to commit murder, criminal solicitation and possession of deadly weapons.

The three stood silently before Judge John Fury as their private legal counsel, Joseph Iovine of Brooklyn, demanded first an immediate hearing and then an adjournment of two days.

Assistant District Attorney David Epstein asked Fury for a week-long delay, pointing out that the case is being presented to a grand jury and that the government needed time to prepare its case.

He also pleaded that the three could not possibly raise the $100,000 bail for each if they were to be freed pending trial.

Hanoi Rejects Saigon Demands

PARIS (CP) — Hanoi today rejected a South Vietnamese demand for written assurances on the agenda and representation as a condition for participating in the latest phase of the Paris peace talks.

"It's absurd," said a member of the North Vietnamese delegation here after being approached for comment on a statement in Saigon today by Information Minister Ton That Thien of South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has refused to participate in the peace talks because the Saigon government will not recognize the National Liberation Front as an independent body, insisting it should be part of the Hanoi delegation.

Hanoi has rejected a proposal by Thieu that there be only two sides at the bargaining table—North Vietnam and South Vietnam, with the United States and NLF as part of the two groups.

American officials questioned on Thieu's statement today put the emphasis on patience. They pointed out that talks are still continuing in Saigon between U.S. officials and Thieu on the question of South Vietnamese participation.

Asked if Thieu's statement was a hardening of Saigon's position the U.S. officials noted it had not interrupted the Saigon discussions.

Under the understanding worked out by Hanoi and Washington for the next phase of the Paris talks, the North Vietnamese and American negotiating teams appeared ready to go ahead with each describing the representation as it pleases.

CRITICIZES UNITED STATES

Chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy told a public meeting here Monday night that his side had agreed only to a phase involving four separate delegations, and he condemned the United States for delaying the opening because of Saigon's absence.

He said that if Saigon failed to show up there would be three-sided talks.

But despite its repeated public criticism of the delay, Hanoi has shown no sign of coming to the end of its patience.

Reliable sources here reported that American diplomats recognized that after 30 years of warfare, a limited delay in getting the enlarged talks under way here might scarcely seem significant to Vietnamese.

One U.S. source said the expanded parley, postponed from Nov. 6, might begin within two weeks. But he added there are differing views among U.S. delegation members about how long it will take to work out an agreement with Thieu.

WIRE BRIEFS

Fewer Fatalities

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Attorney-General D. V. Heald said today there has been a significant reduction in traffic fatalities since the province began suspending automatically the licences of all persons convicted of impaired driving.

Oil Barge Wrecked

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del. (AP)—A barge with two men aboard and holding more than 1,000,000 gallons of oil went aground in high seas today. One man was swept overboard, but was washed to the shore and safety. The other remained aboard.

Borders Closed

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia moved today to close its borders to the free travel of its citizens abroad. This would be one of the sharpest measures taken against the people since the Soviet-led invasion in August.

Head-On Collision

WHITBOURNE, Nfld. (CP)—Four persons were killed and five others injured Monday in a two-car, head-on collision on the Trans-Canada Highway. RCMP did not release the names. All those killed were believed to be teen-agers.

Search for Plane

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Five aircraft, including a United States Coast Guard plane, began a search today for a single-engine plane reported missing Monday on a flight to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., from the Lakehead.

Progress at Strike Talks

QUEBEC (CP) — With a contentious contract clause settled Monday, government and union representatives were to meet again today as the strike against the Quebec Liquor Board inched closer to settlement.

Negotiators Monday ratified a job security clause, a stumbling block in talks since the strike by 3,000 workers started June 26.

Canadian Company In Shipping Project

LONDON (Reuters)—A Canadian - British - Belgian group of shipping companies has announced that they have ordered three container ships at a cost of £6,000,000 (about $15,600,000) each for a new service across the North Atlantic in the second half of 1970.

The three companies are Clarke Traffic Services of Canada, Bristol City Line of Britain and Compagnie Maritime Belge.

Two of the ships will be built in Britain by Swan Hunters and one at Cockerill's yard in Belgium.

New Hosco Mines President Banned

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Securities Commission says it has banned J. P. Sheridan, president of New Hosco Mines Ltd., from trading in the company's shares until Nov. 21. No reasons were given.

Also named in the ban order was Mr. Sheridan's wife, a director of some Sheridan Geophysics companies.

The Toronto Stock Exchange suspended trading Oct. 16 in New Hosco and in White Star Copper Mines Ltd., a company controlled by Sheridan interests.

Canadian Pacific Income Takes Jump

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has reported net income from railway and miscellaneous sources of $26,417,000 or $1.66 a share for the nine months ended Sept. 30, up from $22,768,000 or $1.41 in the corresponding 1967 period.

Net income for Canadian Pacific Investments Ltd. for the first nine months of 1968 was $30,817,000 compared with $28,289,000 in 1967.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Profit-Takers Active

Profit-taking was the order on the Vancouver stock exchange this morning as trading reached almost 2,000,000 shares before noon.

Mining issues were particularly active with losses outnumbering gains.

Widespread weakness hit shares in the surging junior industrial and real estate section at Toronto today.

The New York market showed a gain but pared its advance. Trading was active.

AT TORONTO — Among the sharpest losses, Dylex Diversified fell 3¼ to 78¼, Shully's Industries 2⅞ to 21, Revenue Properties 2¼ to 19½, James United Steel 1⅞ to 12 and OSF Industries 1⅝ to 23⅛.

Consolidated Building lost 50 cents to $4.75.

Erie Flooring A was up ¾ to 27½ and Erie Flooring B 1¼ to 28⅝ after the company announced proposals to split both stocks 3-for-1.

Mines and western oils were fractionally off. Patino fell 1 to 36, Pine Point 1 to 42¼ and Husky 1⅛ to 25¾. Hollinger gained ¾ to 34 and Canadian Homestead 40 cents to $9.30.

Canadian Superior lost 1½ to 55.

AT NEW YORK pent-up demand from the Monday closing served to build up volume, and big blocs were traded. The largest was 188,800 shares of Safeway which put that stock at the top of the most active list for a while. It showed a fractional loss.

American Motors edged out Safeway for the top spot on turnover. It, to, was traded on some big blocks.

Among other very active issues, Gulf and Western and INA Corp. rose about three each, Reynolds Metals about 2, A and P, Spartan Industries and Magnavox more than a point each, Occidental Petroleum 1.

AT VANCOUVER Buttle Lake put on .25 at $3.25 and Churchill added a like amount at $6.25. Smaller gains went to Northwest Ventures and Trojan.

Hit by declines were Coast Silver, Calico, Gibraltar, Pacific Asbestos, Utica and Vananda.

In the oils, Bata lost .20 at $3.55, Royal American was off .10 at $1.30 but Trans-Canada added .05 at $3.25.

Brock Bros. lost .62 at $19.50 and Capital Estates was off .50 at $3.50. Hardwicke Investment Corp. gained .50 at $50. Great National Lands added .05 at $3.05.

AT MONTREAL industrials moved up and joined utilities and banks in topping yearly highs in active trading today.

James United Steel climbed 1½ to 13⅝, Calgary Power ¼ to 28½ and Radio Engineering 1¼ to 43.

CPR added 1 to 73½.

In senior oils, Home A dropped ⅝ to 33⅛, Union ½ to 49½, Texaco ½ to 34 and B-A ⅜ to 45.

AT LONDON prices continued to advance in active trading on the stock market as a hedge against inflation following renewed pressure on the prices and income policy.

In London dollar stocks, which did not fully reflect the Montreal-Toronto firmness, Algoma, Hawker and Hiram Walker gained 50 cents each.

U.K. BUILDERS WILL ADOPT METRIC RULE

OTTAWA (CP) — The construction industry in Britain will start on Jan. 1 to convert from the present imperial system of measurement to the metric system now widely used in continental Europe.

It means converting from inches and feet to centimetres and metres. An inch equals 2.54 centimetres and a metre is 3.2808 feet.

The federal trade department says the conversion will pose serious problems for Canadian producers of lumber and other building supplies who have built up markets in Britain as well as the United States.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

F. PETER DARLING

The promotion of F. Peter Darling to Superintendent, International Banking Department, Bank of British Columbia, is announced by A. E. Hall, President.

Mr. Darling has been the Manager of the International Banking Department since the inception of the bank. This promotion is in keeping with the growth of the bank's International Banking Department.

A resident of Vancouver for over 20 years, Mr. Darling is well known in local business circles.

New Marine Insurance Firm Formed

TORONTO (CP) — Seven Canadian general insurance companies have formed a marine insurance company to try to cut into a section of the insurance business now controlled mostly by foreign interests.

The new company, Canadian Marine Underwriters Ltd., hopes to capture part of the of marine insurance now written annually by companies operating in Canada.

At present, less than two per cent of the insurance is provided by Canadian-owned interests.

Canadian Marine Underwriters was formed by Co-operative Fire and Casualty Co. of Regina, Canadian Indemnity Co. and Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Co., both of Winnipeg, Gore Mutual Insurance Co. of Galt, Ont., Simcoe and Erie General Insurance Co. of Hamilton, General Security Insurance Co. of Canada and Les Prevoyants du Canada Assurance General, both of Montreal.

Wheat Crop Expected To Set Mark

OTTAWA (CP) — World wheat production this year is forecast at a record 10,800,000,000 bushels, 6 per cent above last year's harvest and 3 per cent more than the 1966 crop.

The figures, based on the first estimate of the foreign agricultural service of the United States department of agriculture, were reported today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

DBS said total August exports of wheat and flour from Canada, the U.S., Argentina and Australia was down 7 per cent at 109,600,000 bushels, compared with 118,300,000 in August last year. But August exports this year were still above the 10-year average.

Canadian and Argentine exporters were higher for the month, while U.S. and Australian shipments were lower.

Wheat supplies in the four countries at Sept. 1, available for export and for carryover for domestic use at the end of the respective crop years, amounted to 2,609,900,000 bushels, 12 per cent more than a year ago.

Canada's crop year runs from Aug. 1 to July 31.

Consumers Gas Net Earnings Up

TORONTO (CP) — Net earnings of Consumers' Gas Co. amounted to $17,645,000 or 95 cents a share for the year ended Sept. 30, compared with $15,932,000 or 86 cents in 1967.

Gross revenue for 1968 was $126,405,000, compared with $114,973,000. Revenue from gas sales was $117,374,000, up from $107,412,000.

Costs were $101,149,000 compared with $92,602,000.

Consumers' said it acquired 700,000 common shares of Union Gas Co. of Canada Ltd. for $12,846,000 and was continuing merger discussions with Union that began November 1967.

FOR TWO MINUTES, the 2,000 people gathered by the Cenotaph on the lawn of the Legislative Buildings kept silent. Only a pair of shrieking gulls disturbed the thoughts of ex-servicemen recalling lost comrades as the 11th hour came and went Monday. Younger people, born too late to feel the loss of loved ones of earlier generations, stood respectfully subdued, even those who felt they had to prove their feeling with a sign urging respect for the living too. Their message had been heeded by the veterans long ago. It was concern for the living in countries under the heel of aggression which took them overseas, in two wars. So the sign at right was described as a "sensible slogan" and no one objected. (Photos by William E. John.)

Vets, Youths Meet And It Was Peaceful

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

For 35 years, Clem Gill of the Royal Canadian Legion has recited the time-honored lines:

"They shall grow not old as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them."

Mr. Gill came to Victoria from Cornwall, England, in 1912, and went back with the 7th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, in 1914.

Since returning to Victoria from Europe in 1919 he has taken part in every Remembrance Day service.

●

In 1933, he volunteered to recite Laurence Binyon's famous verse, "They shall grow not old," because he thought Victoria clergy did not give the right expression to the words.

Ever since, Mr. Gill has repeated Binyon's lines—and on Monday they were heard by more than 2,000 men, women and children who gathered in heavy rain around the Victoria cenotaph.

As the parade of veterans, servicemen and cadets assembled for two minutes' silence,a group of long-haired youths displayed a banner: "Respect for the dead, concern for the living."

No one objected.

●

"I think that's a very sensible slogan," said one veteran on parade.

The young people, mostly from local high schools, posted a 24-hour vigil around the Cenotaph. They stood from 4 p.m. Sunday through the cold, rainy night and silently moved to the back of the Legislative Buildings lawn when the parade arrived.

It was the 50th anniversary of the end of the First World War on Nov. 11, 1918, and for that reason, the turn-out of veterans was better than it has been for many years.

●

The parade was led by the Naden Band and commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. Leonard Forrest of the Fleet School, Esquimalt. George J. Corp commanded the veterans, assisted by Beau Tracey, a veteran of Zebrugge.

A 21-gun memorial salute was fired by the 5th Base (B.P.) Field Battery from the city's heliport, instead of at the Cenotaph.

The salute began at 11 a.m. and continued at 60-second intervals throughout the services at Victoria, Esquimalt and Oak Bay.

Many contended this gunfiring was out of place, particularly when it occurred during the recital of the Lord's Prayer.

"We won't have it next year," said Mayor Ray Bryant of Esquimalt.

At the close of the Two Minutes' Silence, a solitary note was sounded by Herman Bergink on the Centennial bells.

●

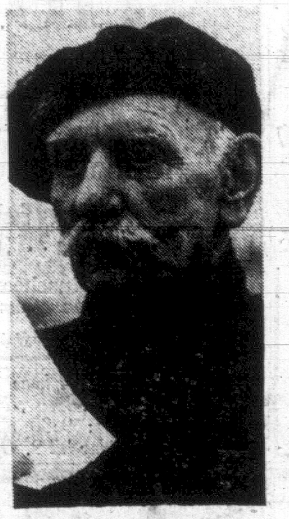
In the parade were the Royal Canadian Navy; the First Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles; 155th Company Royal Canadian Army Service Corps; the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's); the army, navy and air force cadets; the cadettes and wrenettes; the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire: the Red Cross, and the women's auxiliaries.

Lieutenant-governor John Nicholson, in high hat and morning clothes, took the salute at a march past in front of the Empress Hotel.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Roberts, rector of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church.

The lament, Flowers of the Forest, was played by Pipe-Major Frank Knight and the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's).

The hymns, The Silent Tribute, and O Valiant Hearts, were sung and the service closed with the Last Post, Reveille and the singing of O Canada and God Save the Queen.



DISTANT DRUMS and the echo of bugles of another day lend dignity to the gaze of Tommy Davis, 93, who was thought to be the oldest vet on parade Monday. He served with the Pioneers but marches now with the Pro Pats Legion. Each year there are fewer 1914-18 veterans on parade but those who do appear still march briskly past the reviewing stand.

VICTORIAN UNHARMED IN CRASH

A surveyor's assistant with the provincial lands service, Jon M. Magwood of Victoria, escaped injury Sunday in a light-plane crash near Nanaimo.

Mr. Magwood, 4416 Wilkinson, was a passenger in a plane that lost a pontoon while attempting to take off near the northern tip of Newcastle Island in Departure Bay, RCMP said.

Pilot Aubrey Musselman and passenger Eric Thomson, both of Chilliwack, were also uninjured.

Police said the aircraft drifted on to rocks at the tip of the Island about 3:15 p.m. after losing the pontoon.

Draft Barrett Drive Flowers Within NDP

By JOHN MIKA

The beginnings of a Barrett bandwagon appeared today even before the 38-year-old veteran MLA declares himself a candidate for the New Democratic Party leadership.

"I have asked Dave Barrett, of Coquitlam, to enter the leadership race," said deputy party leader Alex Macdonald, MLA for Vancouver East.

Mr. Barrett said he will announce his decision Thursday, but there is little doubt that he will seek retiring Robert Strachan's mantle at the April 12 leadership convention in Vancouver.

He likely will be challeged by freshman Vancouver-Burrard MLA Tom Berger, the 35-year-old lawyer who was beaten by a decisive two-to one margin two years ago when he challenged Mr. Strachan's leadership.

STOPPED TAKE-OVER

Although Mr. Strachan has said he will not indicate his personal preference, it is unlikely that rank-and-file members will forget that it was Mr. Barrett who played a prominent part both behind the scenes and at the 1967 convention in organizing the effort that crushed Mr. Berger's take-over attempt.

David Stupich, MLA for Nanaimo and a popular NDP executive member, said he may run if there is no strong trend for any of the early candidates, but it will be two weeks before he makes up his mind.

Robert Williams, MLA for Vancouver East, said he will make up his mind about entering the race in about a week.

Norman Levi, immediate past president of the NDP who also was considered an anti-Berger man at the 1967 convention, said he will not be a candidate and will not indicate his preference until later this week.

Mr. Barrett, a social worker who is credited with Mr. Macdonald in forcing Phil Gaglardi's dramatic resignation of the highways portfolio last session, said he will not make any statement on his position until Thursday night.

GIVEN HEADSTART

But Mr. Macdonald's warm endorsement gave him a head start in the race which was immediately fortified by Gordon Dowding, MLA for Burnaby-Edmonds, and helped further by Rae Eddie, MLA for New Westminster.

"In my opinion, he is the most exciting political figure in B.C. today," Mr. MacDonald said of Mr. Barrett.

"He has the warmth, the humor—and with humor I closely ally humanity—and seriousness.

"And he has the youth and vision and drive."

Mr. Dowding said he "completely" agrees with Mr. Macdonald.

"I certainly feel Mr. Barrett has a duty to run because he has the qualities and capabilities neded to make a leader."

Mr. Eddie said he had not committed himself until he knew who the candidates were, but if Mr. Barrett ran he likely would endorse him.

Mr. Berger was expected ot make an announcement later today.

Ernest Hall, MLA for Surrey, told the Times he expected Mr. Berger to make a second attempt for the leadership.

Mr. Hall and Dr. Ray Parkinson, both freshman MLAs, are Mr. Berger's strongest supporters as they were in the 1967 convention.

PAM GILLAN

City Beauty Takes Third In Pageant

Pam Gillan, a 20-year-old stenographer from Victoria, was third in the Miss Canada Pageant televised Monday night.

A Montreal pre-med student, 17-year-old Marie-France Beaulieu, was crowned Miss Canada by last year's winner Carol McKinnon of Prince Edward Island.

Pam was second-runner up behind Miss Edmonton, Heather MacRoberts.

Miss Victoria arrives at International Airport tonight at 10:15 and will be greeted by a delegation from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"We want anyone who can come out and show her we're proud of her," said a Jaycee spokesman.

MODEL AMBITION

Pam, who wants to become a model, competed against 25 girls from the 10 provinces. They were judged on talent, bathing suits and evening gown presentations.

Pam, who works as a secretary in the provincial department of health, was chosen to represent Victoria in competitions held in May. She received more than $900 in gifts from local businesses.

The new Miss Canada, Marie-France Beaulieu, won a scholarship and a world tour.

City Pensioner Wins $1,000 In Montreal

For voluntarily paying a $2 tax to the City of Montreal, Victorian E. Fred Greenshields now is $1,000 richer.

Born in Montreal, Mr. Greenshields lived and worked there until three years ago when he retired to 1466 Dallas where he lives with his wife.

He was one of 150 finalists flown to Montreal Saturday to answer questions on the city for the chance to win up to $100,000 in silver ingots.

Mr. Greenshields, 68, said he planned to put some of his winnings towards a boat. He is a fisherman "without much success" to date. He is not expected to return to Victoria for a week.

Ladysmith resident Agnes Mayovsky won $500 in the draw. Prizes ranged from $100.

Mrs. Jeannine Boisvert of Montreal won the grand prize, the fifth woman to take it in six draws since the plan was set up to meet an expected $28 million deficit in the Montreal budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

TWO OTHER ATTEMPTS FAIL

$1,000 Stolen From Safe

About $1,000 was stolen from a safe at Pearson's Motorcycle Sales, 3388 Douglas, early Saturday evening.

Saanich police say there was no sign of forced entry to the safe. There was no evidence the remainder of the building had been ransacked.

Police said the person or persons involved entered the building by ripping a piece of asphalt siding from the southwest corner of the building between 6 and 8 p.m. It is believed exit was made from a warehouse door on the south side.

City police report two safes were attacked but nothing taken at McGavins Toastmaster, 1255 Pandora, overnight Satuday.

Entry to the building was made by climbing through a window on the second floor. Police said two safes were attacked with a sledge hammer. One had holes drilled in it in several places and the dial was knocked off the other.

City Girl Wins Majorette Class

Victoria Chinatown Lions majorette Lorraine Wong captured first place honors in the novice open class at the Miss B.C. Majorette competitions during the weekend at Burnaby.

Competing for the first time, the 16-year-old Miss Wong, 3175 Beach Drive, placed fourth for the Miss B.C. Majorette title.

Karen Aitken, 15, of 4119 Ambassy, placed third in the novice solo competition.

Magistrate Pays Tribute To Dr. Alcorn

Magistrate William Ostler today paid tribute to Victoria psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Alcorn who died suddenly Saturday.

The magistrate made his remarks in central court before the first case was called. On Friday, Dr. Alcorn gave testimony in two cases.

"Those who knew him recognized him as a selfless and dedicated man. You might even say he was an officer of this court," Mr. Ostler said.

"I am indebted to him for a tremendous amount of work over the years with cases arising here. A number of unfortunate persons with emotional problems owe a great deal to him for his work in the solution of their problems.

"Very frequently there was very little reward for him except in helping other people.

"By his death people have lost a friend and a healer, the court has lost a dedicated worker and the community a dedicated citizen."

Dr. Alcorn, 62, was a staff member of Royal Jubilee, St. Joseph's and Veterans' hospitals, and a co-founder of the Unitarian Church of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Metropolitan United Church, 1411 Quadra Street. Rev. Arthur D. Wilmot will officiate.

OAK BAY GETS BANG OUT OF QUIET

Oak Bay' Tweed Curtain shook violently Saturday night after a loud explosion—still unexplained—startled residents.

The blast sent persons into the streets and to their phones with inquring calls to the police, newspapers and radio stations after 10 p.m.

No one could pin down the area where the blast originated and no reports of damage were made.

A police search failed to turn up an answer but there was speculation the noise was caused by an American aircraft breaking the sound barrier.

JACK HOSKINS

Blind Tripped by Blind Spots of Others

By PETE LOUDON

The waitress was trying her best to cater to the blind man.

His food was arranged with the meat at 3 o'clock, the potatoes at 6 o'clock and the vegetables at 9 o'clock—the positions on his plate where he was used to finding it.

Then she asked his companion, who could see, "Does he take cream in his coffee?"

"Why don't you ask him?" said the blind man, sharply.

Jack Hoskins, field secretary of the Canadian Institute for the Blind here, said later he regretted his rudeness. He knew the girl was trying to be helpful, but like many people meeting a blind person, she was trying too hard.

Her manner suggested that because he could not see, he probably couldn't hear, talk or enjoy other normal reactions.

"Some sighted people seem to think blind," he said.

"Remember there's nothing wrong with a blind person except he can't see."

Mr. Hoskins doesn't belittle the loss of sight, he has been missing his for 20 years. If you want to understand a little bit of what it's like, try living half a day with your eyes closed.

★ ★ ★

When you're counting your bruises later, remember you still haven't felt the utter despondency of knowing you face a lifetime of darkness.

Imagine coming to the CNIB newly blinded, meeting a man's voice and trying to shake hands with it. Mr. Hoskins says you learn to laugh at such flailings and gropings—but not much can be humorous in those first days.

You've been proud of your independence. Suddenly you can't move unless a friend offers his arm. (You don't propel a blind man, you let him follow you.)

Even when you learn again to walk alone you must advertise yourself with a probing white cane. A tricycle, toys on a sidewalk or a rumpled scatter rug suddenly are perils.

The snow you once enjoyed is another enemy. It deadens the sounds you need to hear . . . and booby traps your path. The park you enjoyed can be a terror, there's no sidewalk, curb or wall to give you direction.

Dressing isn't a problem—once you learn to hang the tie that goes with your blue suit on the hanger with it. Harder is finding out whether there's a soup spot on your lapel.

You'll have to learn to read all over again of course, deciphering the dots of Braille by fingertip. It may take a year and then you will read only 60 per cent as fast as the sighted person.

Asked whether a blind person could be able to draw aid and comfort from a seeing-eye dog, Mr. Hoskins surprised us by saying it isn't likely.

★ ★ ★

There are about 360 "legally blind" persons in Greater Victoria. And not one of them has a seeing-eye dog.

Any blind person who wants one and who can qualify for ownership may obtain one from the CNIB, but the eligibility is limited to about 2 per cent. The main qualification is that you be totally blind as compared to legally blind. A minority are totally blind.

And you must be physically fit because the dog must be walked about 3½ miles daily. Most Victoria blind are elderly.

Mr. Hoskins says the person classed as legally blind, who might be able to see a blur or a white line, tends to lead the dog instead of being led, which is contradictory to the training of the animal.

Also the owner must be prepared to spend 10 weeks at the kennels of Seeing Eye Inc. (New Jersey) or Guide Dogs for the Blind (in California) before the valuable animal is released to him.

Many blind persons wouldn't want a dog. Their care is an added chore and to avoid spoiling the training, the dog must constantly be with his charge.

"I can think of a number of circumstances where I wouldn't want one with me," said Mr. Hoskins. He mentioned the problem of taking a wet dog on a bus.

The CNIB, besides offering training to blind persons, offers recreational benefits, bus passes, reduced rail fares, passes to movies (!) with a friend who can describe the action, free canes, a Braille library, talking (recorded) books, discounts on furniture and appliances, a $500 annual income tax deduction, bowling and fishing outings.

All the benefits in the world, of course, won't compensate for being blind. But if you'd like to make things smoother for blind people, support the CNIB.

The easiest way to do it is to support the United Appeal in its current fund drive. One of your benefits, if you've read this far, is that you can see to write a cheque.

UNLUCKY LADY, the Continental Shipper, limped into Ogden Point again this morning after another losing battle with the cruel sea. Last month the 556-foot vessel left Crofton for Japan on her maiden voyage. Heavy seas shifted her lumber cargo and she returned to Victoria to be reloaded. She left again on November 5 and 600 miles out encountered raging seas and lost about one-third of her deckload. Hundreds of feet of guard rail were torn out as tons of lumber crashed into the sea. With the remaining lumber teetering she gingerly made her way back. Reloading will take about two weeks.

LBJ Viet Policy Backed by Nixon

Unity Puts Pressure On Saigon

Times News Services

NEW YORK—President-elect Richard Nixon Monday night declared that President Johnson speaks for him on Vietnam and other crucial foreign policy matters.

Nixon emerged from a lengthy meeting with President Johnson to say the president was pursuing policies which he would adopt when he moved into the White House.

Nixon's statement brought gloom to the Saigon regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was stalling the Paris peace talks in hopes that Nixon would take a stronger stand against the Viet Cong.

Nixon flew here Monday night for a stay of several days following a lengthy meeting with Johnson at the White House.

Before meeting the president he will replace Jan. 20, Nixon had talked about possible personal missions to Saigon or the Paris peace talks—should Johnson deem them helpful. He also suggested he might send emissaries abroad—presumably to Siagon or Paris—if Johnson agreed.

But after their White House talks, neither Nixon nor Johnson said a word, or even hinted at, pre-inaugural foreign travel by the president-elect or the dispatching of representatives from the incoming administration.

MAY MEET AGAIN

Johnson, however, did indicate he might be having more conferences with Nixon before Jan. 20, and these presumably might result in the assignment of a direct diplomatic role to the president-elect.

"It was a very pleasant and co-operative meeting," Johnson told reporters, "as we expect all these meetings in the days ahead to be."

Nixon, appearing jointly with the president, talked about such foreign policy problems as Vietnam, a possible new Mideast crisis and the ever-present question of American-Soviet relations.

"If progress is to be made in any of these fields," Nixon said, "it can be made only if the parties on the other side realize that the current administration is setting forth policies that will be carried forward by the next administration. . . . I have assurance in each instance to the secretary of state and, of course, the president, that they could speak not just for this administration but for the nation and that meant for the next administration as well."

Meanwhile Defence Secretary Clark M. Clifford accused South Vietnamese government leaders today of of balking at a peace talks arrangement "in the last out of the ninth inning."

Clifford said the United States should go ahead with the peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris if President Thieu of South Vietnam continues his refusal to take part.

SWAPPING lawyers on eve of his trial, James Earl Ray, charged with the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, is now represented by Percy Foreman, Texas criminal lawyer (above), who once represented Jack Ruby and was defence counsel in the murder trial of heiress Candace Mossler. Astronauts Face Lunar Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said today the Apollo 8 mission will attempt an orbital flight around the moon, probably during the Christmas holidays.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the launching from Cape Kennedy, Fla., for what a few years ago would have been pure science fiction, will occur no earlier than Dec. 21.

This would mean the three Apollo 8 astronauts would spend Christmas Eve and part of Christmas day making the lunar orbits.

NASA officials announced at a news conference the Apollo mission would be "open-ended"—that is, conducted in steps referred to as plateaus or "commit points."

"Each plateau includes a thorough system check of crew, system and equipment operations," officials said.

"Only when all conditions are satisfactory will the decision be made to commit to the next plateau."

NASA said this type of operation allows for various alternate missions, including a low, earth-orbit flight, a flight to a distance of as much as 60,000 miles or a flight around the moon.

SAFETY A FACTOR

"Conducting the mission in this manner provides both maximum crew safety and maximum benefits through alternate flight mission selection as the flight proceeds," the announcement said.

Apollo 8 will carry two 40-year-old men who have already orbited the earth—Air Force Col. Frank Borman and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell, plus Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

Russ Seeks Red Summit In Bid to End Divisions

Times News Services

WARSAW — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev today reiterated the Kremlin's determination to go ahead with a projected world Communist party summit conference despite differences in the movement over Moscow's treatment of reformist Czechoslovakia.

He told the Polish Communist party fifth congress here it was the duty of all parties to strengthen unity and cohesion to be able to launch "a still bigger offensive against imperialism."

Brezhnev's appeal for unity followed in implicit rebuke by the Polish party leader, Wladyslaw Gomulka, to Western Communists who condemned the Moscow-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 20.

It was the first time since the invasion that the Soviet leader publicly confirmed Moscow's intention of staging the world gathering.

POSTPONED

The action against Czechoslovakia threw the international Communist movement into turmoil and led to postponement of the summit originally scheduled for Nov. 25.

Attending the talks are East Germany's Walter Ulbricht and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, with Hungary's Janos Kadar the only absentee among the five leaders who ordered the Aug. 20 invasion of Czechoslovakia. Kadar is represented by Bela Biszku, a member of the Hungarian politburo.

Numerous other "fraternal" delegates from Communist parties around the world are present, including Romania's aging former president Chivu Stoica. However, no invitations were extended to the Yugoslav, Chinese or Albanian parties.

The Chinese and Albanians have been excluded from gatherings of pro-Moscow parties for four years, but this is the first time the Yugoslavs have been barred from such a congress since former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reconciliation with Marshal Tito.

At Moscow's 50th anniversary celebrations only one year ago, Tito himself spoke.

DETERIORATING

Relations between Moscow and Belgrade have been deteriorating rapidly since the invasion of Czechoslovakia, with the orthodox Polish and East German regimes attacking Yugoslavia with greater and greater vehemence.

In the Soviet Union itself, attacks were mostly indirect and partial until a 19-page criticism in the Moscow monthly Kommunist a fortnight ago.

Sunday morning Pravda escalated further. The Soviet party daily celebrated the 50th anniversary of Lenin's article "the proletarian revolution and the renegage Kautsky" (a pamphlet attacking as traitors the democratic Socialists led by Karl Kautsky of Germany) with a polemic denouncing the Yugoslavs at greater length and even more strongly than the Chinese.

EARLY SESSION

Observers here expect both Brezhnev and Gomulka to condemn the Titoist heresy while pressing for an early world conference of pro-Moscow parties which would, in effect, excommunicate both Peking and Belgrade from the orthodox faith. A meeting in Budapest this week is expected to call for such a conference early next year.

The presence of Brezhnev and Shelest, the Ukrainian party chief reputed to have been the principal advocate of an early invasion of Czechoslovakia, would appear to indicate that there may also be private discussion among the invaders as to how to proceed next in that occupied country.

The East German and Polish press have been openly critical for weeks of the official Czechoslovak leadership headed by Alexander Dubcek, with Pravda following suit early last week, even before the anti-Soviet demonstrations of Nov. 7-8 in Prague and Bratislava.

Kill-Nixon Plot Alleged: Three Face Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — A mystery witness who is said to have led police to three Yemeni Arabs as alleged plotters to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon is to tell his story this week before a Brooklyn grand jury.

The witness, described only as a 36-year-old man with an Arabic name, has been in protective custody. Police said the man described himself as an expert marksman and charged the three wanted him as the trigger man in the plot.

The men accused as the plotters are Ahmed Rageh Namer, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 19.

They were held on $100,000 bail.

COURT JAMMED

Hundreds of spectators jammed Brooklyn Criminal Court as the three, under heavy guard, appeared briefly for a scheduled hearing to answer charges of conspiracy to commit murder, criminal solicitation and possession of deadly weapons.

The three stood silently before Judge John Fury as their private legal counsel, Joseph Lovine of Brooklyn, demanded first an immediate hearing and then an adjournment of two days.

Assistant District Attorney David Epstein asked Fury for a week-long delay, pointing out that the case is being presented to a grand jury and that the government needed time to prepare its case.

He also pleaded that the three could not possibly raise the $100,000 bail for each if they were to be freed pending trial.

Hanoi Rejects Saigon Demands

PARIS (CP) — Hanoi today rejected a South Vietnamese demand for written assurances on the agenda and representation as a condition for participating in the latest phase of the Paris peace talks.

"It's absurd," said a member of the North Vietnamese delegation here after being approached for comment on a statement in Saigon today by Information Minister Ton That Thien of South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has refused to participate in the peace talks because the Saigon government will not recognize the National Liberation Front as an independent body, insisting it should be part of the Hanoi delegation.

Hanoi has rejected a proposal by Thieu that there be only two sides at the bargaining table—North Vietnam and South Vietnam, with the United States and NLF as part of the two groups.

American officials questioned on Thieu's statement today put the emphasis on patience. They pointed out that talks are still continuing in Saigon between U.S. officials and Thieu on the question of South Vietnamese participation.

Asked if Thieu's statement was a hardening of Saigon's position the U.S. officials noted it had not interrupted the Saigon discussions.

Under the understanding worked out by Hanoi and Washington for the next phase of the Paris talks, the North Vietnamese and American negotiating teams appeared ready to go ahead with each describing the representation as it pleases.

CRITICIZES UNITED STATES

Chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy told a public meeting here Monday night that his side had agreed only to a phase involving four separate delegations, and he condemned the United States for delaying the opening because of Saigon's absence.

He said that if Saigon failed to show up there would be three-sided talks.

But despite its repeated public criticism of the delay, Hanoi has shown no sign of coming to the end of its patience.

Reliable sources here reported that American diplomats recognized that after 30 years of warfare, a limited delay in getting the enlarged talks under way here might scarcely seem significant to Vietnamese.

One U.S. source said the expanded parley, postponed from Nov. 6, might begin within two weeks. But he added there are differing views among U.S. delegation members about how long it will take to work out an agreement with Thieu.

Progress at Strike Talks

QUEBEC (CP) — With a contentious contract clause settled Monday, government and union representatives were to meet again today as the strike against the Quebec Liquor Board inched closer to settlement.

Negotiators Monday ratified a job security clause, a stumbling block in talks since the strike by 3,000 workers started June 26.

WIRE BRIEFS

Fewer Fatalities

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Attorney-General D. V. Heald said today there has been a significant reduction in traffic fatalities since the province began suspending automatically the licences of all persons convicted of impaired driving.

Oil Barge Wrecked

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del. (AP)—A barge with two men aboard and holding more than 1,000,000 gallons of oil went aground in high seas today. One man was swept overboard, but was washed to the shore and safety. The other remained aboard.

Borders Closed

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia moved today to close its borders to the free travel of its citizens abroad. This would be one of the sharpest measures taken against the people since the Soviet-led invasion in August.

Head-On Collision

WHITBOURNE, Nfld. (CP)—Four persons were killed and five others injured Monday in a two-car, head-on collision on the Trans-Canada Highway. RCMP did not release the names. All those killed were believed to be teen-agers.

Search for Plane

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Five aircraft, including a United States Coast Guard plane, began a search today for a single-engine plane reported missing Monday on a flight to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., from the Lakehead.

EGYPTIAN WAR GAMES BUILD UP TENSION

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Nasser attended front-line manoeuvres in the tense Suez Canal area Monday, while Premier Levi Eshkol indicated Israel won't give up control of the Tiran Strait, its outlet to East Africa, Persian Gulf oil and the Far East.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported Nasser spent seven hours atop a tank, watching a "massive" manoeuvre of tanks and armored divisions. It said he was accompanied by Defence Minister Mohammed Fawzy and Iraqi Vice-Premier Hamedi Ammash.

Al Ahram also reported wide contacts have been initiated among the Arab capitals to work out a plan of action following the "collapse" of UN envoy Gunnar Jarring's peace mission.

There was speculation in Cairo that Egypt and Jordan are again trying to arrange an Arab summit conference, which some Arab countries, particularly Saudi Arabia, oppose.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad returned to Cairo from New York two days ago and said Jarring's attempts to work out something between the Arabs and Israel had been rendered futile by Israel's insis-

Doxy II Claims First Race

By SHIRLEY HEWETT

Peter Coombs' Doxy II was acclaimed the over-all winner Sunday of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's first Winter Series race.

Cubara, first across the line, was second over-all on the corrected time basis. Denny Coverdale's Melee was third.

Flying spinakers on a close reach in 20-knot winds, Cubara withstood a strong bid from second-place Reality to lead the 13-boat fleet across the finish line of the 9½-mile course.

Doxy II, Filey Brig, Concubine and Melee all finished within a minute behind the two leaders.

Over-all placings in divisions A and B were Cubara, first; Reality, second, and Concubine, third. Doxy II led divisions C and D, followed by Melee and Fred Gardiner's Shih Yen.

Wheat Crop Expected To Set Mark

OTTAWA (CP) — World wheat production this year is forecast at a record 10,800,000,000 bushels, 6 per cent above last year's harvest and 3 per cent more than the 1966 crop.

The figures, based on the first estimate of the foreign agricultural service of the United States department of agriculture, were reported today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

DBS said total August export of wheat and flour from Canada, the U.S., Argentina and Australia was down 7 per cent at 109,600,000 bushels, compared with 118,300,000 in August last year. But August exports this year were still above the 10-year average.

Canadian and Argentine exporters were higher for the month, while U.S. and Australian shipments were lower.

Wheat supplies in the four countries at Sept. 1, available for export and for carryover for domestic use at the end of the respective crop years, amounted to 2,609,900,000 bushels, 12 per cent more than a year ago.

Canada's crop year runs from Aug. 1 to July 31.

Canadian Company In Shipping Project

LONDON (Reuters)—A Canadian - British - Belgian group of shipping companies has announced that they have ordered three container ships at a cost of £6,000,000 (about $15,600,000) each for a new service across the North Atlantic in the second half of 1970.

The three companies are Clarke Traffic Services of Canada, Bristol City Line of Britain and Compagnie Maritime Belge.

Two of the ships will be built in Britain by Swan Hunters and one at Cockerill's yard in Belgium.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Profit-Takers Active

Profit-taking was the order on the Vancouver stock exchange this morning as trading reached almost 2,000,000 shares before noon.

Mining issues were particularly active with losses outnumbering gains.

Widespread weakness hit shares in the surging junior industrial and real estate section at Toronto today.

The New York market showed a gain but pared its advance. Trading was active.

AT TORONTO—In industrials MacLaren Power A gained 2⅛ to 19⅝, CPR 1⅞ to 74⅜, Royal Bank ⅞ to 24⅝ and Bank of Nova Scotia ½ to 24¾. Shully's Industries fell 3⅜ to 20½, James United Steel 3¼ to 10⅝ and OSF Industries 3 to 21¾.

Canadian Superior Oil lost 1½ to 55 and Banff ½ to 11½. Asamera was up 90 cents to 10¼.

AT NEW YORK pent-up demand from the Monday closing served to build up volume, and big blocs were traded. The largest was 188,800 shares of Safeway which put that stock at the top of the most active list for a while. It showed a fractional loss.

American Motors edged out Safeway for the top spot on turnover. It, to, was traded on some big blocks.

Among other very active issues, Gulf and Western and INA Corp. rose about three each, Reynolds Metals about 2, A and P, Spartan Industries and Magnavox more than a point each, Occidental Petroleum 1.

AT VANCOUVER Buttle Lake put on .25 at $3.25 and Churchill added a like amount at $6.25. Smaller gains went to Northwest Ventures and Trojan.

Hit by declines were Coast Silver, Calico, Gibraltar, Pacific Asbestos, Utica and Vananda.

In the oils, Bata lost .20 at $3.55, Royal American was off .10 at $1.30 but Trans-Canada added .05 at $3.25.

Brock Bros. lost .62 at $19.50 and Capital Estates was off .50 at $3.50. Hardwicke Investment Corp. gained .50 at $50. Great National Lands added .05 at $3.05.

AT MONTREAL industrials moved up and joined utilities and banks in topping yearly highs in active trading today.

James United Steel climbed 1½ to 13⅝, Calgary Power ¼ to 28½ and Radio Engineering 1¼ to 43.

CPR added 1 to 73½.

In senior oils, Home A dropped ⅝ to 33⅛, Union ½ to 49½, Texaco ½ to 34 and B-A ⅝ to 45.

AT LONDON prices continued to advance in active trading on the stock market as a hedge against inflation following renewed pressure on the prices and income policy.

In London dollar stocks, which did not fully reflect the Montreal-Toronto firmness, Algoma, Hawker and Hiram Walker gained 50 cents each.

U.K. BUILDERS WILL ADOPT METRIC RULE

OTTAWA (CP) — The construction industry in Britain will start on Jan. 1 to convert from the present imperial system of measurement to the metric system now widely used in continental Europe.

It means converting from inches and feet to centimetres and metres. An inch equals 2.54 centimetres and a metre is 3.2808 feet.

The federal trade department says the conversion will pose serious problems for Canadian producers of lumber and other building supplies who have built up markets in Britain as well as the United States.

New Marine Insurance Firm Formed

TORONTO (CP) — Seven Canadian general insurance companies have formed a marine insurance company to try to cut into a section of the insurance business now controlled mostly by foreign interests.

The new company, Canadian Marine Underwriters Ltd., hopes to capture part of the of marine insurance now written annually by companies operating in Canada.

At present, less than two per cent of the insurance is provided by Canadian-owned interests.

Canadian Marine Underwriters was formed by Co-operative Fire and Casualty Co. of Regina, Canadian Indemnity Co. and Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Co., both of Winnipeg, Gore Mutual Insurance Co. of Galt, Ont., Simcoe and Erie General Insurance Co. of Hamilton, General Security Insurance Co. of Canada and Les Prevoyants du Canada Assurance General, both of Montreal.
